Kennedy Gets News On Plane Radio

President-Elect And Wife Happy Parents Of 1st Son

WASHINGTON (AP)—A 6-pound 3-ounce son with a shock of black hair was born today to President-elect and Mrs. John F. Kennedy. Radio flashed the news dramatically to the father as he was speeding from Florida to his wife's bedside.

The word changed the grim look on the president-elect's face to a happy smile. All he knew earlier was that his wife, Jacqueline, 31, had been rushed by ambulance to a Washington hospital and was undergoing a caesarean section.

Dr. John A. Walsh, the attending physician, said "both mother and son are doing beautifully." The baby was delivered at 12:22 a. m. Eastern Standard Time.

Dr. Walsh, back at the hospital shortly after 9 a.m., reported the new mother resting very comfortably and said the baby is fine.

The physician said Mrs. Kennedy had not yet seen her son, occupying an incubator in a nursery about 25 feet down the hall from her room. He said she might see him Saturday, depending on when she can make the wheelchair trip to the nursery or the pediatrician will permit the baby to be brought to her.

Hospital authorities said incubator care for a time is routine in such cases.

Dr. Walsh described Mrs. Kennedy as being delighted that the baby is a boy.

"He's a very good-looking youngster," the physician said. "He's a healthy youngster."

In some disagreements with other descriptions of a shock of black hair, Dr. Walsh said John Fitzgerald Jr. has a fair or moderate amount of brown hair. He said the baby's cry is good.

Asked if anything risky was involved, Dr. Walsh said there is "always some attendant risk in the circumstances we had."

The baby was not normally due until about Dec. 27 and doctors had planned for delivery Dec. 12, a procedure described as routine in caesarean cases.

But the doctor said it started to happen "a little sooner than we had expected so we went ahead as planned."

The baby is expected to remain in the incubator another day or day and a half, and Mrs. Kennedy may be in the hospital 10 to 14 days.

Dr. Walsh said Mrs. Kennedy was given an inhalation anesthetic, Cyclopropane, for the surgery. He said she had been given intravenous nourishment but at the time he spoke she probably was on her last such feeding.

Gladys Uhl, who has served as secretary for Mrs. Kennedy, described the Kennedy boy: "He's

Kennedy's Prophecy Of Boy Becomes Fact

BOSTON (AP) — When a boy was born today to President-elect and Mrs. John F. Kennedy, a prophecy of the Massachusetts senator became a fact.

Last Sept. 9 in Richmond, Calif., while he campaigned, Kennedy explained why his wife was not with him on the tour.

"My wife is home," he told the California audience, "and we are having a baby, a boy, in November."

Mild Weather Due For City Yule Parade

With no snow in sight, Santa will have to depend on wheels beneath his sleigh for his appearance in East Liverpool's annual Christmas parade tonight at 5:30. Rather mild temperatures are forecast.

Parking Ban Includes Parade Assembly Site

Police Chief Americo J. Radeschi today extended a parking ban to include the section of Bradshaw Ave. between Walnut St. and Ravine St. where a Christmas parade will form tonight.

However, a single lane of traffic will be kept open through the assembly area, the chief said. Signs notifying drivers of the parking ban will go up at 2 this afternoon both in the assembly area and along the parade route.

The procession through the business district will feature about 50 various units, including high school bands, convertibles with costumed girls, floats, marching groups, numerous clowns, fire trucks and military units. The theme is "Santa's Parade of Toys."

Old Saint Nick will be surrounded by gifts in his sleigh and the downtown Yule decorations will be turned on to signal the start of the parade from the assembly point in the vicinity of Bradshaw Ave. and Walnut St. "Mr. Wrinkles" of television fame will lead the parade.

The route will proceed on Walnut to 5th St., on Jackson to 6th St. and over 6th to Walnut. Parking will be banned on the parade route. Visitors may park their cars on the Westgate School lot and ride

Tragedy On Thanksgiving

Traffic Deaths In Nation Continue To Rise Slowly

Traffic	134
Fires	22
Miscellaneous	30
Total	186

By The Associated Press

Traffic deaths, the nation's No. 1 accident killer, brought tragedy to many homes Thanksgiving Day, traditional holiday for family reunions.

The traffic death toll, in the first period of the extended weekend holiday, mounted to 134. Many of the accidents claimed lives in multiple numbers. So did fires. In addition to the traffic fatalities, other violent deaths included 22 in fires and 30 in miscellaneous type mishaps. The over-all total was 186.

Four traffic crashes claimed 12 lives, three in each. Eight persons perished in two fires, including four early today in a home in Pittsburgh's Homewood section. The other four victims were children who lost their lives in a fire in Canastota, N. Y.

Generally fair weather in most of the country Thursday lured millions to the highways. But the National Safety Council said traffic on Thanksgiving Day normally is not as heavy as on other major holidays.

The council did not make an estimate of traffic deaths for the holiday or for the 104-hour period which started at 6 p.m. (local time) Wednesday and ends at midnight Sunday.

But the toll appeared running close to the figure taken by The Associated Press in a survey for a non-holiday period, extending over 102 hours from 6 p.m. Wednesday Nov. 9 until midnight Sunday Nov. 13. The count was 433 traffic deaths, 69 deaths in fires and 144 killed in miscellaneous accidents, for total of 646.

In last year's four-day Thanksgiving holiday weekend, the AP count was 445 traffic fatalities, 70 dead in fires and 135 killed in miscellaneous accidents, a total of 650. The 1958 holiday traffic toll was 454, fires claimed 54 lives and 118 died in miscellaneous mishaps. The over-all total was 626.

Living Costs Hit New Peak During October

WASHINGTON (AP) — Living costs rose four-tenths of one per cent in October to hit another peak.

Nearly half the increase was attributed to higher food prices but practically every element of consumer expenditures advanced.

The government index rose to 127.3 per cent of the 1947-49 average. This is 1.4 per cent higher than a year ago.

The October increase was the largest since last April. The index increased in eight of the first 10 months of 1960.

The new cost increase will bring a pay boost of two cents an hour to approximately a million workers in auto and farm equipment manufacturing.

Pope, 79 Today, Sets Day Of Routine Work

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope John XXIII was 79 years old today. The Vatican's yellow and gold flags were unfurled in his honor but there was no special celebration.

For the pontiff the day was another day of routine work. This included a general audience for several thousand persons.

Archbishop Is Banished From Haiti

Accused Of Aiding Students Charged In Communist Plotting

PORT AU PRINCE, Haiti (AP) —Roman Catholic Archbishop Francois Poirier, long a foe of President Francois Duvalier, was secretly hustled out of Haiti Thursday night with no baggage and no money except a borrowed dollar.

The highest church official of this Negro Catholic republic was accused of giving $7,000 to aid striking students accused by the government of being involved in Communist plotting. To deal with the strike the government declared martial law last Tuesday. Thursday it closed all schools for Christmas vacations a month ahead of time.

(The archbishop, 56, said on arriving in Miami Thursday that the charges against him were "entirely false." He is going back to his native Brittany in France.)

(Vatican sources said Haitian authorities involved in the expulsion of the archbishop "very likely" incurred excommunication denying them the church sacraments. No official word was available but the sources said Canon Law No. 2334 normally automatically inflicts excommunication upon persons who directly or indirectly impede a Catholic prelate in his work.)

The churchman's expulsion was swift. Police and presidential guards arrested him at his office and escorted him to the airport where they bought him a ticket for Miami. He was put on a plane without any clothes except the white cassock he was wearing and with only a dollar loaned him by a priest.

A communique broadcast later by Defense Minister Aurele Joseph said the banishment was because the prelate aided the student strikers.

President Duvalier did not mention the expulsion when he addressed a rally of 6,000 of his partisans on the lawn of the National Palace.

Denouncing "lizards" who oppose him, he said he knew who they are and where they are hiding.

The president's supporters carried slogans declaring "Duvalier is the last formula" and "Duvalier or death."

The government's charges concerning the student strike were spelled out at a news conference by Gen. Pierre Merceron, the army chief, and Joseph Baguidy, foreign minister and acting education minister.

Haiti University students went on strike Monday demanding the release of Joseph Roney, student union treasurer, who was arrested in September on charges of distributing Communist tracts.

Baguidy held up a small white flag with red hammer and sickle and the numerals "26" on it. He said the flag was found at the oldest college in the city.

Revolvers And TV Sets Among Burglars' Loot

Burglars who entered two district homes over the holiday are now equipped to watch Westerns on TV and to practice quick draws when Marshal Dillon reaches for his six-shooter. And they can cut the bars on their cells, if it comes to that.

Robert Boyd of R.D. reported to Sheriff Russell J. VanFossan two revolvers — one a new .38 and the other an old .45 and both Smith & Wesson models, were taken along with a TV set and two radios, welding gauges and cutting torches. The thief broke a basement window to enter, the owner said in the report at 11:05 p. m. Thursday.

S. D. Mays of the Y. & O. Rd. said a 24-inch TV was stolen from his home and two auto radios, welding gauges and cutting torches from his barn. He reported the theft at 8:43 p. m.

Leetonia Man Fined $50 In Fatal Collision

Ambulance Driver's Case To Be Given To January Grand Jury

Evidence from a four-hour traffic hearing for James Scanlon of Leetonia, ambulance driver cited in connection with a fatal collision near Columbiana Nov. 3 will be presented to the Columbiana County Grand Jury, Prosecutor G. William Brokaw said today.

Scanlon was fined $50 and costs amounting to $48 by County Judge Earl Spalding of East Palestine Wednesday night for failure to proceed with caution through an intersection while driving an emergency vehicle.

Scanlon was driver of an ambulance en route to a one-car accident on Route 14 which slammed into an ice cream truck at the intersection with Route 7, killing the truck driver, Woodrow Bauman, 17-year-old Columbiana High School senior.

At the lengthy hearing at East Palestine Wednesday night, four witnesses said the traffic signal was red in the ambulance's direction, while Scanlon and an attendant said the light was green. Scanlon said his red flasher signal and siren were operating, along with two spotlights.

Testifying were Paul C. Rummell of Columbiana, a service station attendant; Richard Peterson of near New Waterford, a restaurant manager; Ruth Carlisle of Lisbon R.D. 3, employe of a market, and Ernest Williams, who resides nearby.

Prosecutor Brokaw, representing the State Highway Patrol which filed the traffic charge, said today he plans to present the testimony to the January Grand Jury for possible action as a manslaughter case.

Atty. James Baird of Youngstown, counsel on behalf of Scanlon, questioned each witness at length at the hearing.

Youth Sought After Threat To Kill Couple

Chester police today were looking for a black-jacketed teenage youth who entered a Fairview St. home early this morning, struck Mrs. John Smusz on the back of the head and threatened to "kill" her and her husband.

The youth, about 18, fled after Mrs. Smusz ran out the kitchen door in a desperate bid to escape.

Patrolman Clarence Lennens said the intruder apparently entered the kitchen about 1:50 a. m. through the unlatched door.

Mrs. Smusz was awakened by the squeak of the door, but did not suspect anyone in the house. She went downstairs to lower the thermostat control because she felt warm, and turned on the kitchen light.

She was then struck on the back of the head by the youth, who used his hand. Mrs. Smusz fell to the floor and screamed. Her husband, thinking she had accidentally fallen, came downstairs, and as he entered the kitchen, the youth walked toward him, his hand in his pocket as if he had a gun.

He told both of them to get down on the floor or he "would kill them" Mrs. Smusz told Lennens. Noticing he was watching her husband closely, Mrs. Smusz ran out the back door and fell down the steps.

The intruder followed her, apparently not in pursuit but only to run away in the darkness.

Mrs. Smusz suffered a bruise of the back of the head from the blow and abrasions of the legs and ankles in the fall.

Lennens checked the area after he was called by Mrs. Smusz from the house next door and notified East Liverpool police and the Hancock County sheriff's office.

The couple said the youth wore a black jacket, black trousers and white shoes. He was about 18, had light hair, was about 5-feet-6 and weighed around 140.

Nothing was taken from the home, the family said. Smusz, 38, is a carpenter.

Man Drowns In Fall From Outboard Boat

Craft's Owner Cited In River Death Of Cumberland Native

A New Cumberland man was drowned Thanksgiving night when he apparently fell from a motorboat while crossing the Ohio River from Toronto with two companions.

The body of Wilbur (Buck) McCoy, 49, of S. Chester St. was recovered about 11:30 last night, some 5 hours after he fell out of the outboard operated by Thomas Lamb, also of S. Chester St.

Squire John D. Herron, acting Hancock County coroner, impaneled a six-man jury last night to investigate the death.

An inquest will be held Monday at 7:30 p. m. in Squire Herron's office. The jury includes Thomas Bradley, Paul Wigner, Mike Macek, Benny Parr, Clifford Prosser and James Knox.

Lamb is being held in the County Jail on a charge of operating a motorboat while intoxicated, and Claude Boyles, also of New Cumberland, was jailed as a material witness.

Lamb and Boyles told authorities they had been drinking in an Ohio-side tavern and started back across the river about 6 p. m.

As they neared the New Cumberland shore, Mr. McCoy stood up in the boat and tumbled out, they said.

The two said they heard the victim cry for help and attempted to circle and reach his hand, but the motor conked out and they drifted away. It was the last they saw of Mr. McCoy, Lamb and Boyles said.

When they succeeded in restarting the motor, they circled some more and used a flashlight in an attempt to locate him. They finally went to New Cumberland and reported the drowning to the sheriff's office.

New Cumberland volunteer firemen and employes of Lock 9 joined in dragging the river for the body. Chester firemen took the city squad car, portable lights and

Khrushchev, Red Chinese Held Stage

Hard Bargaining On World Tactics Of Communism Cited

MOSCOW (AP)—The worldwide Communist summit conference, in secret session here since Nov. 9, may be near its end.

Reports at a Soviet-Finnish reception Thursday night said the conference has reached its main decisions in the argument between Red China and Soviet camp over Communist tactics.

These reports suggested that the talks might wind up tonight.

Reports filtering through to outsiders have undicated the conference has been dominated by determined bargaining and long speeches over Soviet Premier Khrushchev's line that communism is now so strong it can win the world through patient peaceful competition with Western capitalism.

The Red Chinese, voicing a much harder line, contend that war is inevitable as long as capitalism exists, and that communism would come out victorious from the ashes of a nuclear war.

Pravda declared Wednesday that peaceful coexistence is still the valid and controlling factor of Soviet policy. This was taken by some observers to mean that the Chinese views have been submerged at least to the extent that the split can be glossed over in a proclamation of Communist unity.

Officially, the Communists have never admitted that a summit meeting has been going on. But apparently another big session was held Thursday. Long lines of limousines carried the foreign delegates to and from the Kremlin.

The Soviet-Finnish reception highlighted a visit here by Finnish President Urho Kekkonen who won an important concession—a 50-year lease on the Saimaa Canal. Never before has the Soviet Union given a lease within its territory.

Home Burns In Beechwood

Family Of 8 Flees Blaze In Dwelling

A Beechwood couple and their six children escaped safely when fire engulfed their one - story home shortly before noon today.

The fire struck at 11:37 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Eck Quinn, 257 Center St., and 10 minutes later neighbors said it appeared the house would be destroyed, despite the efforts of firemen manning three pieces of equipment.

Neighbors said smoke pouring from the structure was so dense that the extent of the fire could not be seen, but added that flames were pouring out the sides of the structure about 11:50.

Mrs. Quinn discovered the blaze and ran to the adjoining home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry L. Rose, 252 Center St., to phone the fire department.

Mrs. Quinn told Mrs. Rose that she feared "the floor is on fire."

Neighbors said no nearby homes were threatened immediately, but a garage on the Quinn property appeared to be in danger.

Two trucks arrived at the home moments after the fire department was called and neighbors said a third truck was summoned by the first two units.

The neighbors said the family escaped safely.

From Both Winners, Losers

Final Campaign Financial Reports Arriving At House

WASHINGTON (AP) — Final campaign financial reports are beginning to arrive at the House file clerk's office from both winners and losers in Ohio contests for House seats.

They include:

Rep. Delbert L. Latta, R-Ohio, a winner. He reports total contributions of $1,548. Largest was $1,000 from the Ohio Republican Finance Committee.

Rep. Clarence J. Brown, R Ohio, a winner. He reports contributions of $2,655. Largest single contributions were $1,000 from the Ohio Republican Finance Committee and $1,042 from the Republican Congressional Campaign Committee here.

David Dennison, Republican from Warren, a loser. He reports contributions of $2,119. Largest single contributor was $682 from Dennison for Congress Committee.

Herbert U. Smith, Democrat from Marietta, a loser. He reports contributions of $150 and expenditures of $2,800. Most of his contributions, he said, came from the Smith for Congress Committee, which will file its report with the state government in Columbus.

Rep. Wayne L. Hays, D-Ohio, a winner. He reports contributions of $688. Largest single contribution was $200 from Albert Schiappia of Steubenville.

Rep. Michael J. Kirwan, D-Ohio, a winner. He reports contributions of $2,530 and expenditures of $4,023. Largest single contributor was the AFL-CIO's Committee on Political Education with $1,000. Sam Brolic of Washington was listed as donating $500.

Rep. Charles A. Vanik, D-Ohio, a winner. He reports contributions of $900. Biggest individual contribution was $500 from AFL-CIO's Committee on Political Education. He said some contributions were from Vanik for Congress Committee.

Tiros II Termed 'Excellent' In Earth Heat Balance Check

WASHINGTON (AP) — Government scientists have handed down this report card for the new weatherman satellite, Tiros II:

Excellent in checking the earth's heat balance.

So-so in photographing its cloud cover.

The cloud cover problem centers on the two cameras of the satellite, which was sent into orbit Wednesday from Cape Canaveral, Fla.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration reports that the small camera is doing its job well, but the large camera isn't.

The small camera takes pictures of cloud areas that cover a square of 75 miles. These photos, however, need support from the large camera's photos to give scientists useful weather information.

The large cameras snap pictures of clouds that cover areas of 800 miles square. These pinpoint the exact locations of the small photos.

NASA scientists say they are trying to find out what's wrong with the large camera and correct it.

But the scientists report that the infrared equipment on Tiros II is doing its job on checking heat balance. The equipment provides information on the amount of reflected sunshine, the amounts of radiation from the earth and its atmosphere, and the amount of visible light reflected back into space.

A camera called an evaporograph can photograph a black cat sitting on a coal pile in a moonless night. The evaporograph gathers heat radiation which objects send out in varying degrees and wave lengths and focuses these radiations on a thin oil film.

West Virginia Blaze Leaves 19 Homeless

BLUEFIELD, W. Va. (AP)—Nineteen persons were made homeless, a dozen buildings were leveled and other property was a charred wreck today as a result of a windfanned Thanksgiving Day fire.

The flames broke out early yesterday and roared through the property of J. B. Belcher & Sons, Inc., a Bluefield lumber concern.

No one was injured, but company officials said a million dollar estimate of the loss is "near correct." The exact figure can't be determined for several days. The company records were lost in the flames.

A night watchman discovered the fire about 12:55 a. m. near one of seven dry kilns. Before the fire was checked it had destroyed seven kilns, a planing mill, a garage, a company store and two office buildings. Five one-story frame houses also were lost.

Telephone and electric service was disrupted at various periods by the blaze which was fought by firemen from both Bluefield, W. Va., and Bluefield, Va.

Kennedy Gets News On Plane Radio

President-Elect And Wife Happy Parents Of 1st Son

WASHINGTON (AP)—A 6-pound 3-ounce son with a shock of black hair was born today to President-elect and Mrs. John F. Kennedy. Radio flashed the news dramatically to the father as he was speeding from Florida to his wife's bedside.

The word changed the grim look on the president-elect's face to a happy smile. All he knew earlier was that his wife, Jacqueline, 31, had been rushed by ambulance to a Washington hospital and was undergoing a caesarean section.

Dr. John A. Walsh, the attending physician, said "both mother and son are doing beautifully." The baby was delivered at 12:22 a. m. Eastern Standard Time.

Dr. Walsh, back at the hospital shortly after 9 a.m., reported the new mother resting very comfortably and said the baby is fine.

The physician said Mrs. Kennedy had not yet seen her son, occupying an incubator in a nursery about 25 feet down the hall from her room. He said she might see him Saturday, depending on when she can make the wheelchair trip to the nursery or the pediatrician will permit the baby to be brought to her.

Hospital authorities said incubator care for a time is routine in such cases.

Dr. Walsh described Mrs. Kennedy as being delighted that the baby is a boy.

"He's a very good-looking youngster," the physician said. "He's a healthy youngster."

In some disagreements with other descriptions of a shock of black hair, Dr. Walsh said John Fitzgerald Jr. has a fair or moderate amount of brown hair. He said the baby's cry is good.

Asked if anything risky was involved, Dr. Walsh said there is "always some attendant risk in the circumstances we had."

The baby was not normally due until about Dec. 27 and doctors had planned for delivery Dec. 12, a procedure described as routine in caesarean cases.

But the doctor said it started to happen "a little sooner than we had expected so we went ahead as planned."

The baby is expected to remain in the incubator another day or day and a half, and Mrs. Kennedy may be in the hospital 10 to 14 days.

Dr. Walsh said Mrs. Kennedy was given an inhalation anesthetic, Cyclopropane, for the surgery. He said she had been given intravenous nourishment but at the time he spoke she probably was on her last such feeding.

Gladys Uhl, who has served as secretary for Mrs. Kennedy, described the Kennedy boy: "He's

Kennedy's Prophecy Of Boy Becomes Fact

BOSTON (AP) — When a boy was born today to President-elect and Mrs. John F. Kennedy, a prophecy of the Massachusetts senator became a fact.

Last Sept. 9 in Richmond, Calif., while he campaigned, Kennedy explained why his wife was not with him on the tour.

"My wife is home," he told the California audience, "and we are having a baby, a boy, in November."

Archbishop Is Banished From Haiti

Accused Of Aiding Students Charged In Communist Plotting

PORT AU PRINCE, Haiti (AP) —Roman Catholic Archbishop Francois Poirier, long a foe of President Francois Duvalier, was secretly hustled out of Haiti Thursday night with no baggage and no money except a borrowed dollar.

The highest church official of this Negro Catholic republic was accused of giving $7,000 to aid striking students accused by the government of being involved in Communist plotting. To deal with the strike the government declared martial law last Tuesday. Thursday it closed all schools for Christmas vacations a month ahead of time.

(The archbishop, 56, said on arriving in Miami Thursday that the charges against him were "entirely false." He is going back to his native Brittany in France.)

(Vatican sources said Haitian authorities involved in the expulsion of the archbishop "very likely" incurred excommunication denying them the church sacraments. No official word was available but the sources said Canon Law No. 2334 normally automatically inflicts excommunication upon persons who directly or indirectly impede a Catholic prelate in his work.)

The churchman's expulsion was swift. Police and presidential guards arrested him at his office and escorted him to the airport where they bought him a ticket for Miami. He was put on a plane without any clothes except the white cassock he was wearing and with only a dollar loaned him by a priest.

A communique broadcast later by Defense Minister Aurele Joseph said the banishment was because the prelate aided the student strikers.

President Duvalier did not mention the expulsion when he addressed a rally of 6,000 of his partisans on the lawn of the National Palace.

Denouncing "lizards" who oppose him, he said he knew who they are and where they are hiding.

The president's supporters carried slogans declaring "Duvalier is the last formula" and "Duvalier or death."

The government's charges concerning the student strike were spelled out at a news conference by Gen. Pierre Merceron, the army chief, and Joseph Baguidy, foreign minister and acting education minister.

Haiti University students went on strike Monday demanding the release of Joseph Roney, student union treasurer, who was arrested in September on charges of distributing Communist tracts.

Baguidy held up a small white flag with red hammer and sickle and the numerals "26" on it. He said the flag was found at the oldest college in the city.

Khrushchev, Red Chinese Held Stage

Hard Bargaining On World Tactics Of Communism Cited

MOSCOW (AP)—The wc ldwide Communist summit conference, in secret session here since Nov. 9, may be near its end.

Reports at a Soviet-Finnish reception Thursday night said the conference has reached its main decisions in the argument between Red China and Soviet camp over Communist tactics.

These reports suggested that the talks might wind up tonight.

Reports filtering through to outsiders have undicated the conference has been dominated by determined bargaining and long speeches over Soviet Premier Khrushchev's line that communism is now so strong it can win the world through patient peaceful competition with Western capitalism.

The Red Chinese, voicing a much harder line, contend that war is inevitable as long as capitalism exists, and that communism would come out victorious from the ashes of a nuclear war.

Pravda declared Wednesday that peaceful coexistence is still the valid and controlling factor of Soviet policy. This was taken by some observers to mean that the Chinese views have been submerged at least to the extent that the split can be glossed over in a proclamation of Communist unity.

Officially, the Communists have never admitted that a summit meeting has been going on. But apparently another big session was held Thursday. Long lines of limousines carried the foreign delegates to and from the Kremlin.

The Soviet-Finnish reception highlighted a visit here by Finnish President Urho Kekkonen who won an important concession—a 50-year lease on the Saimaa Canal. Never before has the Soviet Union given a lease within its territory.

Leetonia Man Fined $50 In Fatal Collision

Ambulance Driver's Case To Be Given To January Grand Jury

Evidence from a four-hour traffic hearing for James Scanlon of Leetonia, ambulance driver cited in connection with a fatal collision near Columbiana Nov. 3 will be presented to the Columbiana County Grand Jury, Prosecutor G. William Brokaw said today.

Scanlon was fined $50 and costs amounting to $48 by County Judge Earl Spalding of East Palestine Wednesday night for failure to proceed with caution through an intersection while driving an emergency vehicle.

Scanlon was driver of an ambulance en route to a one-car accident on Route 14 which slammed into an ice cream truck at the intersection with Route 7, killing the truck driver, Woodrow Bauman, 17-year-old Columbiana High School senior.

At the lengthy hearing at East Palestine Wednesday night, four witnesses said the traffic signal was red in the ambulance's direction, while Scanlon and an attendant said the light was green. Scanlon said his red flasher signal and siren were operating, along with two spotlights.

Testifying were Paul C. Rummell of Columbiana, a service station attendant; Richard Peterson of near New Waterford, a restaurant manager; Ruth Carlisle of Lisbon R.D. 3, employe of a market, and Ernest Williams, who resides nearby.

Prosecutor Brokaw, representing the State Highway Patrol which filed the traffic charge, said today he plans to present the testimony to the January Grand Jury for possible action as a manslaughter case.

Atty. James Baird of Youngstown, counsel on behalf of Scanlon, questioned each witness at length at the hearing.

Youth Sought After Threat To Kill Couple

Chester police today were looking for a black-jacketed teenage youth who entered a Fairview St. home early this morning, struck Mrs. John Smusz on the back of the head and threatened to "kill" her and her husband.

The youth, about 18, fled after Mrs. Smusz ran out the kitchen door in a desperate bid to escape.

Patrolman Clarence Lennens said the intruder apparently entered the kitchen about 1:50 a. m. through the unlatched door.

Mrs. Smusz was awakened by the squeak of the door, but did not suspect anyone in the house. She went downstairs to lower the thermostat control because she felt warm, and turned on the kitchen light.

She was then struck on the back of the head by the youth, who used his hand. Mrs. Smusz fell to the floor and screamed. Her husband, thinking she had accidentally fallen, came downstairs, and as he entered the kitchen, the youth walked toward him, his hand in his pocket as if he had a gun.

He told both of them to get down on the floor or he "would kill them" Mrs. Smusz told Lennens. Noticing he was watching her husband closely, Mrs. Smusz ran out the back door and fell down the steps.

The intruder followed her, apparently not in pursuit but only to run away in the darkness.

Mrs. Smusz suffered a bruise of the back of the head from the blow and abrasions of the legs and ankles in the fall.

Lennens checked the area after he was called by Mrs. Smusz from the house next door and notified East Liverpool police and the Hancock County sheriff's office.

The couple said the youth wore a black jacket, black trousers and white shoes. He was about 18, had light hair, was about 5-feet-6 and weighed around 140.

Nothing was taken from the home, the family said. Smusz, 38, is a carpenter.

Man Drowns In Fall From Outboard Boat

Craft's Owner Cited In River Death Of Cumberland Native

A New Cumberland man was drowned Thanksgiving night when he apparently fell from a motorboat while crossing the Ohio River from Toronto with two companions.

The body of Wilbur (Buck) McCoy, 49, of S. Chester St. was recovered about 11:30 last night, some 5 hours after he fell out of the outboard operated by Thomas Lamb, also of S. Chester St.

Squire John D. Herron, acting Hancock County coroner, impaneled a six-man jury last night to investigate the death.

An inquest will be held Monday at 7:30 p. m. in Squire Herron's office. The jury includes Thomas Bradley, Paul Wigner, Mike Macek, Benny Parr, Clifford Prosser and James Knox.

Lamb is being held in the County Jail on a charge of operating a motorboat while intoxicated, and Claude Boyles, also of New Cumberland, was jailed as a material witness.

Lamb and Boyles told authorities they had been drinking in an Ohio-side tavern and started back across the river about 6 p. m.

As they neared the New Cumberland shore, Mr. McCoy stood up in the boat and tumbled out, they said.

The two said they heard the victim cry for help and attempted to circle and reach his hand, but the motor conked out and they drifted away. It was the last they saw of Mr. McCoy, Lamb and Boyles said.

When they succeeded in restarting the motor, they circled some more and used a flashlight in an attempt to locate him. They finally went to New Cumberland and reported the drowning to the sheriff's office.

New Cumberland volunteer firemen and employes of Lock 9 joined in dragging the river for the body. Chester firemen took the city squad car, portable lights and

Home Burns In Beechwood

Family Of 8 Flees Blaze In Dwelling

A Beechwood couple and their six children escaped safely when fire engulfed their one - story home shortly before noon today.

The fire struck at 11:37 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Eck Quinn, 257 Center St., and 10 minutes later neighbors said it appeared the house would be destroyed, despite the efforts of firemen manning three pieces of equipment.

Neighbors said smoke pouring from the structure was so dense that the extent of the fire could not be seen, but added that flames were pouring out the sides of the structure about 11:50.

Mrs. Quinn discovered the blaze and ran to the adjoining home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry L. Rose, 252 Center St., to phone the fire department.

Mrs. Quinn told Mrs. Rose that she feared "the floor is on fire."

Neighbors said no nearby homes were threatened immediately, but a garage on the Quinn property appeared to be in danger.

Two trucks arrived at the home moments after the fire department was called and neighbors said a third truck was summoned by the first two units.

The neighbors said the family escaped safely.

Tragedy On Thanksgiving

Traffic Deaths In Nation Continue To Rise Slowly

Traffic	134
Fires	22
Miscellaneous	30
Total	186

By The Associated Press

Traffic deaths, the nation's No. 1 accident killer, brought tragedy to many homes Thanksgiving Day, traditional holiday for family reunions.

The traffic death toll, in the first period of the extended weekend holiday, mounted to 134. Many of the accidents claimed lives in multiple numbers. So did fires. In addition to the traffic fatalities, other violent deaths included 22 in fires and 30 in miscellaneous type mishaps. The over-all total was 186.

Four traffic crashes claimed 12 lives, three in each. Eight persons perished in two fires, including four early today in a home in Pittsburgh's Homewood section. The other four victims were children who lost their lives in a fire in Canastota, N. Y.

Generally fair weather in most of the country Thursday lured millions to the highways. But the National Safety Council said traffic on Thanksgiving Day normally is not as heavy as on other major holidays.

The council did not make an estimate of traffic deaths for the holiday or for the 104-hour period which started at 6 p.m. (local time) Wednesday and ends at midnight Sunday.

But the toll appeared running close to the figure taken by The Associated Press in a survey for a non-holiday period, extending over 102 hours from 6 p.m. Wednesday Nov. 9 until midnight Sunday Nov. 13. The count was 433 traffic deaths, 69 deaths in fires and 144 killed in miscellaneous accidents, for total of 646.

In last year's four-day Thanksgiving holiday weekend, the AP count was 445 traffic fatalities, 70 dead in fires and 135 killed in miscellaneous accidents, a total of 650. The 1958 holiday traffic toll was 454, fires claimed 54 lives and 118 died in miscellaneous mishaps. The over-all total was 626.

Living Costs Hit New Peak During October

WASHINGTON (AP) — Living costs rose four-tenths of one per cent in October to hit another peak.

Nearly half the increase was attributed to higher food prices but practically every element of consumer expenditures advanced.

The government index rose to 127.3 per cent of the 1947-49 average. This is 1.4 per cent higher than a year ago.

The October increase was the largest since last April. The index increased in eight of the first 10 months of 1960.

The new cost increase will bring a pay boost of two cents an hour to approximately a million workers in auto and farm equipment manufacturing.

Pope, 79 Today, Sets Day Of Routine Work

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope John XXIII was 79 years old today. The Vatican's yellow and gold flags were unfurled in his honor but there was no special celebration.

For the pontiff the day was another day of routine work. This included a general audience for several thousand persons.

Mild Weather Due For City Yule Parade

With no snow in sight, Santa will have to depend on wheels beneath his sleigh for his appearance in East Liverpool's annual Christmas parade tonight at 5:30. Rather mild temperatures are forecast.

Parking Ban Includes Parade Assembly Site

Police Chief Americo J. Radeschi today extended a parking ban to include the section of Bradshaw Ave. between Walnut St. and Ravine St. where a Christmas parade will form tonight.

However, a single lane of traffic will be kept open through the assembly area, the chief said. Signs notifying drivers of the parking ban will go up at 2 this afternoon both in the assembly area and along the parade route.

The procession through the business district will feature about 50 various units, including high school bands, convertibles with costumed girls, floats, marching groups, numerous clowns, fire trucks and military units. The theme is "Santa's Parade of Toys."

Old Saint Nick will be surrounded by gifts in his sleigh and the downtown Yule decorations will be turned on to signal the start of the parade from the assembly point in the vicinity of Bradshaw Ave. and Walnut St. "Mr. Wrinkles" of television fame will lead the parade.

The route will proceed on Walnut to 5th St., on Jackson to 6th St. and over 6th to Walnut. Parking will be banned on the parade route. Visitors may park their cars on the Westgate School lot and ride

Revolvers And TV Sets Among Burglars' Loot

Burglars who entered two district homes over the holiday are now equipped to watch Westerns on TV and to practice quick draws when Marshal Dillon reaches for his six-shooter. And they can cut the bars on their cells, if it comes to that.

Robert Boyd of R.D. reported to Sheriff Russell J. VanFossan two revolvers — one a new .38 and the other an old .45 and both Smith & Wesson models, were taken along with a TV set and two radios, welding gauges and cutting torches. The thief broke a basement window to enter, the owner said in the report at 11:05 p. m. Thursday.

S. D. Mays of the Y. & O. Rd. said a 24-inch TV was stolen from his home and two auto radios, welding gauges and cutting torches from his barn. He reported the theft at 8:43 p. m.

No More Homegrown Revolutions

A historian would shudder and stutter if challenged to name a completely homegrown revolution.

Social turmoil and political overthrow attract outsiders the way a chocolate cake attracts flies.

This fatal attraction is at the center of what could become of a major dispute over foreign policy in the United States.

This country is close to a position that Communists are behind every eruption of violence in Latin American politics and wherever there are Communists they are under the orders of Communist headquarters in Russia.

President Eisenhower's order putting the U.S. Navy on guard against possible invasions of Guatemala and Nicaragua said the threat of invasion was Communist. He called Cuba a "satellite of powerful Russia."

A U.S. note concerning Cuba's arming spelled out in detail munitions shipped to Cuba from inside the Iron Curtain. Cuba, it implied, is the overseas branch of the Soviet Union.

NO ROOM has been left for doubt that if Cubans interfere in any Latin American country, the United States intends to put the blame on Communist conspirators acting on orders from Moscow.

Peiping also has been indignant about the order to the U. S. Navy, and its indignation was expressed by Premier Chou En-lai during a speech in honor of Ernesto Guevara, the Cuban Communist, who was in Peiping for what purported to be trade negotiations.

The United States rejects the possibility that Cuba has self-determination. Its disenchantment with Fidel Castro as a bona fide revolutionist is complete. It believes Castro is a creature of the Communist Conspiracy and that the conspiracy is a creature of the Soviet Union.

Henceforth, under such a policy, the blame for each and every disturbance in Latin America must be placed where it is virtually certain to belong—at the feet of Communists who takes orders from Moscow.

BUT THIS POSITION being defined by the outgoing Eisenhower administration is not necessarily the position that will be taken by an incoming Kennedy administration.

Premier Khrushchev has said he has hopes of returning to the spirit of Franklin D. Roosevelt with Mr. Kennedy in the White House.

This may explain why Sen. Johnson, the incoming vice president, was sent to Paris to tell the meeting of North Atlantic Treaty Organization legislators that the new administration will stand by President Eisenhower's policies.

It would be a cruel setback if the United States were made to discard the benefit of so many hard-learned lessons and go back to the misconception that Russia is just another country, instead of the center of a continuous revolution aiming to overthrow every non-Communist government on earth.

Nothing Spoilsport About Election

It is to be regretted, now that the hairline closeness of the presidential election is a matter of record, that so many people were in such a hurry to settle the whole thing before they knew what they were doing.

Nothing is going to change the tendency among Americans to call the turn as soon as they think they detect a trend.

As far as elections are concerned, the tendency in recent years has been not to wait for the election at all but to let pollsters tell how the voting is going to turn out before the ballots are cast.

It is little wonder that on Election Day the prevailing attitude is that the whole thing has been wrapped up in advance and nothing remains to be known but the size of the package. It is even less wonder that while the votes are being counted there is an all-night cackle and gabble of guesswork based on one-tenth of one per cent of the precincts reporting in Outer Slobovia.

This is the same Chicken Little state of mind that manifests itself predictions that the sky is falling every time it sprinkles; that there is going to be an economic bust every time production pauses for consumption to catch up; that there is going to be Armageddon whenever Nikita Khrushchev beetles his brow.

There's nothing "spoilsport" about waiting until all the votes have been counted and the election returns certified to everybody's satisfaction before announcing the outcome of a national election.

In all but a handful of elections, the winner has had such a fat margin that no close counting was necessary. This is one of the exceptional years.

We thought Vice President Nixon was premature when he all but conceded in the early morning of Nov. 9. Sen. Kennedy showed good judgment in not making any claims before Mr. Nixon threw in the towel.

It is likely that the apparent outcome will still be the actual outcome, but it is not un-American to concede the possibility, after the switch in California, that reversals may be forthcoming in the rechecking of vote totals and in the "hard, close look" that is going to be made in close states.

Naturally, Kennedy voters are disappointed at the closeness of the vote. But they have no call to cry "Foul!"

It would be better, all things considered, if in the future everybody went to bed early the night of Election Day and the counting and tabulating were to be started methodically at 8 a.m. the next morning, continuing until a National Election Commission declared a winner.

In that event, we'd still be waiting.

Not Just One Goal

The Kiwanis Club learned Wednesday its recent series of four travelogues, sponsored to raise funds for youth service projects, netted about $150 after all expenses were paid.

While this is no insignificant profit, it will provide only a fraction of the club budget in that field.

But club members are not disappointed, nor should they be. Their travelogues brought a worthwhile series of entertaining and educating programs to East Liverpool, marking a greater success in another community service area.

Whatever support area residents give such service club efforts reflects not only upon the success of the club in meeting its duties but in financial backing of the particular project and the betterment of the community cultural level.

The Reality That Never Was

Experts, analysts, critics and technicians have said so much about soap operas on radio since they were spawned by the Great Depression that there's nothing left to say—except this:

The last of the daytime radio serials will leave the air the day after Thanksgiving. The soap opera idea, of course, now is going great suds in daytime television, so it will not be lost. It's only the radio era of misery and problems . . . problems . . . problems. . . that's ending.

How many million women—and men—are entitled to an unashamed gulp over the final end of something that meant so much? They never were concerned with the high-nosed criticism of privileged people who scorned such entertainment trivia. They enjoyed the soap operas for what they were—a reality that never was—a reality that could be turned on day by day and turned off by the clock—a substitute for the humdrum and boredom of existence that ran on without surcease.

Like the doggerel of Edgar Guest and the too-literal reproductions of landscapes and sunrises that pass for art among the unknowing, much of daytime radio sponsored by soap peddlers was trash, judged by the highest standards. But that was the catch.

It was not judged that way by millions who had nothing at stake but their pure enjoyment of something that relieved boredom. That was daytime radio's great service. It still is. Daytime television will go on with the "operas." As antidotes for boredom, nothing like them ever has been devised.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Jim Hagerty will come to ABC television system direct from valuable TV experience. He did eight years of "This is Your Potomac," "State of the Union," "Press Session Rumpus Room," "Celebrity Golf," "Capitol Quiz," "World Peace Or Bust," "Father Knows Best and "Edge of NYET."

He also ran a Washington "Candid Camera" show and used old movies, running "Abe Lincoln Sees It Through" and "Up San Juan Hill With Teddy Roosevelt" pretty often.

When Republicans needed a "whodunit" with a top role for a villian he ran "Truman & Consequences." Jim also delivered commercials for the GOP All-Purpose, Five-Way Global-Headache Pill and the Anti-Freeze Solution For Winterizing Republican Bandwagon.

Jim learned all there is to learn about cameras and airwave production of big events and in a way saw that the presidential press conferences didn't come under the head of low wrestling matches.

Hagerty is a capable showman and did much to make many of Ike's fireside chats "The Play of the Week." Should he take a hand in ABC's Westerns he would do well. He was always as close to Ike as a deputy to a frontier marshal, ready to leap in whenever the President was in danger.

There were episodes in which he seemed to be wearing cowboy costume and showing he was quick on the draw. There was constant roughage on the Potomac frontier. Jim would be a hit on ABC horse opera if he adopted a Gary Cooper manner and learned to say "YEP."

HARVARD HAD JACK KENNEDY and the new administration on its side in the grid battle with Yale, but team didn't follow his "We must go forward" appeal.

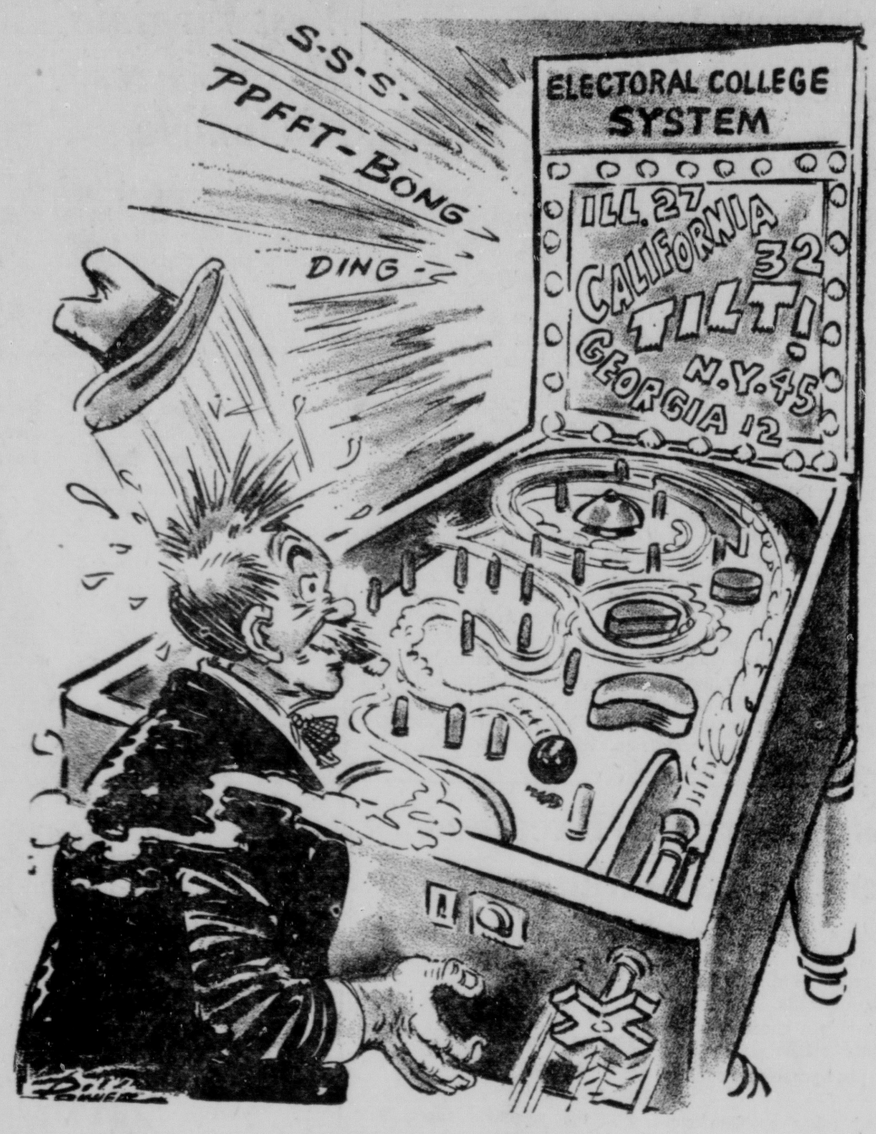

Laos, after accepting millions from Uncle Sam, now announces it will welcome financial aid from Red China and Moscow. ("Money yes! Appreciation, no!")

A test in 1,357 high schools showed few pupils could come close to spelling simple words correctly or completing a fifteen-word sentence without an error. How can the kids bother with spelling and grammar when they have to put in so much time keeping the auto in shape for the half-mile trip to and from school?

McClellan Committee will probe Jimmy Hoffa again. It still thinks Hoffa is not unbeatable when up against the U.S. government.

Our National Pinball Game

New 'Labor Martyr' Case Looms

By Victor Riesel

Almost unnoticed, a new "Sacco-Venzetti" case is stalking John F. Kennedy into the White House. It will take a latter day Solomon to solve this problem for the new administration. Involved are eight imprisoned men — who were popular leaders of a union long active in New Deal political campaigns.

Victor Riesel

These men, officials of the Textile Workers Union of America, have been in North Carolinas Central Prison at Raleigh for a few weeks. Now they are being dispatched to state work camps. From these compounds they are moved, shackled and guarded, into road gangs almost daily.

One of the eight is an organizer extremely popular inside labor. He is Boyd E. Payton, TWUA vice president, now swinging a pick and shovel on the highway.

THERE ARE SEVEN other textile union officers jailed along with Payton, who was the union's director for the Carolinas until he and his colleagues surrendered four weeks ago to serve terms ranging from two to 10 years.

Payton, a friend of most of labors national chiefs, could serve as many as seven to eight years on the road gang. These are the heaviest prison sentences to hit labor officials in years.

The charge was conspiracy to dynamite installations of the Henderson Mills, Henderson, N. C. The strike there went into its third year last week. There was no explosion.

No explosion, that is, except on the part of the textile workers who have been attempting to get a pardon from Gov. Luther M. Hodges, whose term expires at year's end.

Gov. Hodges, it has been unofficially "announced," will be John F. Kennedy's secretary of commerce. Until the Henderson strike he was high in labor's esteem. He started as a mill worker, himself.

Later, as an industrialist, he was one of the first in the Carolinas to encourage collective bargaining with the TWUS.

UNTIL THE NIGHT before the eight labor men surrendered to Central Prison, the national union leaders hoped for a word of evecutive clemency from Gov. Hodges. It didn't come.

There were harsh words that night at the farewell dinner in the Vance Hotel, Henderson, N. C. Two men high in national labor councils, William Pollack, union president, and the equally influential president emeritus, Emil Rieve (one of the founders of CIO), privately denounced the governor.

It was their opinion that the eight men were being punished more for union activity than for violation of the law. It was pointed out that there had been no dynamiting.

Boyd Payton, it was said, was an active church lay leader — and now is organizing Sunday School classes in his prison camp.

Efforts were made to contact Hodges but he had left with the governors' group for Latin America. Then came word that President-elect John Kennedy would name Hodges secretary of commerce.

Soon former CIO leaders, Walter Reuther and Jim Carey, as well as Arthur Goldberg, were asked to contact Sen. Kennedy or his close advisers to intervene with the incoming Cabinet member.

Slowly behind the scenes there began to build up sentiment for a national fight which would make "labor martyrs" of the eight in campaigns reminiscent of the Mooney and Billings and Sacco-Venzetti cases.

A FEW DAYS ago the textile workers met. They called on all unions to start public drives for the freedom of the Carolina eight.

The TWUA chiefs asked their colleagues to make this the first order of business at all "future conventions."

Slowly the embarrassing spectre of a Sacco-Vanzetti cause celebre is beginning to loom over the labor scene and may stalk noisily through the early days of the new presidency.

Purely Personal

By Truman Twill

Everybody thought it would be nice when the election was over and people talked about something besides politics. But the talk is still about politics, and the election isn't over—and if it were what would we talk about? Castro?

The common idea that holidays always have been observed the way they are observed now is a misconception. Thanksgiving was an in-and-out affair until 100 years ago. Many families paid no attention to Christmas as recently as 50 years ago. Independence Day was not on July 4 and Memorial Day is ignored in many of the states that never were reconciled to the loss of the Civil War.

I shall not hear a funnier remark than the football fan in front of me who looked up a doll wearing one of those bushy fur hats and said, "Haven't you heard, lady? A little dab will do ya."

I have had more satisfaction than usual this year chiding people about Indian Summer. For the record, so there can be no future misunderstanding, this was the year of the perfect Indian Summer—the beautiful weather that occurred after the first snowfall.

Yale beat Harvard this year 39-6 and ran up 43 points against Princeton the preceding week. This sort of thing happens all the time in the de-emphasized football of the famous Ivy League, where teams become strong only by accident. This has been Yale's "strong year."

Whenever I feel smug about the occupation of being a scrivener, I recall instances I have known personally in which people who went off their rockers revealed the crackup by the illusion they were writers. They produced yards of nonsense-scribbling, which they sent to the hometown paper. Where else?

Instead of surprising me, the chief knitter in our establishment has let it slip out that the object she is knitting is a helmet of a type she specialized in knitting during World War II and that it's for me. I am overjoyed. I need it. And all the time I thought she was knitting a wool football!

In my lifetime I have learned three things that put people on a common footing—ownership of the same kind of an imported car, the same kind of a domestic-made tractor and the custody and care of goats.

The funniest prose being written in the newspaper business is by Art Buchwald, who can crack it off whether on his ordinary beat in Paris or back home covering a presidential election. His paper is the New York Herald Tribune.

Last time I looked the indefatigable pansies in the garden, planted last May, were still blooming exuberantly. That was a week after Election Day.

Through The Years

THIRTY YEARS AGO — Church services, the annual East Liver-Wellsville football game and holiday bills in the theaters featured the observance of Thanksgiving day here.

Safety-Service Director John W. Moore wrote to ambulance owners in East Liverpool, Wellsville, Midland and Chester advising them that reckless driving charges would be filed against drivers who violated traffic regulations by driving through red lights.

TWENTY YEARS AGO — The Wellsville Volunteer Fire Department purchased a $4,000 truck, paid for in part by funds from the homecoming festival and other projects.

Elmer Savage was named worshipful master of Wellsville Masonic Lodge 180.

TEN YEARS AGO — The worst snowstorm on record paralyzed the district.

The Rev. F. Eppling Reinartz, secretary of the United Lutheran Church of America at New York and a native of East Liverpool, spoke at St. John's Evangelical Lutheran Church and the First Presbyterian Church here.

The New York State Throughway, which is 474 miles long, is the longest toll highway in the United States.

Public Notice

The principle of giving public notice through "legal advertising" is well accepted in the United States. Hundreds of laws in the codes of the 50 states, as well as numerous local ordinances providing for such publication, attest to this fact.

A public official who fails or neglects to carry out the intent of the law in such matters may lay himself open to a charge of nonfeasance. Similarly a person who in some private capacity is supposed to give notice and does not do so may deprive some other individuals of their legal right to be put on notice concerning something that affects them.

Occasionally an ordinance or a law may provide that a public notice be published by title only. Actually this is rare and is objected to on the ground that while this is a notice of sorts, it is sufficient and inadequate notice. This would be true especially of a proposed action where the title might include ". . . and for other purposes," the "other purposes" not being spelled out.

The argument usually given for suggested the occasional publication of notices by title only is that it still serves the general purpose and is more economical. Neither reason is sound when weighed against the basic reason for public notices, namely, to inform the public where its rights are affected.

At best publication by title is only half a loaf or less.

'Preventive' Situation

By William L. Ryan

Ominous Aspect Of Soviet-Red Chinese Rift

Here is an ominous aspect of the Soviet-Red Chinese quarrel: It could result in World War III, and Moscow seems to be preparing for the possibility.

Soviet propaganda makes much of the term peace, but at the same time it seems to be actively conditioning the minds of people in Red-ruled lands for the possibility of a preventive war against the United States.

The suspicion is reinforced by the statement of Premier Khrushchev Wednesday to Pravda on the subject of disarmament. Historically, Communist leaders have accused others of planning what, in fact, has been in their own minds.

Khrushchev accused the West of duplicity in disarmament talks, of steadily building up nuclear weapons stockpiles and of constant provocations and spying against the U.S.S.R. All this, said Khrushchev, could enable the United States to "choose the suitable moment for dealing their blow and starting an aggression."

Taken by itself, this might not appear too menacing. But this sort of thing has been publicized time and again by Soviet propaganda ever since last May, when Khrushchev, using the U2 plane incident as his excuse, was preparing to blow up the Paris summit conference.

Since then Khrushchev has given the impression that the appearance of a single U.S. plane or submarine in Soviet air or waters will be considered a military invasion—in a word, an aggression which could be answered with a big preventive blow.

Some Western experts express belief the Kremlin is engaged in a psychological buildup to justify a preventive attack should that, to the Kremlin's way of thinking, become necessary.

In Munich, Germany, experts of the institute for study of the U.S.S.R. say they detect such a trend. Hammering propaganda for six months has been keyed to an antispy mania, to hatred and distrust of Americans, to picturing the United States and West Germany, in that order, as real and present menaces to the Soviet population.

One method of psychological buildup, says the institute, is an attempt to reproduce in Russia the mood of World War II, through glorification of the armed forces and constant appeals for vigilance and defense readiness.

Red China insists upon the letter of Leninist dogma: That war between the two world camps must come. The Chinese say it must not be feared, that Communists must not hesitate, regardless of risks, to expand at every opportunity.

Manifestly, this worries Khrushchev, who has contended that while communism would win, there would be little left after nuclear war on either side.

Khrushchev could lose the argument and be toppled in favor of a group more receptive to the Chinese idea. Desperation could lead to that, if an entrenched hierarchy should see in the developing argument a real threat to its continued sway over the Soviet Union and the world Communist movement.

Khrushchev has played for time, and won some time in the Communist summit which began Nov. 9 in Moscow. He is still on a spot. The dissidents—Red Chinese and those agreeing with them—will watch carefully as Khrushchev approaches the new U. S. administration.

It is possible Khrushchev will win out, and 1961 will be just another nerve-wracking cold war year. It is possible also that he will lose, and 1961 will be the most dangerous year of the cold war era.

Political Murder

By Godfrey Anderson

PARIS

In France where much of the press hesitates to run afoul of the regime, one capricious weekly publication is getting away with political murder.

And—thus far at least—no one has done anything about it.

The more serious weeklies have been in trouble time and again for what they have published, especially about the politically explosive Algerian war.

Some have been seized. Writers and cartoonists have been haled into court on charges ranging from attacking state security to "offending" President de Gaulle.

But, except for it being seized a few times on arrival in Algeria, no one has yet laid hands on "Le Canard Enchaine."

"The Chained Duck" was founded in 1915 as a protest against the brain-washing that soldiers and civilians were undergoing in the heavily censored press during World War I. In French the word canard, besides meaning a duck, is a slang term both for rumors and for newspapers.

THE ORIGINAL Canard Enchaine died after a few issues, but it was started again in 1917. Since then it has run an unbroken course, except during the Nazi occupation of World War II, when it prudently suspended publication.

Today, with a circulation of 260,000, it is widely read among teachers, lawyers, doctors, army officers, civil servants — and, of course, politicians. Its needle-sharp ridiculing of the nation's rulers does not go over with the workers, who possibly fail to grasp its subtleties.

Anti-militarist (although not necessarily pacifist), the Canard pokes fun impartially at everyone, however exalted his position. It is bitterly destructive of whatever exists, but seldom has anything constructive to propose in its place.

Its current most popular feature is titled "La Cour" (The Court) and is an 18th-century style chronicle of the week's events around the "monarch" in the Elysee Palace.

Charles de Gaulle, in wig and regal robes, is shown in the guise of Louis XIV, haughtily receiving homage from his prime minister, Michel Debre, and others. A duck —the duck of the Canard Enchaine —perches insolently on the train of his ermine-trimmed robe.

DE GAULLE is referred to as "the King" and the French people as his "subjects." Debre appears as "le petit Prince", former Premier Antoine Pinay (who is believed to have aspirations to succeed de Gaulle) as "the Dauphin" and former Premier Guy Mollet as "the Sous-Dauphin" (Deputy Crown Prince).

Mme. de Gaulle emerges, strangest of all, as Madame de Maintenant — an obvious allusion to Madame de Maintenon, who was governess to Louis XIV's children and later secretly married him. The original Madame de Maintenon, say historians, had great influence over her husband, the King, and was noted for her piety.

Premier Debre — whom the Canard also refers to disrespectfully as "L'Amer Michel" (Poor Mike) —almost always comes off badly when the paper's artists get to work.

He is often presented as a lackey or valet de chambre, sometimes handing de Gaulle his slippers on a silver tray. One sketch, during de Gaulle's visit to New York, showed the chief of state reflectively shining his own boots.

"Sometimes I miss Debre," the caption read.

But, despite it all, the Canard has never been seized by the authorities.

One reason for this possibly is the impartiality with which it attacks everyone. Although the victims seldom like what it says about them, they can get a laugh when it attacks their enemies.

Again, the Canard has a way of hedging its most outrageous statements — which may often have a considerable basis of truth — with disarming comments like: "But, of course, no one could really believe such base calumnies. . ."

THAT MAKES it difficult for the person attacked to go to court and say his friends believe it.

"Besides," said a Canard editor recently, "can you imagine the face of a judge reading from the Canard Enchaine in open court? No one could take the case seriously."

The Canard Enchaine is produced by a small team of five French journalists with plenty of outside help from anonymous correspondents spotted throughout every field of public life.

The five meet every Friday in the bistro "Au Vieux Saumur", just down the street from their office near the Bourse. Over luncheon they discuss the week's events and plot the line of attack for the next issue.

The paper is printed across town in the plant of the Paris edition of the New York Herald Tribune. It appears on Wednesdays.

"So long as the Canard still goes on, you can be sure there's nothing really much wrong with France," one Frenchman said as he bought his copy from a street kiosk last week.

Odd Facts

New York City has more office space than all the office buildings in Chicago, Philadelphia, San Francisco, Los Angeles, Cleveland, Detroit, Washington, Houston, and Pittsburgh combined, the total office space exceeding 85 million square feet. In Manhattan alone, during the past 13 years, 116 new office buildings have been erected — the additional office space being more than the total office space in Chicago, the nation's second largest city.

Most new railroad passenger cars are 85 feet long, but on some lines they vary from 60 to 88 feet.

From Both Winners, Losers

Final Campaign Financial Reports Arriving At House

WASHINGTON (AP) — Final campaign financial reports are beginning to arrive at the House file clerk's office from both winners and losers in Ohio contests for House seats.

They include:

Rep. Delbert L. Latta, R-Ohio, a winner. He reports total contributions of $1,548. Largest was $1,000 from the Ohio Republican Finance Committee.

Rep. Clarence J. Brown, R Ohio, a winner. He reports contributions of $2,655. Largest single contributions were $1,000 from the Ohio Republican Finance Committee and $1,042 from the Republican Congressional Campaign Committee here.

David Dennison, Republican from Warren, a loser. He reports contributions of $2,119. Largest single contributor was $682 from Dennison for Congress Committee.

Herbert U. Smith, Democrat from Marietta, a loser. He reports contributions of $150 and expenditures of $2,800. Most of his contributions, he said, came from the Smith for Congress Committee, which will file its report with the state government in Columbus.

Rep. Wayne L. Hays, D-Ohio, a winner. He reports contributions of $688. Largest single contribution was $200 from Albert Schiappia of Steubenville.

Rep. Michael J. Kirwan, D-Ohio, a winner. He reports contributions of $2,530 and expenditures of $4,023. Largest single contributor was the AFL-CIO's Committee on Political Education with $1,000. Sam Brolic of Washington was listed as donating $500.

Rep. Charles A. Vanik, D-Ohio, a winner. He reports contributions of $900. Biggest individual contribution was $500 from AFL-CIO's Committee on Political Education. He said some contributions were from Vanik for Congress Committee.

Tiros II Termed 'Excellent' In Earth Heat Balance Check

WASHINGTON (AP) — Government scientists have handed down this report card for the new weatherman satellite, Tiros II:

Excellent in checking the earth's heat balance.

So-so in photographing its cloud cover.

The cloud cover problem centers on the two cameras of the satellite, which was sent into orbit Wednesday from Cape Canaveral, Fla.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration reports that the small camera is doing its job well, but the large camera isn't.

The small camera takes pictures of cloud areas that cover a square of 75 miles. These photos, however, need support from the large camera's photos to give scientists useful weather information.

The large cameras snap pictures of clouds that cover areas of 800 miles square. These pinpoint the exact locations of the small photos.

NASA scientists say they are trying to find out what's wrong with the large camera and correct it.

But the scientists report that the infrared equipment on Tiros II is doing its job on checking heat balance. The equipment provides information on the amount of reflected sunshine, the amounts of radiation from the earth and its atmosphere, and the amount of visible light reflected back into space.

A camera called an evaporograph can photograph a black cat sitting on a coal pile in a moonless night. The evaporograph gathers heat radiation which objects send out in varying degrees and wave lengths and focuses these radiations on a thin oil film.

West Virginia Blaze Leaves 19 Homeless

BLUEFIELD, W. Va. (AP)—Nineteen persons were made homeless, a dozen buildings were leveled and other property was a charred wreck today as a result of a windfanned Thanksgiving Day fire.

The flames broke out early yesterday and roared through the property of J. B. Belcher & Sons, Inc., a Bluefield lumber concern.

No one was injured, but company officials said a million dollar estimate of the loss is "near correct." The exact figure can't be determined for several days. The company records were lost in the flames.

A night watchman discovered the fire about 12:55 a. m. near one of seven dry kilns. Before the fire was checked it had destroyed seven kilns, a planing mill, a garage, a company store and two office buildings. Five one-story frame houses also were lost.

Telephone and electric service was disrupted at various periods by the blaze which was fought by firemen from both Bluefield, W. Va., and Bluefield, Va.

Dad Proud Of Son, Little Chagrined Now

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — Carl Schmidt was proud when his son, Tom, took a lively interest in his hobby, model airplane racing.

But Dad was somewhat chagrined when he finished as runnerup to 16-year-old Tom in the sixth annual Thompson Trophy Junior Air Races, sponsored by the Gulf Hawks Model Airplane Club.

Union Service Audiences Provide Offering Of $400

A total offering of over $400 was received at the union Thanksgiving services in East Liverpool district churches Thursday. Capacity crowds attended.

The downtown service was held at the First Church of Christ, of which John N. Mostoller is minister. The Rev. Albert Rodenhausen, pastor of the First Baptist Church, preached on "Thanksgiving Glow."

About $116 was received and will be turned over to the East Liverpool Ministerial Association for its general fund.

At the Second United Presbyterian Church, with the Rev. Emanuel Emanuel as pastor, about 350 attended with 6 churches participating. The Rev. Edward J. Phinn of the Grace United Presbyterian Church was guest speaker.

An offering of approximately $90 was received by the American Leprosy Mission.

About 200 attended the service at the Chester Westminster United Presbyterian Church, of which the Rev. William Claghorn is pastor. The Rev. Milo Smith of the Free Methodist Church was guest speaker. An offering of about $80 was received and part will be given to the East Liverpool Rescue Mission and part to the Chester Ministerial Association for its general fund.

At the Newell Church of the Nazarene, the Rev. Charles Haddock, pastor of the Presbyterian Church, spoke on "Thanksgiving is Thanksgiving." The Rev. O. F. Haynes is pastor. About 150 attended and an offering of approximately $42 was received for community work.

Some 300 attended the service held at the Wellsville Central Methodist Church. The Rev. William Hewitt is pastor. The Rev. William Carswell of the First Baptist Church was the guest speaker. An offering of about $80 was received and will be turned over to the general fund of the Wellsville Ministerial Association.

EAST PALESTINE — About 225 attended the union Thanksgiving service Thursday at the Covenant Presbyterian Church. The Rev. William R. Robb, pastor, was in charge. Special music was provided. A total of $97 was collected for CROP—the rural overseas aid program.

Skies Are Sunny For Thanksgiving

Skies were sunny for East Liverpool's observance of Thanksgiving as the mercury rose to a cool but comfortable 46 degrees for the day's high. Frost was "on the pumpkin" for a crisp start of the holiday with a sub-freezing 28 as the night's low reported at Dam. 7.

It was an unusually quiet holiday for East Liverpool police, who recorded two minor auto mishaps and two arrests — one for a traffic violation and another for intoxication.

Area holiday travel was relatively light, according to traffic reports from the State Highway Patrol at Lisbon and the Pennsylvania State Police posts at Rochester and Carnegie, who said there were no Thursday mishaps.

2 Minor Mishaps Mar City Traffic

Only two minor mishaps marred traffic in East Liverpool Wednesday night, police said.

A collision on the Lisbon St. Hill Wednesday at 11:37 p. m. damaged 1957 sedans driven by Dorothy Mae Glynn, 36, of Cannons Mills and Albert E. Zockell, 52, of 1913 Lisbon St., officers said.

The woman driver was upbound and the local man was downbound. Each accused the other of crossing the center line on a curve, police said. The mishap damaged the left front bumper and headlight rim of the woman's car and the entire left side of the local man's auto, police said.

Meanwhile, Francis L. Pickens of Marion told police a rented car which he parked on the Pennsylvania Ave. "Hill Rd." Thursday night was damaged by a hit-skip vehicle. The 1960 sedan is owned by the Hertz Rent-A-Car agency of Mansfield, Pickens said.

Pickens said he parked the auto on the "Hill Rd." about 360 feet west of State St. at 10:30 p. m. Wednesday. When he returned at midnight he found it had been sideswiped, Pickens said.

Court Increases Bond In Man's Assault Case

Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff today allowed a continuance until Wednesday at 9 a. m. in an assault and battery charge against Gordon Reynolds, of Negley, but upped the defendant's bond from $81 to $200.

The charge against Reynolds was filed by Beverly Springer, 314 Market St., alleging he "assaulted and struck" her on Nov. 16. Reynolds appeared for a hearing this morning, but the attorney whom he said he engaged Wednesday night was not present.

The judge allowed the continuance to assure that the defendant will have counsel. Reynolds had been free on an $81 bond, but the judge ordered the surety raised to $200.

Before Bedloe's Island in New York harbor became the location of the Statue of Liberty and was renamed Liberty Island, it was the site of a pesthouse, a quarantine station, a military prison, a gallows and a dump.

Judges-Elect To Alternate In 2 Counties

The two judges-elect of the 1st Judicial Circuit have announced they plan to alternate their assignments in Brooke and Hancock Counties.

Under the plan, Ralph E. Pryor, now Brooke County prosecutor, will preside in Hancock County and James G. McClure, Wheeling attorney, will conduct court in Brooke County for the first two years of their terms beginning Jan. 1. Both will serve Ohio County Circuit Court.

At the end of the first two years of their eight-year terms, the two men plan to alternate assignments and continue that policy every two years thereafter.

They defeated Judges J. H. Brennan and J. I. O'Brien in the election Nov. 7 for the three-county posts.

Salineville Prisoner Taken To Reformatory

LISBON — Gerald Edward Raffle, 23, of Salineville was taken to the Mansfield Reformatory today by Deputy Robert Berresford to serve a 1-20-year sentence for auto theft imposed by Common Pleas Court.

Raffle was indicted by the January Grand Jury, pleaded guilty and received probation, but violated the terms of his probation twice and was sentenced by Judge Raymond S. Buzzard.

Baby

adorable. He's wiggling. He has a shock of black hair."

Kennedy, soon after returning to Washington, was driven to the Georgetown Medical Center.

He beamed happily as he looked at his son through a heavy glass window. The baby lay in an incubator in the premature baby room. He'll be there a day or two —normal procedure for a caesarean cases.

After watching his son, Kennedy spent eight or nine minutes with his wife and then left the hospital. He planned to get some sleep at his Georgetown home and return to the hospital by noon.

As he left, he told newsmen the boy would be named John Fitzgerald Kennedy Jr.

The baby is the first son for the president-elect and his wife. Their daughter, Caroline, will be 3 on Sunday.

When Kennedy arrived at his home, he told newsmen he had found his wife awake and had talked with her. "She is fine," he said. Asked about his son, Kennedy said, "He is fine, too."

The president-elect had spent Thanksgiving Day with his family in their home in the Georgetown section of Washington. The baby had not been expected until mid-December, and Kennedy left Washington Thursday night for Palm Beach, Fla., to continue his postelection vacation.

But, just a few hours after Kennedy left, Dr. Walsh called an ambulance to rush Mrs. Kennedy to the Georgetown University Medical Center, a Roman Catholic hospital. The Kennedys are Catholics.

Mrs. Kennedy was carried down the steps of her home on a stretcher.

The ambulance driver, Willard Baucon, said he overheard Mrs. Kennedy, who has a history of miscarriages, ask her doctor if she was going to lose the baby.

The driver said Dr. Walsh replied, "No, don't worry." Baucon said Mrs. Kennedy then began "smiling like a baby doll."

Mrs. Kennedy was taken to a fourth floor operating room in the hospital. The baby was delivered less than an hour later.

Kennedy's plane landed at Palm Beach at 12:23 a. m. His son was a minute old. Kennedy was told that his wife had been rushed to the hospital to have a baby.

Kennedy left his plane boarded the bigger and faster press plane that accompanies him on trips, and headed back to Washington. His plane left Palm Beach at 12:52 a.m. and arrived after a flight of about three hours.

At 2:50 a.m. attendants wheeled Mrs. Kennedy from the recovery room to her own room. A nurse reported that the president-elect's wife was cheerful, happy, and full of the usual questions a mother asks about a new baby.

A car with Secret Service agents followed the ambulance taking Mrs. Kennedy to the hospital. An agent stood in front of her hospital room at all times.

Mrs. Kennedy had remained in the Kennedy summer home at Hyannis Port, Mass., throughout most of the election campaign because of the expected birth.

After the election, Kennedy, his wife, and Caroline flew to Washington. Kennedy left them at the Georgetown home Nov. 11 and began his vacation in Florida.

He returned Wednesday night for a double celebration: Thanksgiving and Caroline's birthday.

Mrs. Kennedy is the former Jacqueline Bouvier, a daughter of the late John V. Bouvier III, a New York stockbroker. Her mother now is Mrs. Hugh D. Auchincloss.

Her mother and Auchincloss arrived at Georgetown Hospital Thursday night soon after Mrs. Kennedy did.

Kennedy, who stayed at the hospital 20 minutes, later told newsmen that he would remain in Washington for two weeks and then return to Palm Beach with his wife.

When attendants wheeled Mrs. Kennedy out of the delivery room, she smiled broadly. "Is he healthy? Does he look well? she asked nurses, receiving assuring nods.

Caroline also had been delivered by caesarean section.

Pierre Salinger, Kennedy's press secretary, said the baby was originaly expected Dec. 27

No More Homegrown Revolutions

A historian would shudder and stutter if challenged to name a completely homegrown revolution.

Social turmoil and political overthrow attract outsiders the way a chocolate cake attracts flies.

This fatal attraction is at the center of what could become of a major dispute over foreign policy in the United States.

This country is close to a position that Communists are behind every eruption of violence in Latin American politics and wherever there are Communists they are under the orders of Communist headquarters in Russia.

President Eisenhower's order putting the U.S. Navy on guard against possible invasions of Guatemala and Nicaragua said the threat of invasion was Communist. He called Cuba a "satellite of powerful Russia."

A U.S. note concerning Cuba's arming spelled out in detail munitions shipped to Cuba from inside the Iron Curtain. Cuba, it implied, is the overseas branch of the Soviet Union.

NO ROOM has been left for doubt that if Cubans interfere in any Latin American country, the United States intends to put the blame on Communist conspirators acting on orders from Moscow.

Peiping also has been indignant about the order to the U. S. Navy, and its indignation was expressed by Premier Chou En-lai during a speech in honor of Ernesto Guevara, the Cuban Communist, who was in Peiping for what purported to be trade negotiations.

The United States rejects the possibility that Cuba has self-determination. Its disenchantment with Fidel Castro as a bona fide revolutionist is complete. It believes Castro is a creature of the Communist Conspiracy and that the conspiracy is a creature of the Soviet Union.

Henceforth, under such a policy, the blame for each and every disturbance in Latin America must be placed where it is virtually certain to belong—at the feet of Communists who takes orders from Moscow.

BUT THIS POSITION being defined by the outgoing Eisenhower administration is not necessarily the position that will be taken by an incoming Kennedy administration.

Premier Khrushchev has said he has hopes of returning to the spirit of Franklin D. Roosevelt with Mr. Kennedy in the White House.

This may explain why Sen. Johnson, the incoming vice president, was sent to Paris to tell the meeting of North Atlantic Treaty Organization legislators that the new administration will stand by President Eisenhower's policies.

It would be a cruel setback if the United States were made to discard the benefit of so many hard-learned lessons and go back to the misconception that Russia is just another country, instead of the center of a continuous revolution aiming to overthrow every non-Communist government on earth.

Nothing Spoilsport About Election

It is to be regretted, now that the hairline closeness of the presidential election is a matter of record, that so many people were in such a hurry to settle the whole thing before they knew what they were doing.

Nothing is going to change the tendency among Americans to call the turn as soon as they think they detect a trend.

As far as elections are concerned, the tendency in recent years has been not to wait for the election at all but to let pollsters tell how the voting is going to turn out before the ballots are cast.

It is little wonder that on Election Day the prevailing attitude is that the whole thing has been wrapped up in advance and nothing remains to be known but the size of the package. It is even less wonder that while the votes are being counted there is an all-night cackle and gabble of guesswork based on one-tenth of one per cent of the precincts reporting in Outer Slobovia.

This is the same Chicken Little state of mind that manifests itself predictions that the sky is falling every time it sprinkles; that there is going to be an economic bust every time production pauses for consumption to catch up; that there is going to be Armageddon whenever Nikita Khrushchev beetles his brow.

There's nothing "spoilsport" about waiting until all the votes have been counted and the election returns certified to everybody's satisfaction before announcing the outcome of a national election.

In all but a handful of elections, the winner has had such a fat margin that no close counting was necessary. This is one of the exceptional years.

We thought Vice President Nixon was premature when he all but conceded in the early morning of Nov. 9. Sen. Kennedy showed good judgment in not making any claims before Mr. Nixon threw in the towel.

It is likely that the apparent outcome will still be the actual outcome, but it is not un-American to concede the possibility, after the switch in California, that reversals may be forthcoming in the rechecking of vote totals and in the "hard, close look" that is going to be made in close states.

Naturally, Kennedy voters are disappointed at the closeness of the vote. But they have no call to cry "Foul!"

It would be better, all things considered, if in the future everybody went to bed early the night of Election Day and the counting and tabulating were to be started methodically at 8 a.m. the next morning, continuing until a National Election Commission declared a winner.

In that event, we'd still be waiting.

Not Just One Goal

The Kiwanis Club learned Wednesday its recent series of four travelogues, sponsored to raise funds for youth service projects, netted about $150 after all expenses were paid.

While this is no insignificant profit, it will provide only a fraction of the club budget in that field.

But club members are not disappointed, nor should they be. Their travelogues brought a worthwhile series of entertaining and educating programs to East Liverpool, marking a greater success in another community service area.

Whatever support area residents give such service club efforts reflects not only upon the success of the club in meeting its duties but in financial backing of the particular project and the betterment of the community cultural level.

The Reality That Never Was

Experts, analysts, critics and technicians have said so much about soap operas on radio since they were spawned by the Great Depression that there's nothing left to say—except this:

The last of the daytime radio serials will leave the air the day after Thanksgiving. The soap opera idea, of course, now is going great suds in daytime television, so it will not be lost. It's only the radio era of misery and problems . . . problems . . . problems. . . that's ending.

How many million women—and men—are entitled to an unashamed gulp over the final end of something that meant so much? They never were concerned with the high-nosed criticism of privileged people who scorned such entertainment trivia. They enjoyed the soap operas for what they were—a reality that never was—a reality that could be turned on day by day and turned off by the clock—a substitute for the humdrum and boredom of existence that ran on without surcease.

Like the doggerel of Edgar Guest and the too-literal reproductions of landscapes and sunrises that pass for art among the unknowing, much of daytime radio sponsored by soap peddlers was trash, judged by the highest standards. But that was the catch.

It was not judged that way by millions who had nothing at stake but their pure enjoyment of something that relieved boredom. That was daytime radio's great service. It still is. Daytime television will go on with the "operas." As antidotes for boredom, nothing like them ever has been devised.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Jim Hagerty will come to ABC television system direct from valuable TV experience. He did eight years of "This is Your Potomac," "State of the Union," "Press Session Rumpus Room," "Celebrity Golf," "Capitol Quiz," "World Peace Or Bust," "Father Knows Best and "Edge of NYET."

He also ran a Washington "Candid Camera" show and used old movies, running "Abe Lincoln Sees It Through" and "Up San Juan Hill With Teddy Roosevelt" pretty often.

When Republicans needed a "whodunit" with a top role for a villian he ran "Truman & Consequences." Jim also delivered commercials for the GOP All-Purpose, Five-Way Global-Headache Pill and the Anti-Freeze Solution For Winterizing Republican Bandwagon.

Jim learned all there is to learn about cameras and airwave production of big events and in a way saw that the presidential press conferences didn't come under the head of low wrestling matches.

Hagerty is a capable showman and did much to make many of Ike's fireside chats "The Play of the Week." Should he take a hand in ABC's Westerns he would do well. He was always as close to Ike as a deputy to a frontier marshal, ready to leap in whenever the President was in danger.

There were episodes in which he seemed to be wearing cowboy costume and showing he was quick on the draw. There was constant roughage on the Potomac frontier. Jim would be a hit on ABC horse opera if he adopted a Gary Cooper manner and learned to say "YEP."

HARVARD HAD JACK KENNEDY and the new administration on its side in the grid battle with Yale, but team didn't follow his "We must go forward" appeal.

Laos, after accepting millions from Uncle Sam, now announces it will welcome financial aid from Red China and Moscow. ("Money yes! Appreciation, no!")

A test in 1,357 high schools showed few pupils could come close to spelling simple words correctly or completing a fifteen-word sentence without an error. How can the kids bother with spelling and grammar when they have to put in so much time keeping the auto in shape for the half-mile trip to and from school?

McClellan Committee will probe Jimmy Hoffa again. It still thinks Hoffa is not unbeatable when up against the U.S. government.

Looks like Uncle Sam had at last decided not to let Castro kick him around by invitation.

New 'Labor Martyr' Case Looms

By Victor Riesel

Almost unnoticed, a new "Sacco-Venzetti" case is stalking John F. Kennedy into the White House. It will take a latter day Solomon to solve this problem for the new administration. Involved are eight imprisoned men — who were popular leaders of a union long active in New Deal political campaigns.

Victor Riesel

These men, officials of the Textile Workers Union of America, have been in North Carolinas Central Prison at Raleigh for a few weeks. Now they are being dispatched to state work camps. From these compounds they are moved, shackled and guarded, into road gangs almost daily.

One of the eight is an organizer extremely popular inside labor. He is Boyd E. Payton, TWUA vice president, now swinging a pick and shovel on the highway.

THERE ARE SEVEN other textile union officers jailed along with Payton, who was the union's director for the Carolinas until he and his colleagues surrendered four weeks ago to serve terms ranging from two to 10 years.

Payton, a friend of most of labors national chiefs, could serve as many as seven to eight years on the road gang. These are the heaviest prison sentences to hit labor officials in years.

The charge was conspiracy to dynamite installations of the Henderson Mills, Henderson, N. C. The strike there went into its third year last week. There was no explosion.

No explosion, that is, except on the part of the textile workers who have been attempting to get a pardon from Gov. Luther M. Hodges, whose term expires at year's end.

Gov. Hodges, it has been unofficially "announced," will be John F. Kennedy's secretary of commerce. Until the Henderson strike he was high in labor's esteem. He started as a mill worker, himself.

Later, as an industrialist, he was one of the first in the Carolinas to encourage collective bargaining with the TWUS.

UNTIL THE NIGHT before the eight labor men surrendered to Central Prison, the national union leaders hoped for a word of evecutive clemency from Gov. Hodges. It didn't come.

There were harsh words that night at the farewell dinner in the Vance Hotel, Henderson, N. C. Two men high in national labor councils, William Pollack, union president, and the equally influential president emeritus, Emil Rieve (one of the founders of CIO), privately denounced the governor.

It was their opinion that the eight men were being punished more for union activity than for violation of the law. It was pointed out that there had been no dynamiting.

Boyd Payton, it was said, was an active church lay leader — and now is organizing Sunday School classes in his prison camp.

Efforts were made to contact Hodges but he had left with the governors' group for Latin America. Then came word that President-elect John Kennedy would name Hodges secretary of commerce.

Soon former CIO leaders, Walter Reuther and Jim Carey, as well as Arthur Goldberg, were asked to contact Sen. Kennedy or his close advisers to intervene with the incoming Cabinet member.

Slowly behind the scenes there began to build up sentiment for a national fight which would make "labor martyrs" of the eight in campaigns reminiscent of the Mooney and Billings and Sacco-Venzetti cases.

A FEW DAYS ago the textile workers met. They called on all unions to start public drives for the freedom of the Carolina eight.

The TWUA chiefs asked their colleagues to make this the first order of business at all "future conventions."

Slowly the embarrassing spectre of a Sacco-Vanzetti cause celebre is beginning to loom over the labor scene and may stalk noisily through the early days of the new presidency.

Purely Personal

By Truman Twill

Everybody thought it would be nice when the election was over and people talked about something besides politics. But the talk is still about politics, and the election isn't over—and if it were what would we talk about? Castro?

The common idea that holidays always have been observed the way they are observed now is a misconception. Thanksgiving was an in-and-out affair until 100 years ago. Many families paid no attention to Christmas as recently as 50 years ago. Independence Day was not on July 4 and Memorial Day is ignored in many of the states that never were reconciled to the loss of the Civil War.

I shall not hear a funnier remark than the football fan in front of me who looked up a doll wearing one of those bushy fur hats and said, "Haven't you heard, lady? A little dab will do ya."

I have had more satisfaction than usual this year chiding people about Indian Summer. For the record, so there can be no future misunderstanding, this was the year of the perfect Indian Summer—the beautiful weather that occurred after the first snowfall.

Yale beat Harvard this year 39-6 and ran up 43 points against Princeton the preceding week. This sort of thing happens all the time in the de-emphasized football of the famous Ivy League, where teams become strong only by accident. This has been Yale's "strong year."

Whenever I feel smug about the occupation of being a scrivener, I recall instances I have known personally in which people who went off their rockers revealed the crackup by the illusion they were writers. They produced yards of nonsense-scribbling, which they sent to the hometown paper. Where else?

Instead of surprising me, the chief knitter in our establishment has let it slip out that the object she is knitting is a helmet of a type she specialized in knitting during World War II and that it's for me. I am overjoyed. I need it. And all the time I thought she was knitting a wool football!

In my lifetime I have learned three things that put people on a common footing—ownership of the same kind of an imported car, the same kind of a domestic-made tractor and the custody and care of goats.

The funniest prose being written in the newspaper business is by Art Buchwald, who can crack it off whether on his ordinary beat in Paris or back home covering a presidential election. His paper is the New York Herald Tribune.

Last time I looked the indefatigable pansies in the garden, planted last May, were still blooming exuberantly. That was a week after Election Day.

Through The Years

THIRTY YEARS AGO — Church services, the annual East Liver-Wellsville football game and holiday bills in the theaters featured the observance of Thanksgiving day here.

Safety-Service Director John W. Moore wrote to ambulance owners in East Liverpool, Wellsville, Midland and Chester advising them that reckless driving charges would be filed against drivers who violated traffic regulations by driving through red lights.

TWENTY YEARS AGO — The Wellsville Volunteer Fire Department purchased a $4,000 truck, paid for in part by funds from the homecoming festival and other projects.

Elmer Savage was named worshipful master of Wellsville Masonic Lodge 180.

TEN YEARS AGO — The worst snowstorm on record paralyzed the district.

The Rev. F. Eppling Reinartz, secretary of the United Lutheran Church of America at New York and a native of East Liverpool, spoke at St. John's Evangelical Lutheran Church and the First Presbyterian Church here.

The New York State Throughway, which is 474 miles long, is the longest toll highway in the United States.

Public Notice

The principle of giving public notice through "legal advertising" is well accepted in the United States. Hundreds of laws in the codes of the 50 states, as well as numerous local ordinances providing for such publication, attest to this fact.

A public official who fails or neglects to carry out the intent of the law in such matters may lay himself open to a charge of nonfeasance. Similarly a person who in some private capacity is supposed to give notice and does not do so may deprive some other individuals of their legal right to be put on notice concerning something that affects them.

Occasionally an ordinance or a law may provide that a public notice be published by title only. Actually this is rare and is objected to on the ground that while this is a notice of sorts, it is sufficient and inadequate notice. This would be true especially of a proposed action where the title might include ". . . and for other purposes," the "other purposes" not being spelled out.

The argument usually given for suggested the occasional publication of notices by title only is that it still serves the general purpose and is more economical. Neither reason is sound when weighed against the basic reason for public notices, namely, to inform the public where its rights are affected.

At best publication by title is only half a loaf or less.

'Preventive' Situation

By William L. Ryan

Ominous Aspect Of Soviet-Red Chinese Rift

Here is an ominous aspect of the Soviet-Red Chinese quarrel: It could result in World War III, and Moscow seems to be preparing for the possibility.

Soviet propaganda makes much of the term peace, but at the same time it seems to be actively conditioning the minds of people in Red-ruled lands for the possibility of a preventive war against the United States.

The suspicion is reinforced by the statement of Premier Khrushchev Wednesday to Pravda on the subject of disarmament. Historically, Communist leaders have accused others of planning what, in fact, has been in their own minds.

Khrushchev accused the West of duplicity in disarmament talks, of steadily building up nuclear weapons stockpiles and of constant provocations and spying against the U.S.S.R. All this, said Khrushchev, could enable the United States to "choose the suitable moment for dealing their blow and starting an aggression."

Taken by itself, this might not appear too menacing. But this sort of thing has been publicized time and again by Soviet propaganda ever since last May, when Khrushchev, using the U2 plane incident as his excuse, was preparing to blow up the Paris summit conference.

Since then Khrushchev has given the impression that the appearance of a single U.S. plane or submarine in Soviet air or waters will be considered a military invasion—in a word, an aggression which could be answered with a big preventive blow.

Some Western experts express belief the Kremlin is engaged in a psychological buildup to justify a preventive attack should that, to the Kremlin's way of thinking, become necessary.

In Munich, Germany, experts of the institute for study of the U.S.S.R. say they detect such a trend. Hammering propaganda for six months has been keyed to an antispy mania, to hatred and distrust of Americans, to picturing the United States and West Germany, in that order, as real and present menaces to the Soviet population.

One method of psychological buildup, says the institute, is an attempt to reproduce in Russia the mood of World War II, through glorification of the armed forces and constant appeals for vigilance and defense readiness.

Red China insists upon the letter of Leninist dogma: That war between the two world camps must come. The Chinese say it must not be feared, that Communists must not hesitate, regardless of risks, to expand at every opportunity.

Manifestly, this worries Khrushchev, who has contended that while communism would win, there would be little left after nuclear war on either side.

Khrushchev could lose the argument and be toppled in favor of a group more receptive to the Chinese idea. Desperation could lead to that, if an entrenched hierarchy should see in the developing argument a real threat to its continued sway over the Soviet Union and the world Communist movement.

Khrushchev has played for time, and won some time in the Communist summit which began Nov. 9 in Moscow. He is still on a spot. The dissidents—Red Chinese and those agreeing with them—will watch carefully as Khrushchev approaches the new U. S. administration.

It is possible Khrushchev will win out, and 1961 will be just another nerve-wracking cold war year. It is possible also that he will lose, and 1961 will be the most dangerous year of the cold war era.

Political Murder

By Godfrey Anderson

PARIS

In France where much of the press hesitates to run afoul of the regime, one capricious weekly publication is getting away with political murder.

And—thus far at least—no one has done anything about it.

The more serious weeklies have been in trouble time and again for what they have published, especially about the politically explosive Algerian war.

Some have been seized. Writers and cartoonists have been haled into court on charges ranging from attacking state security to "offending" President de Gaulle.

But, except for it being seized a few times on arrival in Algeria, no one has yet laid hands on "Le Canard Enchaine."

"The Chained Duck" was founded in 1915 as a protest against the brain-washing that soldiers and civilians were undergoing in the heavily censored press during World War I. In French the word canard, besides meaning a duck, is a slang term both for rumors and for newspapers.

THE ORIGINAL Canard Enchaine died after a few issues, but it was started again in 1917. Since then it has run an unbroken course, except during the Nazi occupation of World War II, when it prudently suspended publication.

Today, with a circulation of 260,000, it is widely read among teachers, lawyers, doctors, army officers, civil servants — and, of course, politicians. Its needle-sharp ridiculing of the nation's rulers does not go over with the workers, who possibly fail to grasp its subtleties.

Anti-militarist (although not necessarily pacifist), the Canard pokes fun impartially at everyone, however exalted his position. It is bitterly destructive of whatever exists, but seldom has anything constructive to propose in its place.

Its current most popular feature is titled "La Cour" (The Court) and is an 18th-century style chronicle of the week's events around the "monarch" in the Elysee Palace.

Charles de Gaulle, in wig and regal robes, is shown in the guise of Louis XIV, haughtily receiving homage from his prime minister, Michel Debre, and others. A duck —the duck of the Canard Enchaine —perches insolently on the train of his ermine-trimmed robe.

DE GAULLE is referred to as "the King" and the French people as his "subjects." Debre appears as "le petit Prince", former Premier Antoine Pinay (who is believed to have aspirations to succeed de Gaulle) as "the Dauphin" and former Premier Guy Mollet as "the Sous-Dauphin" (Deputy Crown Prince).

Mme. de Gaulle emerges, strangest of all, as Madame de Maintenant — an obvious allusion to Madame de Maintenon, who was governess to Louis XIV's children and later secretly married him. The original Madame de Maintenon, say historians, had great influence over her husband, the King, and was noted for her piety.

Premier Debre — whom the Canard also refers to disrespectfully as "L'Amer Michel" (Poor Mike) —almost always comes off badly when the paper's artists get to work.

He is often presented as a lackey or valet de chambre, sometimes handing de Gaulle his slippers on a silver tray. One sketch, during de Gaulle's visit to New York, showed the chief of state reflectively shining his own boots.

"Sometimes I miss Debre," the caption read.

But, despite it all, the Canard has never been seized by the authorities.

One reason for this possibly is the impartiality with which it attacks everyone. Although the victims seldom like what it says about them, they can get a laugh when it attacks their enemies.

Again, the Canard has a way of hedging its most outrageous statements — which may often have a considerable basis of truth — with disarming comments like: "But, of course, no one could really believe such base calumnies. . ."

THAT MAKES it difficult for the person attacked to go to court and say his friends believe it.

"Besides," said a Canard editor recently, "can you imagine the face of a judge reading from the Canard Enchaine in open court? No one could take the case seriously."

The Canard Enchaine is produced by a small team of five French journalists with plenty of outside help from anonymous correspondents spotted throughout every field of public life.

The five meet every Friday in the bistro "Au Vieux Saumur", just down the street from their office near the Bourse. Over luncheon they discuss the week's events and plot the line of attack for the next issue.

The paper is printed across town in the plant of the Paris edition of the New York Herald Tribune. It appears on Wednesdays.

"So long as the Canard still goes on, you can be sure there's nothing really much wrong with France," one Frenchman said as he bought his copy from a street kiosk last week.

Odd Facts

New York City has more office space than all the office buildings in Chicago, Philadelphia, San Francisco, Los Angeles, Cleveland, Detroit, Washington, Houston, and Pittsburgh combined, the total office space exceeding 85 million square feet. In Manhattan alone, during the past 13 years, 116 new office buildings have been erected — the additional office space being more than the total office space in Chicago, the nation's second largest city.

Most new railroad passenger cars are 85 feet long, but on some lines they vary from 60 to 88 feet.

Mother, Son Doing Fine

President-Elect All Smiles When He Learns Of Baby

WASHINGTON (AP)—At 1:05 a. m. Eastern Standard Time today the grim look on President-elect John F. Kennedy's face changed to a happy smile. He had just been advised, "It's a boy and that mother and child were doing fine."

The word came dramatically, flashed to the 43-year-old husband by radio aboard a chartered plane racing him back to Washington from Palm Beach, Fla.

Announcement of the birth, a caesarean about three weeks ahead of schedule, touched off a rousing round of cheers and applause by Kennedy staff members, secret service agents and newsmen making the flight with the president-elect.

Kennedy, occupying a forward compartment with two aides, came to the door in shirt sleeves and waved and smiled to the well wishers. Then, he settled back to await further radio bulletins from Georgetown University Hospital in Washington.

The word that kept coming was good and the man who will take over the presidency Jan. 20 kept smiling.

A bit earlier, he had been through a hectic 45 minutes.

This is the way it all developed:

Thursday night at 7:55 p. m. he left his Georgetown home here for the airport after spending Thanksgiving with his wife, Jacqueline, 31, and their daughter, Caroline. The little girl will be three on Sunday but the birthday was celebrated Thursday because her father expected to be in Palm Beach, on the anniversary.

When the president-elect took off for Florida at 8:20 p. m. there was no indication that Mrs. Kennedy, who has had two miscarriages, would be rushed to the hospital about two hours later.

Aboard his two-engine private plane, the Caroline, Kennedy worked for a while on mail and a sheaf of documents, then wandered forward to chat for a few minutes with this reporter and three other newsmen traveling with him.

Kennedy had just had a snack of soup, pie and milk, and he strolled off to his private compartment at the rear of the plane, closed the door and apparently took a nap.

A minute or two after the plane touched down at the West Palm Beach Airport, and while still rolling to a halt, pilot Howard Baird received a message that the president-elect was wanted on the telephone as soon as he got on the ground.

Pierre Salinger, Kennedy's press secretary, told newsmen on the way back to Washington that the president-elect didn't know his wife had been taken to the hospital until he reached the foot of the ramp.

There, he got the word from Kenneth O'Donnell, an aide, that Salinger had a phone open in the terminal building to the hospital.

The crowd on hand at the airport to greet Kennedy applauded as he left his plane. He acknowledged the greeting with a wave and then strode rapidly a couple hundred feet to the phone Salinger had opened.

By this time, reports were circulating that Mrs. Kennedy had been taken to the hospital. Salinger appeared in a moment and confirmed this, and announced that the president-elect was returning to Washington immediately.

When Kennedy got off the phone, his face had a serious look but he appeared composed. A reporter asked about his wife's condition. Kennedy replied: He had talked to the floor nurse in charge and had been advised that Mrs. Kennedy was at the moment undergoing a caesarean section.

He said he had no more information.

Actually, the baby had been born minutes before but this word hadn't reached the nurse.

Kennedy then walked to his own plane, conferred with the pilot and then decided to return to the capital aboard the chartered four-engine DC6 which had brought most of the party from Washington.

The reason: It was a faster plane and didn't need much refueling.

Kennedy went aboard and into the forward compartment as the plane was speedily serviced. About 40 others also piled back on or transferred from the smaller Caroline.

The plane was airborne at 12:54 a.m., 31 minutes after Kennedy had landed.

Eleven minutes after takeoff, the Palm Beach Airport tower crackled the airwaves with a message that Mrs. Kennedy had given birth to a boy and that both were all right. The pilot relayed it quickly to the president-elect.

Kennedy bounded to his feet, moved forward to the cockpit, slipped the radio earphones on and had the message repeated.

Then Salinger got on the plane's public address system and made this announcement at 1:07 a. m.

"We have just been advised by radio that Mrs. Kennedy has given birth to a boy and that both mother and baby are doing well."

And that, Salinger added, was the only information then available.

Then came the big burst of applause and cheers.

"What did he have to say about the news?" a reporter asked Salinger.

"He just smiled," the press secretary said.

Prayer On Thanksgiving Day Answered For Trapped Boy

GILROY, Calif. (AP) — A Thanksgiving Day prayer was answered for the safety of a 2-year-old boy trapped in a narrow hole at a motel for nearly four hours.

When Todd Duncan, who had run off in midday to play with a brother, tumbled into a hole eight feet deep and only 14 inches across, his parents feared the worst.

Five hours later, however, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin E. Duncan of Gardena, Calif., prepared for a joyous turkey feast. And Todd was tucked in bed, his dirty face washed and his tummy full of turkey.

"We had a minute of thanks at our meal. We normally do in our family. But this time it had much more meaning," said Todd's father.

Duncan, 32, an electrical engineer, had anxiously stood over his trapped son, peering into the hole and talking to him while rescuers worked. The hole had been dug for a concrete foundation shaft for a new building.

Todd cried intermittently and almost fell asleep at one point.

Mrs. Duncan, 30, waited at the nearby home of her mother, Ida Jackson, with their three other small children.

Rescue crews, administering oxygen and using heavy equipment, drilled a three-foot hole near Todd. Then they burrowed across, reached below his waist and pulled him up.

9 Awards Given At Cub Program

Nine awards were presented at the meeting of Cub Pack 31 of the Orchard Grove Community Methodist Church Wednesday night. They were:

William Hocking, Curt Finley, Ray Buxton and John Martin, one-year pins; Finley and Hocking, wolf pins, and Martin, wolf rank and pin; Malcolm Ogilvie, bear rank, and John Wilker, Webelos rank.

The meeting opened with a flag ceremony and Pledge of Allegiance led by Donald Barns, Keith Clark, Alvin Talkington and Jerry Badgley. Michael D. Rolley and Harper Farish were initiated into the pack and presented bobcat rank and pins.

James Myler, cubmaster; Richard Crowder, Webelos chief, and Keith Myler presented a skit in honor of John Wilker's graduation to the Boy Scouts. Myler gave an Indian dance narrated by Crowder. Wilker was accepted into Troop 31 by Barry Badgley, scoutmaster.

Robert Gray, executive of the Columbiana Boy Scout Council; Fred Yountz, neighborhood commissioner, and Frank Hopper, chairman, were guests.

Until 1955 Wales had no capital city. Then Home Secretary Gwilym Lloyd-George, son of former British Prime Minister David Lloyd-George, announced Cardiff as the Welsh capital.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I make a king-sized ashtray for my workshop?

A. Use an empty coffee tin. Make a lip for the cigarette or cigar by snipping two two-inch slits down from the top and bending out the cut section. Double over the sharp edge. Water or sand in the bottom of the tin will extinguish the smoke and weight the "tray."

Q. How can I make a remedy for a sore throat?

A. At the first symptoms of a sore throat, try gargling with a solution of one teaspoonful of salt and one teaspoonful of carbonate of soda in a half glass of water.

Q. How can I remove paint and putty stains from window glass?

A. Use a wet cloth dipped in baking soda and rub over the glass. After fifteen minutes, wash with warm water without soap, then rub until dry and polish.

Accidental Discharge Of Gun Wounds Hunter

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—A shotgun accidentally discharged today wounding a 58-year-old hunter.

Clifford Bowers, of Sylvania, was putting his shotgun into the back seat of his car when it discharged. The blast struck him in the abdomen.

Bowers was in serious condition at St. Charles Hospital.

Badly Burned Girl, 4, Being Eyed Closely

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Peggy Roller, the badly burned little girl to whom three Army sergeants gave skin grafts, is holding her own but "we are watching her closely," a spokesman at the Army's Brooke General Hospital said today.

The three sergeants — M. Sgt. William M. Goodloe, 45, of Earlington, Ky.; Sgt. 1.C. Earl D. Bieler, 26, of Machias, Maine, and Sgt. 1.C. Harold S. Orff of Milo, Maine—are recovering from the operation. They watched football games on television Thursday and had a Thanksgiving dinner of turkey with all the trimmings.

Peggy, 4, is the daughter of Maj. and Mrs. Harry N. Roller of El Paso, Tex. She was flown here after a fire at her home Nov. 16 which seared 51 per cent of her body and burned off her hair. Her parents said she may have been playing with matches.

In a two-hour operation Wednesday doctors took 128 square inches of skin from a thigh of each of the sergeants and grafted it to the burned parts of the girl's body.

Doctors hoped the skin grafts will protect Peggy from infection until her bodyis strong enough to replace the damaged flesh. They said the skin grafts were her only chance for survival.

Patrolman, 39, Is Found Dead Of Shotgun Blast

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — Elwood Ressler, 39, a patrolman at Meander Reservoir, was found dead this morning of a shotgun blast in his chest.

A nephew, Joseph Smith of Youngstown, found Ressler at 4:45 a. m. lying face up in a barn next to the dead man's home on the Warren-Salem Road. The nephew told police he had awakened to do some chores, and after being unable to find Ressler in the house, went to the barn. Lying near Ressler's body was a single-shot 12-gauge shotgun.

The patrolman was involved in another shooting recently.

Ressler shot and wounded an Austintown boy, Roger Herrall, 17, on Nov. 14 at the reservoir.

The Herrall boy was in a boat on the reservoir. The patrolman said he had ordered the youth to come ashore, then fired a warning shotgun blast over Herrall's head. Ressler told police the youth reached into the boat as if to grab a gun.

Ressler said he then fired at the boy, wounding him.

Herrall was taken to a Youngstown hospital, where he now is listed in fair condition.

As a result of the shooting, the boy's father filed a charge of assault with intent to kill against Ressler. He had been bound over to the grand jury.

The dead man is a son of Earl A. Ressler, Mahoning County game protector.

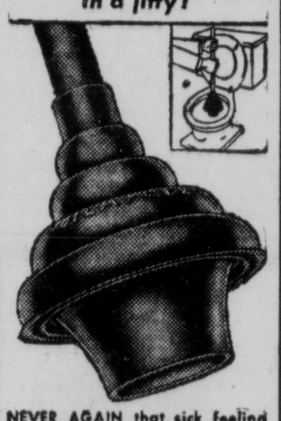

Grateful Man Gives His Turkey To Firemen

BELLEVILLE, N.J. (AP)—Ross Fulmore was so grateful to the 60 firemen who spent three hours extinguishing a blaze at his house that he gave them his Thanksgiving turkey.

Then Fulmore, his wife, and eight relatives went to a restaurant for their own meal.

The fire broke out as the Fulmores were sitting down for dinner.

The party will be held at the home of Mrs. William Erlitz of Phoenix Ave.

Mrs. Maxine Burch of the East Liverpool Garden Club gave a demonstration of flower arrangements and Christmas decorations.

Mrs. Ruth Mack, president, presided.

Scholarship Fund Lists Distributed For West Virginia

CHARLESTON (AP) — State American Legion officials have begun distribution, to county school superintendents, of a book they believe will help young West Virginians planning to enter college.

The publication, "Need A Lift?", outlines all known scholarship funds available to high school students in a wide range of vocations.

Arthur E. Rezzonico, chairman of the state department's education and scholarship committee, called the handbook "probably the most complete book on scholarships published anywhere."

Robert E. Lester, state commander, noted that many college scholarships go unawarded each year because high school students do not know about them.

"It is our purpose to advise every potential college student in West Virginia of these scholarships," he said.

Teacher Has Perfect Attendance At Wedding

LANCASTER, Pa. (AP)—Demonstration can be so exciting that M. Kathleen Kendig, a kindergarten teacher, had perfect attendance by her pupils Thursday at her marriage to Donald G. Herr in Emmanuel Lutheran church.

The bride explained that she had tried to tell her 35 pupils about her wedding plans, but they hadn't understood.

So she decided to show them. As the day approached, she said, they became a lot more excited about the wedding than she did.

LISBON — Navy fireman David P. VanNewKirk, son of Mr. and Mrs. Irvin VanNewKirk of R. D. 3 is serving on the guided missile light cruiser Topeka operating out of Long Beach, Calif.

Janet R. Roosa Of Beaver Weds Attorney Of Midland

Miss Janet Ruth Roosa, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lester R. Roosa of Beaver, became the bride of Atty. Ralph R. Scalera, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dominic J. Scalera, 621 Beaver Ave., Midland, Saturday at noon in the St. Peter and Paul Catholic Church in Beaver.

Fr. John B. Corbett, assistant pastor at the Presentation Catholic Church, performed the double-ring ceremony before an altar decorated with vases of white mums and ferns. Jo Ann Samchuck of Rochester, organist, played the nuptial music during the ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was attired in a white gown of peau de faille and re-embroidered Alencon lace fashioned with a Basque bodice, bateau neckline trimmed with lace appliques and sprinkled with clusters of seed pearls and long tapered sleeves.

The bouffant skirt, softly pleated at the waistline, ended in a court train. Her fingertip veil of French illusion was held in place with a small open center cap of solid Alencon lace. She carried a bouquet of white orchids and lilies of the valley. She observed the traditional bridal customs.

Mrs. Harold A. Leonard Jr. of West Bridgewater, sister of the bridegroom, was the matron of honor and wore a gown of midnight blue velvet chiffon with matching accessories and carried a bouquet of pale yellow Fuji mums.

Dr. Benjamin F. MacDonald of Hartford, Conn., a Harvard University classmate of the bridegroom, was best man and the ushers were Dr. Dominic J. Scalera Jr. of Cocoa, Fla., brother of the bridegroom; Joseph W. Muldoon of Brentwood, Anthony T. Lozzi of Midland and Harold A. Leonard Jr. of West Bridgewater, brothers-in-law of the bridegroom, and Theodore Castelli of Midland.

MRS. R. F. SCALERA
Her Nuptials Held Saturday.

The bride's mother wore a royal blue frock with Navy blue accessories and the bridegroom's mother was attired in a Dior blue crepe frock with bone white accessories. Both wore corsages of white carnations.

The bridal table was centered with a four-tier wedding cake topped with a miniature bridal couple. The reception, for about 500 guests, was held at the Beaver Valley Country Club. A rehearsal dinner was held at the home of the bridegroom's parents.

Prenuptial parties were given by Mrs. Nicholas H. Krayer, Mrs. Horace J. Thomas, III, Mrs. Paul Vochko, Mrs. David Mengel and Mrs. Leonard Jr.

The bride is a graduate of Allegheny General Hospital School of Nursing and attended Geneva College and her husband is a graduate of Harvard University and the University of Pennsylvania Law School and is assistant U. S. attorney for Western Pennsylvania.

The couple left for a Southern wedding trip.

Brandt Chosen As Candidate For Chancellor Post

HANNOVER, Germany (AP) — The Social Democrats today unanimously acclaimed West Berlin Mayor Willy Brandt as their candidate for chancellor, to run on the most pro-Western platform the party has ever framed.

The mayor, 47, was designated months ago by leading Socialists to be chancellor if the party wins next year's national election.

The party's platform, called the Hannover Appeal, and additional party resolutions put the Socialists firmly on the side of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization and even opened the way for Socialist approval of atomic arms for the army.

This is a major shift in policy for the Socialists. For years they have criticized the position-of-strength program of Chancellor Konrad Adenauer and his Christian Democratic Union. In the past the Social Democrats have fought rearmament of West Germany, the draft, and any indication that the government would accept a possible NATO offer of atomic weapons.

Socialist resolutions and speeches left no doubt that they still do not like these military steps, but hard facts have brought them to accept a party platform that greatly narrows the foreign policy gap between the Socialists and the Christian Democrats.

DiSalle's High School Class Slates Reunion

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. Michael V. DiSalle's high school class will hold its annual reunion Saturday in the executive mansion.

He expects to entertain at least half the 75 members of Toledo Central Catholic High School's class of 1925 with their wives and husbands.

Next June, the governor's law school class of 1931 at Georgetown University, Washington, will hold its reunion at the mansion. The reunion is held every five years.

DiSalle taught commercial law for two years at Toledo Central after graduation from Georgetown.

DiSalle To Suspend Roads Figure Today

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A right-of-way appraiser for the State Highway Department in the Youngstown area will be suspended today, Gov. Michael V. DiSalle announced.

The governor did not identify the person involved. But he confirmed that the matter involves alleged illegal sale of plumbing fixtures from houses purchased by the state because they lie in the way of proposed highway routes.

Tree Planting Set In Beaver

Plans for distribution of 350,000 tree seedlings to landowners in Butler, Beaver and Lawrence Counties are being made by William H. Gaugers, service forester of the Pennsylvania Department of Forests and Waters at Mercer.

Seedlings will be trucked fresh from the Department forest tree nursery at Pennfield, Clearfield County, to Butler County where they will be picked up by applicants.

Distribution will be made from the Butler County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation office, just east of the Veterans' Hospital on Route 422.

Any farmer or landowner with unused or unproductive acreage may apply for state seedlings provided at $7 per 1,000 and delivered to the county, or $6 at the nursery.

A variety of seedlings suitable for planting in this area include white pine, red pine, Austrian pine, Norway spruce, white spruce, Japanese larch, European larch, red oak, black locust and tulip poplar. Multiflora rose is available in lots of 250 at the same rate as seedlings. Chinese chestnut are 25 cents each.

Tree seedling production may be utilized for forest products such as pulpwood, fence posts, fuel or timber, but not for ornamental, nursery or Christmas tree purposes.

Advantages of county delivery are a saving in total cost to the purchaser, fresher trees and the opportunity to obtain advice from department representatives when the trees are called for. Trees were previously shipped COD via Railway Express.

Complete advice on methods of planting, cost reimbursement, species and applications are available from Gauger, 104 S. Erie St., Mercer, or County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation offices.

Deadline for ordering is Feb. 15.

Capacity Crowds Reported

Union Service Audiences Provide Offering Of $400

A total offering of over $400 was received at the union Thanksgiving services in East Liverpool district churches Thursday. Capacity crowds attended.

The downtown service was held at the First Church of Christ, of which John N. Mostoller is minister. The Rev. Albert Rodenhausen, pastor of the First Baptist Church, preached on "Thanksgiving Glow."

About $116 was received and will be turned over to the East Liverpool Ministerial Association for its general fund.

At the Second United Presbyterian Church, with the Rev. Emanuel ~~Emanuel~~ Emanuel as pastor, about 350 attended with 6 churches participating. The Rev. Edward J. Phinn of the Grace United Presbyterian Church was guest speaker.

An offering of approximately $90 was received by the American Leprosy Mission.

About 200 attended the service at the Chester Westminster United Presbyterian Church, of which the Rev. William Claghorn is pastor. The Rev. Milo Smith of the Free Methodist Church was guest speaker. An offering of about $80 was received and part will be given to the East Liverpool Rescue Mission and part to the Chester Ministerial Association for its general fund.

At the Newell Church of the Nazarene, the Rev. Charles Haddock, pastor of the Presbyterian Church, spoke on "Thanksgiving is Thanksgiving." The Rev. O. F. Haynes is pastor. About 150 attended and an offering of approximately $42 was received for community work.

Some 300 attended the service held at the Wellsville Central Methodist Church. The Rev. William Hewitt is pastor. The Rev. William Carswell of the First Baptist Church was the guest speaker. An offering of about $80 was received and will be turned over to the general fund of the Wellsville Ministerial Association.

EAST PALESTINE — About 225 attended the union Thanksgiving service Thursday at the Covenant Presbyterian Church. The Rev. William R. Robb, pastor, was in charge. Special music was provided. A total of $97 was collected for CROP—the rural overseas aid program.

Skies Are Sunny For Thanksgiving

Skies were sunny for East Liverpool's observance of Thanksgiving as the mercury rose to a cool but comfortable 46 degrees for the day's high. Frost was "on the pumpkin" for a crisp start of the holiday with a sub-freezing 28 as the night's low reported at Dam. 7.

It was an unusually quiet holiday for East Liverpool police, who recorded two minor auto mishaps and two arrests — one for a traffic violation and another for intoxication.

Area holiday travel was relatively light, according to traffic reports from the State Highway Patrol at Lisbon and the Pennsylvania State Police posts at Rochester and Carnegie, who said there were no Thursday mishaps.

2 Minor Mishaps Mar City Traffic

Only two minor mishaps marred traffic in East Liverpool Wednesday night, police said.

A collision on the Lisbon St. Hill Wednesday at 11:37 p. m. damaged 1957 sedans driven by Dorothy Mae Glynn, 36, of Cannons Mills and Albert E. Zockell, 52, of 1913 Lisbon St., officers said.

The woman driver was upbound and the local man was downbound. Each accused the other of crossing the center line on a curve, police said. The mishap damaged the left front bumper and headlight rim of the woman's car and the entire left side of the local man's auto, police said.

Meanwhile, Francis L. Pickens of Marion told police a rented car which he parked on the Pennsylvania Ave. "Hill Rd." Thursday night was damaged by a hit-skip vehicle. The 1960 sedan is owned by the Hertz Rent-A-Car agency of Mansfield, Pickens said.

Pickens said he parked the auto on the "Hill Rd." about 360 feet west of State St. at 10:30 p. m. Wednesday. When he returned at midnight he found it had been sideswiped, Pickens said.

Court Increases Bond In Man's Assault Case

Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff today allowed a continuance until Wednesday at 9 a. m. in an assault and battery charge against Gordon Reynolds, of Negley, but upped the defendant's bond from $81 to $200.

The charge against Reynolds was filed by Beverly Springer, 314 Market St., alleging he "assaulted and struck" her on Nov. 16. Reynolds appeared for a hearing this morning, but the attorney whom he said he engaged Wednesday night was not present.

The judge allowed the continuance to assure that the defendant will have counsel. Reynolds had been free on an $81 bond, but the judge ordered the surety raised to $200.

Judges-Elect To Alternate In 2 Counties

The two judges-elect of the 1st Judicial Circuit have announced they plan to alternate their assignments in Brooke and Hancock Counties.

Under the plan, Ralph E. Pryor, now Brooke County prosecutor, will preside in Hancock County and James G. McClure, Wheeling attorney, will conduct court in Brooke County for the first two years of their terms beginning Jan. 1. Both will serve Ohio County Circuit Court.

At the end of the first two years of their eight-year terms, the two men plan to alternate assignments and continue that policy every two years thereafter.

They defeated Judges J. H. Brennan and J. I. O'Brien in the election Nov. 7 for the three-county posts.

Salineville Prisoner Taken To Reformatory

LISBON — Gerald Edward Raffle, 23, of Salineville was taken to the Mansfield Reformatory today by Deputy Robert Berresford to serve a 1-20-year sentence for auto theft imposed by Common Pleas Court.

Raffle was indicted by the January Grand Jury, pleaded guilty and received probation, but violated the terms of his probation twice and was sentenced by Judge Raymond S. Buzzard.

Baby

adorable. He's wiggling. He has a shock of black hair."

Kennedy, soon after returning to Washington, was driven to the Georgetown Medical Center.

He beamed happily as he looked at his son through a heavy glass window. The baby lay in an incubator in the premature baby room. He'll be there a day or two —normal procedure for a caesarean cases.

After watching his son, Kennedy spent eight or nine minutes with his wife and then left the hospital. He planned to get some sleep at his Georgetown home and return to the hospital by noon.

As he left, he told newsmen the boy would be named John Fitzgerald Kennedy Jr.

The baby is the first son for the president-elect and his wife. Their daughter, Caroline, will be 3 on Sunday.

When Kennedy arrived at his home, he told newsmen he had found his wife awake and had talked with her. "She is fine," he said. Asked about his son, Kennedy said, "He is fine, too."

The president-elect had spent Thanksgiving Day with his family in their home in the Georgetown section of Washington. The baby had not been expected until mid-December, and Kennedy left Washington Thursday night for Palm Beach, Fla., to continue his postelection vacation.

But, just a few hours after Kennedy left, Dr. Walsh called an ambulance to rush Mrs. Kennedy to the Georgetown University Medical Center, a Roman Catholic hospital. The Kennedys are Catholics.

Mrs. Kennedy was carried down the steps of her home on a stretcher.

The ambulance driver, Willard Baucon, said he overheard Mrs. Kennedy, who has a history of miscarriages, ask her doctor if she was going to lose the baby.

The driver said Dr. Walsh replied, "No, don't worry." Baucon said Mrs. Kennedy then began "smiling like a baby doll."

Mrs. Kennedy was taken to a fourth floor operating room in the hospital. The baby was delivered less than an hour later.

Kennedy's plane landed at Palm Beach at 12:23 a. m. His son was a minute old. Kennedy was told that his wife had been rushed to the hospital to have a baby.

Kennedy left his plane boarded the bigger and faster press plane that accompanies him on trips, and headed back to Washington. His plane left Palm Beach at 12:52 a.m. and arrived after a flight of about three hours.

At 2:50 a.m. attendants wheeled Mrs. Kennedy from the recovery room to her own room. A nurse reported that the president-elect's wife was cheerful, happy, and full of the usual questions a mother asks about a new baby.

A car with Secret Service agents followed the ambulance taking Mrs. Kennedy to the hospital. An agent stood in front of her hospital room at all times.

Mrs. Kennedy had remained in the Kennedy summer home at Hyannis Port, Mass., throughout most of the election campaign because of the expected birth.

After the election, Kennedy, his wife, and Caroline flew to Washington. Kennedy left them at the Georgetown home Nov. 11 and began his vacation in Florida.

He returned Wednesday night for a double celebration: Thanksgiving and Caroline's birthday.

Mrs. Kennedy is the former Jacqueline Bouvier, a daughter of the late John V. Bouvier III, a New York stockbroker. Her mother now is Mrs. Hugh D. Auchincloss.

Her mother and Auchincloss arrived at Georgetown Hospital Thursday night soon after Mrs. Kennedy did.

Kennedy, who stayed at the hospital 20 minutes, later told newsmen that he would remain in Washington for two weeks and then return to Palm Beach with his wife.

When attendants wheeled Mrs. Kennedy out of the delivery room, she smiled broadly. "Is he healthy? Does he look well? she asked nurses, receiving assuring nods.

Caroline also had been delivered by caesarean section.

Pierre Salinger, Kennedy's press secretary, said the baby was originaly expected Dec. 27

2 Get Continuance For TV Set Theft

Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff today granted a continuance until Dec. 1 in the cases of Henry Clay Bailey and Bobby Borden, both of Warren, who are charged with theft of a portable television set valued at $150 on Nov. 18 from the Central Appliance Co. store on Dresden Ave.

Borden and Bailey, who had been free on $1,000 bonds pending hearings this morning, told the court their counsel would be unable to appear in the local court "for at least a week." They indicated they are represented by a Warren attorney.

A third man still is being sought in connection with the theft, but the TV set has been recovered at Warren, along with a transistor radio stolen from another East Liverpool store the same day, police said.

Sam Lako, manager, told police one of the Warren men induced him to enter the back room of the store on the pretext he was interested in used furniture. Then the other two carried out the TV set and loaded it into a car, Lako said.

Recipients in Hookstown, Georgetown and Shippingport will be given surplus food Dec. 5 from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. at the Hookstown Borough building.

League Clarifies Policy

Local Health Problem Seen In Control Of Tuberculosis

The responsibility for control of all communicable diseases, including tuberculosis, "rests squarely on" local health departments in Columbiana County cities, their health commissioners have been informed after protesting the fact the County Public Health League has discontinued the use of mobile X-ray equipment for case-finding.

The statements were made at a meeting at the Courthouse called by Dr. F. G. Kravec, director of the county tuberculosis control clinic. The meeting was arranged by the County Public Health League at the request of the health commissioners of East Liverpool, Salem and Wellsville.

Also attending were representatives of the County Medical Society, the County Health Department, the State Health Department and the Ohio Tuberculosis and Health Association.

When the three city health commissioners urged that the league send the mobile X-ray equipment into the communities for examination of food handlers, Dr. Walter L. Evans, representing the Ohio Health Department, asserted that "the responsibility for control of all communicable diseases, including tuberculosis, rests squarely on the public health departments."

The health league said it does not plan to use the mobile equipment any further in 1960, adding that its plans for 1961 "have not been formulated."

The health league's activity is financed by the annual sale of Christmas Seals. In recent months, it has turned more and more to use of the so-called Heaf test in TB testing.

At the Courthouse meeting, Dr. Evans said that "the law requires annual chest X-rays for food handlers where facilities are 'reasonably available'."

Richard T. Speidel, health league president, said chest X-rays are available in the Salem area at the Central Clinic and City Hospital.

"The health league contributed $5,000 toward the purchase of this equipment and the balance of $7,000 needed to complete the installation was contributed by trustees of the L. H. Brush Trust Fund," Speidel said.

He added: "The $1 charge for the service is no greater than the cost to the health league for taking the mobile unit to the community. The league has been holding $5,000 in reserve for several years to help provide a similar unit in East Liverpool whenever plans for such an installation are completed."

Atty. Donald Elliott of Rogers, the league's representative to the Ohio Tuberculosis Health Association, said the Board of Directors "does not feel that voluntarily-contributed funds should be spent to fulfill a required condition of employment."

"We believe this is the responsibility either of the employe or the employer," he said. "Many industries in this county require chest X-rays of employes and the league is not expected to provide this service."

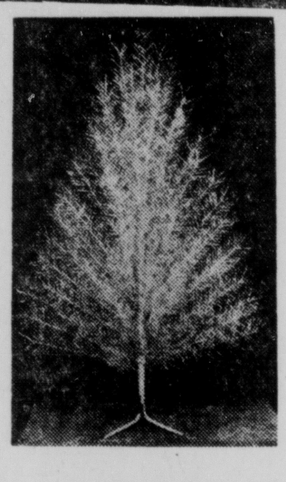

Previously, chest X-rays for foodhandlers were provided at times when the mobile unit was stationed in various communities for mass "screening" programs.

The health league's officers said their present program, "which is consistent with the policy of the State Health Department, has shifted emphasis from repetitive mass chest X-rays to tuberculin testing and selective use of the mobile unit."

But, they added, the league has not abandoned use of the mobile unit. The health league asserted that "experience has proven that many more cases of tuberculin reactive people will be found with tuberculin skin testing than with X-rays." The league took 10,000 X-rays last year and did not find a single case of tuberculosis, they said.

The chest X-ray reveals only the presence of active or healed TB lesions in the lungs, but does not indicate the presence in the body of tubercule bacilli which have not resulted in an active lesion, the league said.

The First Baptist Church in Providence, R.I., was the meeting house of the oldest Baptist congregation in America, founded in 1638 by Roger Williams.

Mother, Son Doing Fine

President-Elect All Smiles When He Learns Of Baby

WASHINGTON (AP)—At 1:05 a. m. Eastern Standard Time today the grim look on President-elect John F. Kennedy's face changed to a happy smile. He had just been advised, "It's a boy and that mother and child were doing fine."

The word came dramatically, flashed to the 43-year-old husband by radio aboard a chartered plane racing him back to Washington from Palm Beach, Fla.

Announcement of the birth, a caesarean about three weeks ahead of schedule, touched off a rousing round of cheers and applause by Kennedy staff members, secret service agents and newsmen making the flight with the president-elect.

Kennedy, occupying a forward compartment with two aides, came to the door in shirt sleeves and waved and smiled to the well wishers. Then, he settled back to await further radio bulletins from Georgetown University Hospital in Washington.

The word that kept coming was good and the man who will take over the presidency Jan. 20 kept smiling.

A bit earlier, he had been through a hectic 45 minutes.

This is the way it all developed:

Thursday night at 7:55 p. m. he left his Georgetown home here for the airport after spending Thanksgiving with his wife, Jacqueline, 31, and their daughter, Caroline. The little girl will be three on Sunday but the birthday was celebrated Thursday because her father expected to be in Palm Beach, on the anniversary.

When the president-elect took off for Florida at 8:20 p. m. there was no indication that Mrs. Kennedy, who has had two miscarriages, would be rushed to the hospital about two hours later.

Aboard his two-engine private plane, the Caroline, Kennedy worked for a while on mail and a sheaf of documents, then wandered forward to chat for a few minutes with this reporter and three other newsmen traveling with him.

Kennedy had just had a snack of soup, pie and milk, and he strolled off to his private compartment at the rear of the plane, closed the door and apparently took a nap.

A minute or two after the plane touched down at the West Palm Beach Airport, and while still rolling to a halt, pilot Howard Baird received a message that the president-elect was wanted on the telephone as soon as he got on the ground.

Pierre Salinger, Kennedy's press secretary, told newsmen on the way back to Washington that the president-elect didn't know his wife had been taken to the hospital until he reached the foot of the ramp.

There, he got the word from Kenneth O'Donnell, an aide, that Salinger had a phone open in the terminal building to the hospital.

The crowd on hand at the airport to greet Kennedy applauded as he left his plane. He acknowledged the greeting with a wave and then strode rapidly a couple hundred feet to the phone Salinger had opened.

By this time, reports were circulating that Mrs. Kennedy had been taken to the hospital. Salinger appeared in a moment and confirmed this, and announced that the president-elect was returning to Washington immediately.

When Kennedy got off the phone, his face had a serious look but he appeared composed. A reporter asked about his wife's condition. Kennedy replied: He had talked to the floor nurse in charge and had been advised that Mrs. Kennedy was at the moment undergoing a caesarean section.

He said he had no more information.

Actually, the baby had been born minutes before but this word hadn't reached the nurse.

Kennedy then walked to his own plane, conferred with the pilot and then decided to return to the capital aboard the chartered four-engine DC6 which had brought most of the party from Washington.

The reason: It was a faster plane and didn't need much refueling.

Kennedy went aboard and into the forward compartment as the plane was speedily serviced. About 40 others also piled back on or transferred from the smaller Caroline.

The plane was airborne at 12:54 a.m., 31 minutes after Kennedy had landed.

Eleven minutes after takeoff, the Palm Beach Airport tower crackled the airwaves with a message that Mrs. Kennedy had given birth to a boy and that both were all right. The pilot relayed it quickly to the president-elect.

Kennedy bounded to his feet, moved forward to the cockpit, slipped the radio earphones on and had the message repeated.

Then Salinger got on the plane's public address system and made this announcement at 1:07 a. m.

"We have just been advised by radio that Mrs. Kennedy has given birth to a boy and that both mother and baby are doing well."

And that, Salinger added, was the only information then available.

Then came the big burst of applause and cheers.

"What did he have to say about the news?" a reporter asked Salinger.

"He just smiled," the press secretary said.

Prayer On Thanksgiving Day Answered For Trapped Boy

GILROY, Calif. (AP) — A Thanksgiving Day prayer was answered for the safety of a 2-year-old boy trapped in a narrow hole at a motel for nearly four hours.

When Todd Duncan, who had run off in midday to play with a brother, tumbled into a hole eight feet deep and only 14 inches across, his parents feared the worst.

Five hours later, however, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin E. Duncan of Gardena, Calif., prepared for a joyous turkey feast. And Todd was tucked in bed, his dirty face washed and his tummy full of turkey.

"We had a minute of thanks at our meal. We normally do in our family. But this time it had much more meaning," said Todd's father.

Duncan, 32, an electrical engineer, had anxiously stood over his trapped son, peering into the hole and talking to him while rescuers worked. The hole had been dug for a concrete foundation shaft for a new building.

Todd cried intermittently and almost fell asleep at one point.

Mrs. Duncan, 30, waited at the nearby home of her mother, Ida Jackson, with their three other small children.

Rescue crews, administering oxygen and using heavy equipment, drilled a three-foot hole near Todd. Then they burrowed across, reached below his waist and pulled him up.

9 Awards Given At Cub Program

Nine awards were presented at the meeting of Cub Pack 31 of the Orchard Grove Community Methodist Church Wednesday night. They were:

William Hocking, Curt Finley, Ray Buxton and John Martin, one-year pins; Finley and Hocking, wolf pins, and Martin, wolf rank and pin; Malcolm Ogilvie, bear rank, and John Wilker, Webelos rank.

The meeting opened with a flag ceremony and Pledge of Allegiance led by Donald Barns, Keith Clark, Alvin Talkington and Jerry Badgley. Michael D. Rolley and Harper Farish were initiated into the pack and presented bobcat rank and pins.

James Myler, cubmaster; Richard Crowder, Webelos chief, and Keith Myler presented a skit in honor of John Wilker's graduation to the Boy Scouts. Myler gave an Indian dance narrated by Crowder. Wilker was accepted into Troop 31 by Barry Badgley, scoutmaster.

Robert Gray, executive of the Columbiana Boy Scout Council; Fred Yountz, neighborhood commissioner, and Frank Hopper, chairman, were guests.

Until 1955 Wales had no capital city. Then Home Secretary Gwilym Lloyd-George, son of former British Prime Minister David Lloyd-George, announced Cardiff as the Welsh capital.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I make a king-sized ashtray for my workshop?

A. Use an empty coffee tin. Make a lip for the cigarette or cigar by snipping two two-inch slits down from the top and bending out the cut section. Double over the sharp edge. Water or sand in the bottom of the tin will extinguish the smoke and weight the "tray."

Q. How can I make a remedy for a sore throat?

A. At the first symptoms of a sore throat, try gargling with a solution of one teaspoonful of salt and one teaspoonful of carbonate of soda in a half glass of water.

Q. How can I remove paint and putty stains from window glass?

A. Use a wet cloth dipped in baking soda and rub over the glass. After fifteen minutes, wash with warm water without soap, then rub until dry and polish.

Accidental Discharge Of Gun Wounds Hunter

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—A shotgun accidentally discharged today wounding a 58-year-old hunter.

Clifford Bowers, of Sylvania, was putting his shotgun into the back seat of his car when it discharged. The blast struck him in the abdomen.

Badly Burned Girl, 4, Being Eyed Closely

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Peggy Roller, the badly burned little girl to whom three Army sergeants gave skin grafts, is holding her own but "we are watching her closely," a spokesman at the Army's Brooke General Hospital said today.

The three sergeants — M. Sgt. William M. Goodloe, 45, of Earlington, Ky.; Sgt. 1.C. Earl D. Bieler, 26, of Machias, Maine, and Sgt. 1.C. Harold S. Orff of Milo, Maine—are recovering from the operation. They watched football games on television Thursday and had a Thanksgiving dinner of turkey with all the trimmings.

Peggy, 4, is the daughter of Maj. and Mrs. Harry N. Roller of El Paso, Tex. She was flown here after a fire at her home Nov. 16 which seared 51 per cent of her body and burned off her hair. Her parents said she may have been playing with matches.

In a two-hour operation Wednesday doctors took 128 square inches of skin from a thigh of each of the sergeants and grafted it to the burned parts of the girl's body.

Doctors hoped the skin grafts will protect Peggy from infection until her bodyis strong enough to replace the damaged flesh. They said the skin grafts were her only chance for survival.

Patrolman, 39, Is Found Dead Of Shotgun Blast

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — Elwood Ressler, 39, a patrolman at Meander Reservoir, was found dead this morning of a shotgun blast in his chest.

A nephew, Joseph Smith of Youngstown, found Ressler at 4:45 a. m. lying face up in a barn next to the dead man's home on the Warren-Salem Road. The nephew told police he had awakened to do some chores, and after being unable to find Ressler in the house, went to the barn. Lying near Ressler's body was a single-shot 12-gauge shotgun.

The patrolman was involved in another shooting recently.

Ressler shot and wounded an Austintown boy, Roger Herrall, 17, on Nov. 14 at the reservoir.

The Herrall boy was in a boat on the reservoir. The patrolman said he had ordered the youth to come ashore, then fired a warning shotgun blast over Herrall's head. Ressler told police the youth reached into the boat as if to grab a gun.

Ressler said he then fired at the boy, wounding him.

Herrall was taken to a Youngstown hospital, where he now is listed in fair condition.

As a result of the shooting, the boy's father filed a charge of assault with intent to kill against Ressler. He had been bound over to the grand jury.

The dead man is a son of Earl A. Ressler, Mahoning County game protector.

Grateful Man Gives His Turkey To Firemen

BELLEVILLE, N.J. (AP)—Ross Fulmore was so grateful to the 60 firemen who spent three hours extinguishing a blaze at his house that he gave them his Thanksgiving turkey.

Then Fulmore, his wife, and eight relatives went to a restaurant for their own meal.

The fire broke out as the Fulmores were sitting down for dinner.

Test for Survival

Students in the School of Pre-Flight, U. S. Naval Air Station, Pensacola, Fla., watch a training film on navigation. Lives will depend on knowing it.

Crash landing . . . Student learns escape procedure in pool rig that dunks pilot upside down in tank. Proficiency in use of Dunker is must.

HUNDREDS of cadets earning their wings at the headquarters of the Naval Air Training Command, Naval Air Station, Pensacola, Fla., are finding they must learn to live before they learn to fly. At the School of Pre-Flight, the aviation cadet acquires a well-rounded knowledge of aeronautical subjects before moving on to actual training.

Survival has always been a prime consideration of man. It is highly important today with naval aviators, who at times, after losing their aircraft, must rely on survival techniques if they expect to return to fly another day. In the survival training course, given to officers and cadets alike, the men are given a wealth of information on types of shelters, food procurement and navigating by map and compass.

The photos on this page show some of the strenuous tests for survival that an aviation cadet must undergo before becoming a full-fledged United States Navy Flier.

HIGH SPEED BAIL-OUT calls for seat ejection. Machine shows the student correct procedures.

AT THE START of a three-day field trip to test them in what they have been taught in the survival training course, cadets check one another's gear at Elgin Reservation.

DURING FIRST NIGHT of survival course, fires are built, and traps and snares set out for the evening meal. By the third day the hungry men are eating rattlesnake meat and liking it. Instructor accompanying each nine cadets carries a portable phone to report progress hourly.

Scholarship Fund Lists Distributed For West Virginia

CHARLESTON (AP) — State American Legion officials have begun distribution, to county school superintendents, of a book they believe will help young West Virginians planning to enter college.

The publication, "Need A Lift?", outlines all known scholarship funds available to high school students in a wide range of vocations.

Arthur E. Rezzonico, chairman of the state department's education and scholarship committee, called the handbook "probably the most complete book on scholarships published anywhere."

Robert E. Lester, state commander, noted that many college scholarships go unawarded each year because high school students do not know about them.

"It is our purpose to advise every potential college student in West Virginia of these scholarships," he said.

Teacher Has Perfect Attendance At Wedding

LANCASTER, Pa. (AP)—Demonstration can be so exciting that M. Kathleen Kendig, a kindergarten teacher, had perfect attendance by her pupils Thursday at her marriage to Donald G. Herr in Emmanuel Lutheran church.

The bride explained that she had tried to tell her 35 pupils about her wedding plans, but they hadn't understood.

So she decided to show them. As the day approached, she said, they became a lot more excited about the wedding than she did.

Janet R. Roosa Of Beaver Weds Attorney Of Midland

Miss Janet Ruth Roosa, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lester R. Roosa of Beaver, became the bride of Atty. Ralph R. Scalera, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dominic J. Scalera, 621 Beaver Ave., Midland, Saturday at noon in the St. Peter and Paul Catholic Church in Beaver.

Fr. John B. Corbett, assistant pastor at the Presentation Catholic Church, performed the double-ring ceremony before an altar decorated with vases of white mums and ferns. Jo Ann Samchuck of Rochester, organist, played the nuptial music during the ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was attired in a white gown of peau de faille and re-embroidered Alencon lace fashioned with a Basque bodice, bateau neckline trimmed with lace appliques and sprinkled with clusters of seed pearls and long tapered sleeves.

The bouffant skirt, softly pleated at the waistline, ended in a court train. Her fingertip veil of French illusion was held in place with a small open center cap of solid Alencon lace. She carried a bouquet of white orchids and lilies of the valley. She observed the traditional bridal customs.

Mrs. Harold A. Leonard Jr. of West Bridgewater, sister of the bridegroom, was the matron of honor and wore a gown of midnight blue velvet chiffon with matching accessories and carried a bouquet of pale yellow Fuji mums.

Dr. Benjamin F. MacDonald of Hartford, Conn., a Harvard University classmate of the bridegroom, was best man and the ushers were Dr. Dominic J. Scalera Jr. of Cocoa, Fla., brother of the bridegroom; Joseph W. Muldoon of Brentwood, Anthony T. Lozzi of Midland and Harold A. Leonard Jr. of West Bridgewater, brothers-in-law of the bridegroom, and Theodore Castelli of Midland.

MRS. R. F. SCALERA
Her Nuptials Held Saturday.

The bride's mother wore a royal blue frock with Navy blue accessories and the bridegroom's mother was attired in a Dior blue crepe frock with bone white accessories. Both wore corsages of white carnations.

The bridal table was centered with a four-tier wedding cake topped with a miniature bridal couple. The reception, for about 500 guests, was held at the Beaver Valley Country Club. A rehearsal dinner was held at the home of the bridegroom's parents.

Prenuptial parties were given by Mrs. Nicholas H. Krayer, Mrs. Horace J. Thomas, III, Mrs. Paul Vochko, Mrs. David Mengel and Mrs. Leonard Jr.

The bride is a graduate of Allegheny General Hospital School of Nursing and attended Geneva College and her husband is a graduate of Harvard University and the University of Pennsylvania Law School and is assistant U. S. attorney for Western Pennsylvania.

The couple left for a Southern wedding trip.

Brandt Chosen As Candidate For Chancellor Post

HANNOVER, Germany (AP) — The Social Democrats today unanimously acclaimed West Berlin Mayor Willy Brandt as their candidate for chancellor, to run on the most pro-Western platform the party has ever framed.

The mayor, 47, was designated months ago by leading Socialists to be chancellor if the party wins next year's national election.

The party's platform, called the Hannover Appeal, and additional party resolutions put the Socialists firmly on the side of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization and even opened the way for Socialist approval of atomic arms for the army.

This is a major shift in policy for the Socialists. For years they have criticized the position-of-strength program of Chancellor Konrad Adenauer and his Christian Democratic Union. In the past the Social Democrats have fought rearmament of West Germany, the draft, and any indication that the government would accept a possible NATO offer of atomic weapons.

Socialist resolutions and speeches left no doubt that they still do not like these military steps, but hard facts have brought them to accept a party platform that greatly narrows the foreign policy gap between the Socialists and the Christian Democrats.

Tree Planting Set In Beaver

Plans for distribution of 350,000 tree seedlings to landowners in Butler, Beaver and Lawrence Counties are being made by William H. Gaugers, service forester of the Pennsylvania Department of Forests and Waters at Mercer.

Seedlings will be trucked fresh from the Department forest tree nursery at Pennfield, Clearfield County, to Butler County where they will be picked up by applicants.

Distribution will be made from the Butler County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation office, just east of the Veterans' Hospital on Route 422.

Any farmer or landowner with unused or unproductive acreage may apply for state seedlings provided at $7 per 1,000 and delivered to the county, or $6 at the nursery.

A variety of seedlings suitable for planting in this area include white pine, red pine, Austrian pine, Norway spruce, white spruce, Japanese larch, European larch, red oak, black locust and tulip poplar. Multiflora rose is available in lots of 250 at the same rate as seedlings. Chinese chestnut are 25 cents each.

Tree seedling production may be utilized for forest products such as pulpwood, fence posts, fuel or timber, but not for ornamental, nursery or Christmas tree purposes.

Advantages of county delivery are a saving in total cost to the purchaser, fresher trees and the opportunity to obtain advice from department representatives when the trees are called for. Trees were previously shipped COD via Railway Express.

Complete advice on methods of planting, cost reimbursement, species and applications are available from Gauger, 104 S. Erie St., Mercer, or County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation offices.

Deadline for ordering is Feb. 15.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: My husband and I do not eat meat on Friday. His sister-in-law who belongs to the same religious faith doesn't pay any attention to the religious rules. According to her it's a lot of nonsense.

I have no quarrel with her and as far as I'm concerned she can do as she pleases. However, the question I would like to ask is this: My sister-in-law and her husband go to my mother-in-law's home at least twice a week for dinner. My husband and I go, also. My mother-in-law is a marvelous cook and it is her greatest pleasure to have us over for meals.

On Fridays my mother-in-law does not serve meat. This sister-in-law brings a nice juicy steak for herself. Do you think it is proper? My mother-in-law has never complained but I know she doesn't like it.—ASKING.

Dear Asking: Your sister-in-law has poor judgment, worse manners and apparently her religion doesn't mean anything to her. If she is unable to live without a steak on Friday she should have the decency to stay at home and eat it by herself.

Teen-Age Fantasy

Dear Ann Landers: I'm a girl 15 who has a serious problem I can't talk to anyone about. I think I am losing my mind.

I have a nice home life, lovely parents and a sweet brother. We have no money worries and I get good grades in school. I have many friends—both boys and girls. For some reason I have flashes of horrible thoughts and I can't seem to get rid of them.

My most frequent thought is what would happen if I died suddenly. I imagine what my funeral would be like, what the kids at school would say, how my folks would take it and all sorts of crazy things like that.

I imagine myself an angel in the sky, looking down on all this. Please tell me if you think I am mentally ill.—FUNERAL WATCHER.

Dear Watcher: Everyone has flashes of morbidity and builds fantasies around his own funeral. Have a substitute thought ready to drive this one out of your mind — and keep busy. If this is your only symptom you can stop worrying.

Double Deceived

Dear Ann: I have been going with a man for three years. We finally decided to get married. He kept stalling me off until one day I said, "Something is wrong—what is it?"

He told me he was already married and that his wife was in a mental institution. He has handed me so many lies about minor and major things that I don't know if he is lying about this, too. I asked him to bring some papers to prove it. So far he has not brought any proof.

I told him to leave me alone but he keeps dropping around where I work and calling me on the phone. I just don't know if I should trust him a little longer in the hope that he will figure out a way to marry me after all. Please give me some advice.—THELMA.

Dear Thelma: No matter how you slice it it sounds like baloney. If this Romeo has a wife he has no business dating you. If he hasn't a wife and invented one as an excuse to avoid marrying you, what do you want with him?

Tell him goodbye as if you meant it — with an exclamation point in your voice, instead of a question mark.

-:-

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Young Mother Gets Ready For Action

Many young mothers have an overwhelming weight problem. A 23-year old writes:

"When things go wrong, I eat and eat! When I am depressed, I eat. After reading the letter from a young mom followed by the reducer's philosophy, I decided to do something about this weight problem of mine.

By Ida Jean Kain

"I am 5 feet 1 and I weigh 176 pounds with measurements that would make you gasp ... 40, 37, 48! Pretty terrible, isn't it?

My poor, patient husband has been wonderful, but I know he wants me to lose weight. We have two boys, ages 2½ and 1 year. It won't be long before the older one will notice his mama isn't like other moms.

—:—

"MY PERSONALITY has undergone quite a change since I first gained weight. Before I was pregnant with my first child I wasn't overweight. Even after the baby arrived, I kept gaining.

"I used to be full of pep and energy and enjoyed meeting new people and doing new things ... but not any more. I am too ashamed of how I look and I don't want to go anywhere or do anything. I am tired all the time and it is an effort to get all my work done.

"I have gone to the doctor several times for pills, and pills, and more pills. But when the pills ran out and it was up to me, I always failed.

"Well, not any more! I've done some mental housecleaning. From now on I can lose weight and I will lose! I am on a sensible diet of 1,000 calories a day, plus exercise ... and more exercise. I will keep you posted on my progress... this will help my morale a lot. Keep up your wonderful work."

That spirited letter gave me a lift. On the spur of the moment I put in a long distance call. I'm happy to report she has carried through on her new resolve. With that all-important will-to-win, this young mother has lost 7½ pounds in three weeks.

What I suggested to her is just what I would suggest to all young mothers faced with a like weight problem. Do a right about - face in your thinking. See this as a new beginning.

THIS IS NOT just another diet, or another go at dieting. Decide to make slimming down and shaping up an adventure. An adventure in happy living can never be an ordeal.

Remember you have all your young adult life ahead of you. What you do now will influence the next 50 years of your life! It's been said that inside every fat woman is a slim gal wildly signalling to be set free. Set her free!

Send a long, self - adressed, stamped envelope for "Hunger Control Diet" and "Away With Middle Spread." Address your request to Ida Jean Kain, in care of this newspaper. Postcard requests cannot be answered.

Mother Who Left Children Is Arrested

NEW YORK (AP)—The mother who left her two children in Gimbel's toy department has been arrested and charged with abandonment.

The children, Michael, 5, and Maria, 4, were found in the store Thanksgiving eve and taken to a children's shelter. The mother had put a note in the boy's pocket saying she could no longer care for them.

After receiving a telephone tip Thursday, police picked up the mother, Eileen Weiss, 29, in a Brooklyn apartment.

Racial Violence Fails To Develop At Football Game

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — Montgomery was relaxing today after threats of Thanksgiving Day race violence failed to materialize at a Negro college football game.

Officers arrested five white men, who later were released on bond, as groups of white persons were kept moving at Thursday's game between Tuskegee Institute and Alabama State College.

Though signs were posted the city Thursday morning urging "10,000 white people" to appear at the game, nowhere near that figure showed up at Cramton Bowl.

City and county officers kept white persons moving and broke up white gatherings near the stadium, making it difficult to estimate the size of the crowd outside the bowl.

The arrests were made near a restaurant in the vicinity of the publicly owned bowl, where Tuskeegee defeated Alabama State 12-8.

The approximately 8,000 Negro spectators left the game without incident.

Grouse Flies Through Window And Gets Stuck

CLEVELAND (AP)— This grouse really had something to grouse about—picture windows.

The bird flew through a window Thursday at the home of Alio Pellini in Cuyahoga Heights. Pellini said he found the bird trapped between the storm window and the inner window, apparently unable to make his way out of the 10-inch hole he had broken in the storm window.

Pellini removed the bird and when last seen it was running toward a ravine at the back of the home.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MEYERS

Shy Boy, 13, Fears Going To School

Occasionally in this column I have discussed children of the primary grades who show dread of going to school. An Ohio mother writes of an older boy:

Dr. Garry Meyers

"My son is 13 years old and going into the eighth grade. "He worries about school so much that it effects his stomach. Every year we have to take him to the doctor during the first weeks of school. The doctor usually gives him a sedative. "He does quiet down some fater a few weeks but he is nervous and upset to some extent most of the school year. The doctor says his health is excellent.

—:—

"HE HAS LOTS of friends and gets along well with the boys, but is shy and quiet in school. His teachers say that they wish he would break a school rule once in a while.

"His grades are poor, but they tell me he is intelligent.

"This all seemed to start in the first grade. He had a very strict teacher. She hit the children with a ruler. She had him frightened until he would vomit. "And he still fears punishment in school.

"He is a normal rowdy boy outside of school. The only difference from most boys that I can see is that he is just as happy by himself. Most boys need companionship. My son can spend hours working on radios and making things. He reads a lot of science books.

"He goes to school without breakfast the whole school year."

—:—

MY REPLY in part:

Perhaps you should ask your physician to refer you to a psychiatrist.

I hope Dad spends a lot of time with that boy, going places with him, having fun with him, attracting other boys his age to your home and encouraging him to cultivate some skills other boys his age will admire.

A summer camp might do him a great deal of good. I hope he becomes a Scout or a member of a boys' club.

Perhaps you and Dad could help him with his homework by reading his textbooks with him and helping him turn each paragraph into a few words of his own. Better still, you might be able to find a man tutor for him. Even if you have to pay a high price for a tutor, it should be a good investment.

My bulletin "The Lonely, Timid Youth" may be had by sending a self - addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of this newspaper.

'61 National Marketing Quota For Flue-Cured Tobacco Set

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department has announced a national marketing quota of 1,122 million pounds for the 1961 crop of flue-cured tobacco.

The department also said that the discount variety program on flue-cured tobacco will continue in effect on the 1961 crop.

The new quota, converted to acres, makes 715,817 acres available for allotment in 1961. Acreage available for allotment this year totaled 715,110 acres.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The use of airplanes and helicopters is the most important advance in forest fire fighting in the last 50 years, says the Forest Service.

But "men, tools and teamwork will always be necessary" despite valuable aerial assists, it adds.

A new 32-page booklet issued by the Agriculture Department traces the use of aircraft in forest fire fighting back to 1919, when the locations of forest fires were first pinpointed from the air.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Additional overseas sales of wheat and grain sorghums have been authorized by the Agriculture Department.

An authorization issued to Israel provides for the purchase of an additional $188,319 worth of grain sorghums from American suppliers.

Iran was given permission to buy an additional $1,240,000 worth of wheat.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Take it easy if you plan to lose weight, advises a new Agriculture Department booklet titled "Food and Your Weight."

"A pound or two off a week is plenty," the food experts suggest.

A department spokesman said, "Many doctors have been urging us to get this out . . . we expect this to be one of our best sellers."

Copies are available at 15 cents each from the Superintendent of Documents, U.S. Printing Office, Washington 25, D.C.

Hitchhikers, Here's New Twist To Get Ride

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Lt. B. J. Gibson of the Oklahoma highway patrol reports that while patrolling U. S. Highway 66 east of Clinton he spied a man trudging down the road with a big gasoline can.

"Did you run out of gas," asked Gibson as he pulled alongside to offer his help.

"Nope," came the reply.

Well, why the gas can, asked Lt. Gibson?

"I'm hitchhiking," the unidentified man replied, "and I hoped I'd fool some driver into giving me a lift this way."

4 Million Yule Trees Will Brighten Season

WASHINGTON (AP)—About 40 million Christmas trees will brighten the American holiday season this year, forestry experts predicted today.

The Agriculture Department said the estimate includes imports of about 12 million trees from Canada.

Cheer Leaders Chosen For Freshman Cagers

Chosen were Sandy Williams, Patty Moore, Sherrie Calcott and Ruth Edwards.

Named to an alternate team of cheerleaders were Geraldine Bednarczyk, Jeanne Jackson, Anita Ludovici and Glenda Gleaton.

2 Get Continuance For TV Set Theft

Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff today granted a continuance until Dec. 1 in the cases of Henry Clay Bailey and Bobby Borden, both of Warren, who are charged with theft of a portable television set valued at $150 on Nov. 18 from the Central Appliance Co. store on Dresden Ave.

Borden and Bailey, who had been free on $1,000 bonds pending hearings this morning, told the court their counsel would be unable to appear in the local court "for at least a week." They indicated they are represented by a Warren attorney.

A third man still is being sought in connection with the theft, but the TV set has been recovered at Warren, along with a transistor radio stolen from another East Liverpool store the same day, police said.

Sam Lako, manager, told police one of the Warren men induced him to enter the back room of the store on the pretext he was interested in used furniture. Then the other two carried out the TV set and loaded it into a car, Lako said.

Recipients in Hookstown, Georgetown and Shippingport will be given surplus food Dec. 5 from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. at the Hookstown Borough building.

League Clarifies Policy

Local Health Problem Seen In Control Of Tuberculosis

The responsibility for control of all communicable diseases, including tuberculosis, "rests squarely on" local health departments in Columbiana County cities, their health commissioners have been informed after protesting the fact the County Public Health League has discontinued the use of mobile X-ray equipment for case-finding.

The statements were made at a meeting at the Courthouse called by Dr. F. G. Kravec, director of the county tuberculosis control clinic. The meeting was arranged by the County Public Health League at the request of the health commissioners of East Liverpool, Salem and Wellsville.

Also attending were representatives of the County Medical Society, the County Health Department, the State Health Department and the Ohio Tuberculosis and Health Association.

When the three city health commissioners urged that the league send the mobile X-ray equipment into the communities for examination of food handlers, Dr. Walter L. Evans, representing the Ohio Health Department, asserted that "the responsibility for control of all communicable diseases, including tuberculosis, rests squarely on the public health departments."

The health league said it does not plan to use the mobile equipment any further in 1960, adding that its plans for 1961 "have not been formulated."

The health league's activity is financed by the annual sale of Christmas Seals. In recent months, it has turned more and more to use of the so-called Heaf test in TB testing.

At the Courthouse meeting, Dr. Evans said that "the law requires annual chest X-rays for food handlers where facilities are 'reasonably available'."

Richard T. Speidel, health league president, said chest X-rays are available in the Salem area at the Central Clinic and City Hospital.

"The health league contributed $5,000 toward the purchase of this equipment and the balance of $7,000 needed to complete the installation was contributed by trustees of the L. H. Brush Trust Fund," Speidel said.

He added: "The $1 charge for the service is no greater than the cost to the health league for taking the mobile unit to the community. The league has been holding $5,000 in reserve for several years to help provide a similar unit in East Liverpool whenever plans for such an installation are completed."

Atty. Donald Elliott of Rogers, the league's representative to the Ohio Tuberculosis Health Association, said the Board of Directors "does not feel that voluntarily-contributed funds should be spent to fulfill a required condition of employment."

"We believe this is the responsibility either of the employe or the employer," he said. "Many industries in this county require chest X-rays of employes and the league is not expected to provide this service."

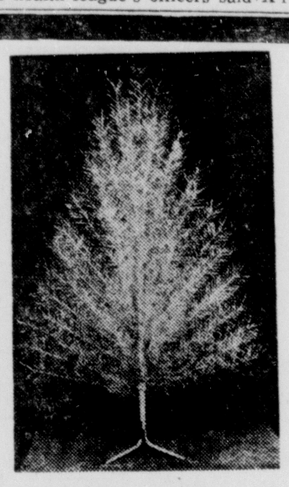

Previously, chest X-rays for food-handlers were provided at times when the mobile unit was stationed in various communities for mass "screening" programs.

The health league's officers said their present program, "which is consistent with the policy of the State Health Department, has shifted emphasis from repetitive mass chest X-rays to tuberculin testing and selective use of the mobile unit."

But, they added, the league has not abandoned use of the mobile unit. The health league asserted that "experience has proven that many more cases of tuberculin reactive people will be found with tuberculin skin testing than with X-rays." The league took 10,000 X-rays last year and did not find a single case of tuberculosis, they said.

The chest X-ray reveals only the presence of active or healed TB lesions in the lungs, but does not indicate the presence in the body of tubercule bacilli which have not resulted in an active lesion, the league said.

The First Baptist Church in Providence, R.I., was the meeting house of the oldest Baptist congregation in America, founded in 1638 by Roger Williams.

Arguments On Pay-TV Hit New Absurdity

Teeing off from the position that pay-TV is "un-American," opponents of the toll system have descended to a new and irrelevant absurdity, the idea that "sex and four-letter words" would be piped into American homes with the advent of box office television.

Marie Torre

Advocates of pay-TV promise movies of the caliber of "On the Terrace," "Ben Hur" and "Can Can," but do not these contain scenes too sexy or fulsome for the delicate eyes of the home audience?

Advocates of pay-TV promise Broadway stage productions, but can the American household abide the profanity and invective that emanate from any legitimate stage?

PROFOUND questions, no doubt, but we don't have the answers. Nor do we care. Nor do we think there's much to be said for a campaign that is attempting to halt the development of pay-TV by muddying the water with such a charge as the "filth-in-the-home" dangers of the toll system.

This improbable, not to mention unpleasant, charge was voiced at the just-concluded pay-TV hearings conducted by the Federal Communications Commission, which will decide whether it will give the green light to RKO General for a $10 million, three-year experiment with Zenith's "Phonevision" in Hartford, Conn.

At the hearings, counsel Marcus Cohn, representing the motion picture exhibitors exhibitors who show movies like "Ben Hur," "Can Can" and "On the Terrace", tried to establish that certain pictures promised to the potential pay-TV audience in Hartford contains scenes not permitted on TV, and that the four-letter words in stage presentations would be out of bounds.

COHN QUESTIONED RKO president Thomas F. O'Neil on the matter, and the latter patiently explained that he would take care to choose and to edit so as to carry out his obligations as a licensee of the FCC.

Shooting up another irrelevancy, Cohn asked O'Neil whether, if a play or film took a stand on a controversial issue, equal time would be given to those holding the opposite viewpoint, and he mentioned segregation specifically.

O'Neil said he would have to be guided by what his counsel considers his duties as a TV station operator.

But the motion picture exhibitors aren't alone in opposing pay-TV. The networks also have been spreading loose talk about the "evils" of pay-TV.

One rumor that was passed around recently had it that a TV family could spend as much as $5,000 a year to see programs now shown free. Another was that a teen-ager could cost his parents something like $400 in a couple of evenings of unrestricted viewing.

FIDDLE FADDLE! If the high cost of pay-TV were to be truth, foes of the toll system would have no fears, for never in a million years would the American public put up with such a thing.

But isn't it in the democratic tradition to let the people decide what they want and don't want? If RKO General thinks it can draw viewers with something better than they're getting on free TV, they ought to be given an opportunity. If pay-TV fails, that's the worry of the investors.

Meanwhile, the interests of a better informed public on the box office TV system, may we urge a halt to nonsensical arguments.

In our mail the other day, there was a lengthy study from Hill & Knowlton, Inc., which pointed out that free TV probably is costing just over 6 cents for each hour you sit before the electronic screen.

"More propaganda against the toll system," we suspected. But happily we were wrong. A check revealed that the study was commissioned not by the networks or motion picture exhibitors but, by a manufacturer of TV picture tubes.

Ohio Traffic Toll Rises To 5 For Holiday

Traffic	5
Fire	2
Miscellaneous	1
Total	8

By The Associated Press

At least five persons had been killed on Ohio's highways as the 102-hour Thanksgiving holiday period passed the one-third mark.

Traffic deaths were running at about the same rate—or even less—than during a similar but non holiday period survey by The Associated Press two weeks ago for purpose of comparison.

From 6 p.m. Wednesday, Nov. 9, through midnight Sunday, Nov. 13, the Ohio toll was 26 deaths in traffic, 8 in fires and 7 in miscellaneous accidents, for a total of 41.

In terms of traffic fatalities alone, that figured out very close to one death every four hours.

As the holiday period hit the one-third mark — with 34 hours gone—the traffic death rate was around one every seven hours in Ohio.

In addition, two fire deaths and one miscellaneous fatality have been recorded.

Fire claimed the lives of two small children in Monroe County when their frame home burned to the ground. The young brother and sister had been left alone while their mother went next door and their father and two older children went to a nearby country store.

The mother made a vain attempt to enter the house and save the children but was turned back by flames. The county sheriff said he believed the blaze was caused by an overheated oil heater.

An elderly Cleveland woman was asphyxiated in the boarding house where she lived when carbon monoxide fumes from a gas-fired water heater filtered through the dwelling. Two other persons of the 10 who lived in the house were overcome by fumes, but were treated at a hospital and released.

The fatalities:

Wednesday Night

Jesse Ferguson, 45, Lima, when a train hit his auto at a crossing there as he drove on a private road marked with a "No Trespassing" signs.

Mrs. Sophia Ann Fisher, 47, Cuyahoga Falls, struck by a car while crossing Ohio 8 a block from her home.

Mrs. Katie Watson, 82, Cleveland, asphyxiated by carbon monoxide fumes in a boarding house there.

Mrs. Lillian E. Congdon, 66, Columbus, when the car in which she was riding was hit broadside by another auto at the intersection of two Fairfield County roads 2½ miles south of Lancaster.

Deborah Kay Smith, 11 months, and her brother, Charles, 6, children of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Smith, when fire destroyed their frame home near Graysville (Monroe County).

(Among the four injured in the Fairfield County fatal accident were John H. Kelley, 25, of Marion, the other driver, and his wife, Bessie, 23, who were admitted to Lancaster Fairfield Hospital.)

Fireman Who Helped Quell Blaze Claimed

BECKLEY, W. Va. (AP) — Steve Horwath, 49, a member of the Beckley Fire Department, died of an apparent heart attack late Thursday after helping extinguish a minor blaze at Pinecrest Sanitarium.

Fellow firemen said Horwath, father of six children, complained of chest pains. He was administered oxygen and rushed to a hospital where he died a few minutes later.

Firemen blamed the fire, confined to one room on the third floor of the nurses' home, on an unattended cigarette. Damage was estimated at about $200.

Barron Probably Will Select Aides In Mid-December

CHARLESTON (AP) — Gov-elect Wally Barron probably will delay until mid-December any announcements of the men and women he has picked to help him run the state government.

Democratic state headquarters announced that Barron will first take care of "the more pressing problems of his program preparation." Selection of the various appointees will come next.

The headquarters added that Barron will meet with legislative leaders after the Democratic lawmakers caucus here Dec. 10 to lay the groundwork for his program to be handed the legislative convenint Jan. 11.

In its report, the headquarters noted it was being swamped by job-seekers.

"Every idle Democrat in West Virginia apparently wants to get on the ground floor," the headquarters said.

The office added that not every Republican holding a state job would be dismissed, but "there will probably be a large number of positions change hands."

3 Boys, Girl Captured In Stolen Automobile

CLEVELAND (AP)—Three boys and a girl in a stolen automobile were captured Thursday night at a police roadblock in East Cleveland after the car had knocked down a detective, police reported.

Lt. Milton Jennrich, 36, was knocked down and dragged several feet when he approached the youngsters in the car. His partner, Detective Frank Bajzel, 32, fired five shots into the gasoline tank as the car sped away.

The car ran out of gasoline two blocks away, where police had set up a roadblock. The three boys, age 15 and 16, and a 14-year-old girl were held. Officers said the car was stolen from an automobile agency on Euclid Avenue Monday.

Lt. Jennrich was treated at Huron Road Hospital.

CINCINNATI (AP) — Approximately 600 geography teachers opened a two-day conference of the National Council of Geographic Education here today. Two of the first problems they took up are how to feed the expanding population and where to put it.

3 City Drivers Among 8 Cited

Three city drivers were among eight motorists penalized at traffic hearings Wednesday before Judge Earl Spalding of East Palestine.

Hobart Cochran of McKee St. was fined $25 and costs for driving with an expired license, Dr. R. D. Stover of Broadview Circle forfeited a $20 bond on a charge of crossing a yellow line, and Robert K. Burson of East End forfeited a $15 bond for speeding.

William Sponsel of Rogers R. D. 1, a junk car dealer, was fined $100 and costs each on 3 charges of failure to cancel titles of junked autos.

Charles Smith of LaBelle, Pa., forfeited a $500 bond when he failed to appear on a charge of driving while intoxicated.

Arthur L. Munyon of Wood St., East Palestine, was fined $20 and costs for driving left of center, and Richard G. Feezle of East Palestine R.D. 1 $20 and costs for reckless operation.

William J. Rudibaugh of Lisbon R.D. 2 was fined $10 and costs for failure to stop at an intersection.

Road Bond Bids Due

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP) — Bids will be opened here Dec. 6 on two million dollars worth of state road bonds. They will bear interest at a rate of not more than four per cent, and the bidder offering the lowest net interest rate will be favored.

Autopsy Planned Today In Death Of Alliance Man

ALLIANCE, Ohio (AP) — An autopsy was planned today by Dr. H. W. Gauchat, acting Stark County coroner, to determine the cause of death of Clarence McNeil, 44, of Alliance.

Meanwhile, police held without charge four men accused of taking part in a fight at the Elks Club shortly before McNeil was found Thursday morning lying on the ground at the rear of a Jersey Street home, one block from the club. He died a few minutes after being admitted to City Hospital.

Police who broke up the fight said their investigation showed McNeil had been attacked by four men at the club.

Names of the four held were not revealed.

Capt. Donald E. Cowen, acting police chief, said McNeill's wife, Hattie, and a daughter were being held as material witnesses. Cowen said Mrs. McNeil was the last person to see her husband alive.

Test for Survival

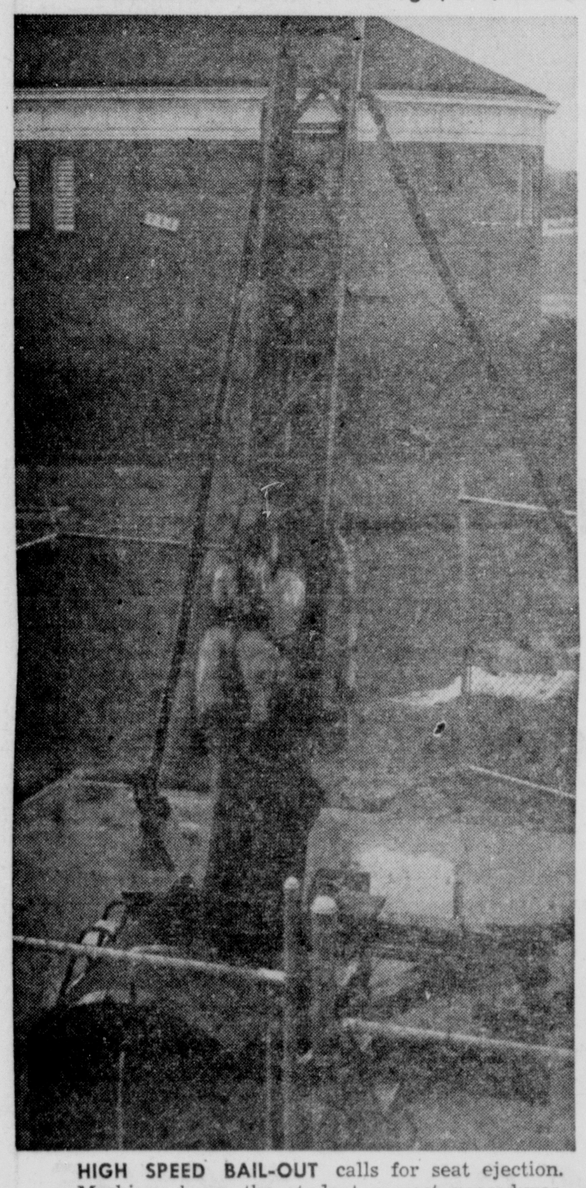

Students in the School of Pre-Flight, U. S. Naval Air Station, Pensacola, Fla., watch a training film on navigation. Lives will depend on knowing it.

HUNDREDS of cadets earning their wings at the headquarters of the Naval Air Training Command, Naval Air Station, Pensacola, Fla., are finding they must learn to live before they learn to fly. At the School of Pre-Flight, the aviation cadet acquires a well-rounded knowledge of aeronautical subjects before moving on to actual training.

Survival has always been a prime consideration of man. It is highly important today with naval aviators, who at times, after losing their aircraft, must rely on survival techniques if they expect to return to fly another day. In the survival training course, given to officers and cadets alike, the men are given a wealth of information on types of shelters, food procurement and navigating by map and compass.

The photos on this page show some of the strenuous tests for survival that an aviation cadet must undergo before becoming a full-fledged United States Navy Flier.

HIGH SPEED BAIL-OUT calls for seat ejection. Machine shows the student correct procedures.

AT THE START of a three-day field trip to test them in what they have been taught in the survival training course, cadets check one another's gear at Elgin Reservation.

DURING FIRST NIGHT of survival course, fires are built, and traps and snares set out for the evening meal. By the third day the hungry men are eating rattlesnake meat and liking it. Instructor accompanying each nine cadets carries a portable phone to report progress hourly.

Deaths and Funerals

Lee W. Bricker Claimed At 73

Services will be held Saturday for Lee W. Bricker, 515 Thompson Ave., founder of the city's Isaly's Dairy Store, who died Thursday morning about 4 at City Hospital.

Mr. Bricker, 73, had been ill for some time.

He was born at Mansfield Sept. 23, 1887, a son of William and Anna Patterson Bricker.

He came here in February 1930 to open the dairy store. Before that he had served as the clerk of the Franklin Township Board of Education of Richland County for 12 years.

Mr. Bricker was a member of St. John's Evangelical Lutheran Church, the Men's Brotherhood and served on the Church Council.

Besides his widow, Mrs. Lenora Stiefel Bricker at home, he is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Arthur Stiefel of Shadyside; four sons, Ronald Bricker and Howard Bricker of Columbus and Harold Bricker and William Bricker of East Liverpool; two sisters, Mrs. Mary Urich and Miss Nellie Bricker of Youngstown; a brother, John Bricker of Youngstown, and three granddaughters.

Services will be held Saturday afternoon at 3 at the Arner Home for Funerals by the Rev. Charles Kampmeyer. Burial will be in Columbiana County Memorial Park.

Friends may call at the funeral home.

Baumgarner, all of East Liverpool; four sisters, Mrs. Loraina Gruver of Youngstown, Mrs. Juanita Cebulack of Yuma, Ariz., Mrs. Amanda Merriman of Wellsville and Mrs. Alverta Brletich of East Liverpool, and nine grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Services will be held Monday at 2 p. m. at the Dawson Funeral Home by the Rev. M. Rudolph Miller, pastor of the Trinity United Presbyterian Church. Burial will be in Columbiana County Memorial Park.

Friends may call at the funeral home Sunday.

Mrs. Frank McDonald

Mrs. Estella Baughman McDonald of Columbus, a former resident of Wellsville, died Thursday at 8 a. m. in a hospital at Columbus after a lingering illness. She was 79.

She lived in Wellsville some 30 years, moving to Columbus about 1924.

She leaves her husband, Frank McDonald, and a son, Eugene McDonald, both at home; another son, Dean McDonald, of Columbus; three sisters, Mrs. Kinsey Neff of Columbus, Mrs. Minnie Godlin of Los Angeles and Mrs. Cleo Paul of Cleveland; three brothers, C. R. Baughman of Wellsville, Earl Baughman of Minerva and Carl Baughman of Cleveland, and two grandchildren.

Services will be held Saturday at 2 p. m. at the Grimes-Davis Funeral home in Columbus with burial there.

FAIRY TALE. "Beauty and the Beast," a Beaver Local High School Masquers Club play, will be given at Westgate School Saturday afternoon at 2. John Plate portrays the prince, and Linda Baumgarner, the beauty. The play is the third annual production of the club, which uses proceeds for stage facilities and other projects. Harry West is director.

Isom Hicks

Isom Hicks of Salineville R. D. 1, a retired brickyard worker, died Thursday at 10:55 a. m. at City Hospital, where he had been a patient 3 days. He was 78.

He was born Jan. 1, 1882, in Kentucky and was a member of the Baptist Church in Stone Coal, Ky.

He leaves his widow, Mrs. Sarah Hicks at home; two daughters, Mrs. Eva DeSellem of Summitville and Mrs. Ruby Adams of Hanoverton; four sons, Edgel Hicks of Garrett, Ky., Ernest Hicks of Los Angeles, Earl Hicks of Lisbon and Arthur Hicks of Salineville; five brothers, Fair Hicks, William Hicks and Timothy Hicks, all of Mousie, Ky., Ballard Hicks of Wayland, Ky., and Elder Hicks of McDowell, Ky.; two sisters, Darling Coneley and Mrs. Ida Rice, both of Mousie, and 22 grandchildren and 10 great-grandchildren.

Services and burial will be held Sunday at Prestonsburg, Ky.

Friends may call after 4 p. m. today at the Kerr Funeral Home in Salineville.

G. Carl Clifton

LISBON — G. Carl Clifton, former resident of Gavers, died Wednesday at Lakeland, Fla., where he resided for the past year.

He was a former farmer and salesman and spent most of his lifetime in this vicinity.

His wife, Mrs. Maree Clifton, died Sept. 9, 1959.

Mr. Clifton is survived by two daughters, Mrs. A. D. Clark of Lakeland and Mrs. F. E. Skeel Jr., of Clifton, N. J., and five grandchildren.

Services will be held Sunday at 3 p. m. at the Henry Funeral Home by the Rev. Frank Hare, pastor of New Lebanon United Presbyterian Church. Burial will be in New Lebanon Cemetery on the Millport-West Point Rd.

Friends may call at the funeral home Saturday evening.

Frances Jones

Miss Frances B. Jones of Mingo Junction, a retired registered nurse, died Thursday at 7:50 p. m. at the Cambridge Hospital following a long illness. She was 76.

She was born Oct. 6, 1884, in Washington County and resided for 23 years in Mingo Junction, where at one time she was an industrial nurse. She was graduated from Allegheny School of Nursing at Pittsburgh. She was a member of the East Liverpool First United Presbyterian Church and the LaBelle Chapter of the Order of Eastern Star of Steubenville.

She leaves no immediate survivors.

Services will be held Saturday at 3:30 p. m. at the Dawson Funeral Home by Dr. Alexander K. Davison. Burial will be in Riverview Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home today.

No Changes Seen In U.S. Cuban Policy

NEW YORK (AP) — Cuban President Osvaldo Dorticos says he does not expect Washington's hostility toward the Castro regime to change when John F. Kennedy takes over the presidency.

"We are not optimistic about the United States," Dorticos told New York Times co.respondent Max Frankel. "And we have no choice."

Frankel, who interviewed Dorticos in Havana, wrote that "since the Cubans consider themselves largely blameless in the dispute they have decided against taking the initiative to improve relations."

Cuba has not yet found a market for the three million tons of sugar formerly sold to the United States.

Dorticos said the Castro government would be pleased to conduct "bilateral negotiations" to reopen the market.

He acknowledged that his job, like that of every officeholder in Cuba, depended entirely upon the will of Prime Minister Fidel Castro.

Dorticos said Cuba's switch of trade to the Communist bloc was a reaction to "aggressive actions" of the United States.

Glenmoor Group Airs Hazards For Children

Discussion of highway hazards for school children who crowd close to the roadway waiting for buses was held at a meeting of the Glenmoor Area Improvement Association Wednesday night.

It was agreed to discuss the problem further at a meeting Dec. 5 of the Calcutta Area Development Association, which will soon become the St. Clair Township Improvement Association.

The possibility of obtaining a traffic signal for the intersection of Route 267 and the Y. & O. Rd. was also aired, and will be presented to the township group.

Plans were made for nomination and election of officers Jan. 26. Jay Wynn was enrolled as a member. Martin Christen, president, was in charge.

Oregon Flood Puts Village Under Water

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—Flood waters coursed from ankle to waist deep through scores of western Oregon communities today. Heavy rains put one entire town of 1,000 persons under water.

U.S. 101 along the coast, U.S. 22 across the Cascade Range and many secondary routes were blocked by rampaging streams and slides touched off by a Thanksgiving Day downpour that continued today. It was, however, slackening off in some areas.

Most residents sat it out as the water swirled into stores and homes, but an estimated 50 families were evacuated in scattered areas. No casualties were reported.

Small communities bore the brunt of it. Weather Bureau forecasters said only minor flooding is to be expected along the major rivers. Along the tributaries it was another matter.

Several points reported more than four inches of rain in 24 hours, and the already sodden community of Valsetz in the coast range measured 6.41 inches, making a total of 32 inches there in the past two weeks.

The streams could not handle it.

10 Small Bombs Set Off In Havana Areas

HAVANA (AP) — Ten small bombs exploded in widely separated areas of Havana during the night and the crew of a police patrol car found another bomb that had not exploded. One man was injured by the blasts.

The bombings, which occur nightly, usually are attributed to the anti-Castro underground.

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: My husband and I do not eat meat on Friday. His sister-in-law who belongs to the same religious faith doesn't pay any attention to the religious rules. According to her it's a lot of nonsense.

I have no quarrel with her and as far as I'm concerned she can do as she pleases. However, the question I would like to ask is this: My sister-in-law and her husband go to my mother-in-law's home at least twice a week for dinner. My husband and I go, also. My mother-in-law is a marvelous cook and it is her greatest pleasure to have us over for meals.

On Fridays my mother-in-law does not serve meat. This sister-in-law brings a nice juicy steak for herself. Do you think it is proper? My mother-in-law has never complained but I know she doesn't like it.—ASKING.

Dear Asking: Your sister-in-law has poor judgment, worse manners and apparently her religion doesn't mean anything to her. If she is unable to live without a steak on Friday she should have the decency to stay at home and eat it by herself.

Teen-Age Fantasy

Dear Ann Landers: I'm a girl 15 who has a serious problem I can't talk to anyone about. I think I am losing my mind.

I have a nice home life, lovely parents and a sweet brother. We have no money worries and I get good grades in school. I have many friends—both boys and girls. For some reason I have flashes of horrible thoughts and I can't seem to get rid of them.

My most frequent thought is what would happen if I died suddenly. I imagine what my funeral would be like, what the kids at school would say, how my folks would take it and all sorts of crazy things like that.

I imagine myself an angel in the sky, looking down on all this. Please tell me if you think I am mentally ill.—FUNERAL WATCHER.

Dear Watcher: Everyone has flashes of morbidity and builds fantasies around his own funeral. Have a substitute thought ready to drive this one out of your mind — and keep busy. If this is your only symptom you can stop worrying.

Double Deceived

Dear Ann: I have been going with a man for three years. We finally decided to get married. He kept stalling me off until one day I said, "Something is wrong—what is it?"

He told me he was already married and that his wife was in a mental institution. He has handed me so many lies about minor and major things that I don't know if he is lying about this, too. I asked him to bring some papers to prove it. So far he has not brought any proof.

I told him to leave me alone but he keeps dropping around where I work and calling me on the phone. I just don't know if I should trust him a little longer in the hope that he will figure out a way to marry me after all. Please give me some advice.—THELMA.

Dear Thelma: No matter how you slice it it sounds like baloney. If this Romeo has a wife he has no business dating you. If he hasn't a wife and invented one as an excuse to avoid marrying you, what do you want with him?

Tell him goodbye as if you meant it — with an exclamation point in your voice, instead of a question mark.

-:-

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Young Mother Gets Ready For Action

Many young mothers have an overwhelming weight problem. A 23-year old writes:

By Ida Jean Kain

"When things go wrong, I eat and eat! When I am depressed, I eat. After reading the letter from a young mom followed by the reducer's philosophy, I decided to do something about this weight problem of mine.

"I am 5 feet 1 and I weigh 176 pounds with measurements that would make you gasp ... 40, 37, 48! Pretty terrible, isn't it?

My poor, patient husband has been wonderful, but I know he wants me to lose weight. We have two boys, ages 2½ and 1 year. It won't be long before the older one will notice his mama isn't like other moms.

—:—

"MY PERSONALITY has undergone quite a change since I first gained weight. Before I was pregnant with my first child I wasn't overweight. Even after the baby arrived, I kept gaining.

"I used to be full of pep and energy and enjoyed meeting new people and doing new things ... but not any more. I am too ashamed of how I look and I don't want to go anywhere or do anything. I am tired all the time and it is an effort to get all my work done.

"I have gone to the doctor several times for pills, and pills, and more pills. But when the pills ran out and it was up to me, I always failed.

"Well, not any more! I've done some mental housecleaning. From now on I can lose weight and I will lose! I am on a sensible diet of 1,000 calories a day, plus exercise ... and more exercise. I will keep you posted on my progress... this will help my morale a lot. Keep up your wonderful work."

That spirited letter gave me a lift. On the spur of the moment I put in a long distance call. I'm happy to report she has carried through on her new resolve. With that all-important will-to-win, this young mother has lost 7½ pounds in three weeks.

What I suggested to her is just what I would suggest to all young mothers faced with a like weight problem. Do a right about - face in your thinking. See this as a new beginning.

THIS IS NOT just another diet, or another go at dieting. Decide to make slimming down and shaping up an adventure. An adventure in happy living can never be an ordeal.

Remember you have all your young adult life ahead of you. What you do now will influence the next 50 years of your life! It's been said that inside every fat woman is a slim gal wildly signalling to be set free. Set her free!

Mother Who Left Children Is Arrested

NEW YORK (AP)—The mother who left her two children in Gimbel's toy department has been arrested and charged with abandonment.

The children, Michael, 5, and Maria, 4, were found in the store Thanksgiving eve and taken to a children's shelter. The mother had put a note in the boy's pocket saying she could no longer care for them.

After receiving a telephone tip Thursday, police picked up the mother, Eileen Weiss, 29, in a Brooklyn apartment.

Actress Joan Caulfield Marries Her Dentist

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP) —Joan Caulfield and her dentist will honeymoon in Acapulco, Mexico, the actress said after her marriage to Dr. Robert H. Peterson Thursday night.

The Thanksgiving Day ceremony was performed by Municipal Court Judge Joseph Marchetti at the home of Hugo Grimaldi, movie-director neighbor of the blonde star. The late John Barrymore once occupied the house.

Racial Violence Fails To Develop At Football Game

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — Montgomery was relaxing today after threats of Thanksgiving Day race violence failed to materialize at a Negro college football game.

Officers arrested five white men, who later were released on bond, as groups of white persons were kept moving at Thursday's game between Tuskegee Institute and Alabama State College.

Though signs were posted the city Thursday morning urging "10,000 white people" to appear at the game, nowhere near that figure showed up at Cramton Bowl.

City and county officers kept white persons moving and broke up white gatherings near the stadium, making it difficult to estimate the size of the crowd outside the bowl.

The arrests were made near a restaurant in the vicinity of the publicly owned bowl, where Tuskeegee defeated Alabama State 12-8.

The approximately 8,000 Negro spectators left the game without incident.

Grouse Flies Through Window And Gets Stuck

CLEVELAND (AP)— This grouse really had something to grouse about—picture windows.

The bird flew through a window Thursday at the home of Alio Pellini in Cuyahoga Heights. Pellini said he found the bird trapped between the storm window and the inner window, apparently unable to make his way out of the 10-inch hole he had broken in the storm window.

Pellini removed the bird and when last seen it was running toward a ravine at the back of the home.

Bringing Up A Family

Shy Boy, 13, Fears Going To School

Occasionally in this column I have discussed children of the primary grades who show dread of going to school. An Ohio mother writes of an older boy:

Dr. Garry Meyers

"My son is 13 years old and going into the eighth grade. "He worries about school so much that it effects his stomach. Every year we have to take him to the doctor during the first weeks of school. The doctor usually gives him a sedative. "He does quiet down some fater a few weeks but he is nervous and upset to some extent most of the school year. The doctor says his health is excellent.

—:—

"HE HAS LOTS of friends and gets along well with the boys, but is shy and quiet in school. His teachers say that they wish he would break a school rule once in a while.

"His grades are poor, but they tell me he is intelligent.

"This all seemed to start in the first grade. He had a very strict teacher. She hit the children with a ruler. She had him frightened until he would vomit. "And he still fears punishment in school.

"He is a normal rowdy boy outside of school. The only difference from most boys that I can see is that he is just as happy by himself. Most boys need companionship. My son can spend hours working on radios and making things. He reads a lot of science books.

"He goes to school without breakfast the whole school year."

—:—

MY REPLY in part:

Perhaps you should ask your physician to refer you to a psychiatrist.

I hope Dad spends a lot of time with that boy, going places with him, having fun with him, attracting other boys his age to your home and encouraging him to cultivate some skills other boys his age will admire.

A summer camp might do him a great deal of good. I hope he becomes a Scout or a member of a boys' club.

Perhaps you and Dad could help him with his homework by reading his textbooks with him and helping him turn each paragraph into a few words of his own. Better still, you might be able to find a man tutor for him. Even if you have to pay a high price for a tutor, it should be a good investment.

'61 National Marketing Quota For Flue-Cured Tobacco Set

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department has announced a national marketing quota of 1,122 million pounds for the 1961 crop of flue-cured tobacco.

The department also said that the discount variety program on flue-cured tobacco will continue in effect on the 1961 crop.

The new quota, converted to acres, makes 715,817 acres available for allotment in 1961. Acreage available for allotment this year totaled 715,110 acres.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The use of airplanes and helicopters is the most important advance in forest fire fighting in the last 50 years, says the Forest Service.

But "men, tools and teamwork will always be necessary" despite valuable aerial assists, it adds.

A new 32-page booklet issued by the Agriculture Department traces the use of aircraft in forest fire fighting back to 1919, when the locations of forest fires were first pinpointed from the air.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Additional overseas sales of wheat and grain sorghums have been authorized by the Agriculture Department.

An authorization issued to Israel provides for the purchase of an additional $188,319 worth of grain sorghums from American suppliers.

Iran was given permission to buy an additional $1,240,000 worth of wheat.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Take it easy if you plan to lose weight, advises a new Agriculture Department booklet titled "Food and Your Weight."

"A pound or two off a week is plenty," the food experts suggest.

A department spokesman said, "Many doctors have been urging us to get this out . . . we expect this to be one of our best sellers."

Copies are available at 15 cents each from the Superintendent of Documents, U.S. Printing Office, Washington 25, D.C.

Hitchhikers, Here's New Twist To Get Ride

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Lt. B. J. Gibson of the Oklahoma highway patrol reports that while patrolling U. S. Highway 66 east of Clinton he spied a man trudging down the road with a big gasoline can.

"Did you run out of gas," asked Gibson as he pulled alongside to offer his help.

"Nope," came the reply.

Well, why the gas can, asked Lt. Gibson?

"I'm hitchhiking," the unidentified man replied, "and I hoped I'd fool some driver into giving me a lift this way."

4 Million Yule Trees Will Brighten Season

WASHINGTON (AP)—About 40 million Christmas trees will brighten the American holiday season this year, forestry experts predicted today.

The Agriculture Department said the estimate includes imports of about 12 million trees from Canada.

Cheer Leaders Chosen For Freshman Cagers

Chosen were Sandy Williams, Patty Moore, Sherrie Calcott and Ruth Edwards.

Named to an alternate team of cheerleaders were Geraldine Bednarczyk, Jeanne Jackson, Anita Ludovici and Glenda Gleaton.

They were chosen by a teacher committee included Standish Miller, Miss Betty Buben and Miss Sara Thomas, cheerleader coach.

Right Guy To Honor . . .

The East Liverpool Elks Club picked the right guy to honor in Bernie Allen. Not only a great athlete, he is a fine person as well.

The unassuming star of the Purdue eleven goes down as the most versatile athlete ever to come out of East Liverpool.

He plays most any sport well and in football does about everything but line the field before the game.

Big 10 opponents can vouch for his versatility. Allen beat Ohio State 24-21 with his toe, kicking a field goal and three conversions which meant the difference.

He turned around in the Minnesota game and defeated the Gophers with his passing and in several games this season has crossed the goal himself.

Allen will be remembered at Purdue for starring in football and baseball, but they'll also remember him at a Lafayette golf course.

Last summer in his leisure time he teed off and sank a hole in one at a distance of 300 yards. And the first time he ever bowled his score was around the 170 mark.

There hasn't been another athlete that has put East Liverpool on the map like Allen has done during the last three years.

While he is being honored tonight as Purdue's football star, he is expected to sign a contract with a major league baseball club this summer following his final season with the Boilermaker nine.

A reminder, tonight's event gets under way at 8:15. About 300 are expected and a few tickets will be sold at the door.

Jackson Starred At Purdue . . .

AN EX-POTTER star, who played on the outstanding 1945 team and once was a wearer of the Black and Gold at Purdue, will be on hand to help honor Allen tonight at the local Elks Club.

Don "Bulldog" Jackson, who was one of the first East Liverpool products to make a name for himself at the Lafayette, Ind., school, will be there.

Rudy Trbovich a fine place kicker and member of the 1945 ELHS team, also played at Purdue followed by Jackson.

"Bulldog," a name he picked up in high school, played at Purdue in 1950, 1955 and 1956. The gap between 1950 and 1955 was spent in the Army. Jackson was an outstanding lineman for the Boilermakers.

The game Jackson first recalls was the Purdue-Notre Dame contest of 1956 when the Boilermakers upset the Irish, breaking their winning streak, one of the longest ever put together by a college team.

He played center and guard at Purdue and in the Notre Dame game was outstanding.

In high school, during the 1946 season, Jackson could have been an All-Ohio center a position he played as a junior in 1945, but the 1946 season rolled around and the Potters needed a fullback. So who filled the bill—Jackson, forsaking the opportunity for all-state recognition.

As it was he was placed on the honorable mention team both years and in 1946 was named honorary captain.

He has continued his gridiron career, coaching football at Rossford in northwestern Ohio.

Booth Was First All-State Choice . . .

THE ALL-OHIO teams will be out within the next week or 10 days and it brings to mind some of the East Liverpool stars of the past who were given all - state berths.

The first all-scholastic team ever picked was sponsored by the Columbus Jaycees and the immortal Bill Booth was named to the second team. He was the first Potter to make an all-state squad.

Looking over the records Capt. Dick McGillivray was the next all-Ohio choice, being placed on the third Associated Press team in 1939.

Moving to 1942, Ray Gochenour was picked on the second team and in 1944 it was Sam Winters being placed on the third team, while Alonzo Spencer received honorable mention.

From the great 1945 club rated seventh in the state was Dick O'Hanlon, who made the first AP and INS All-Ohio squads, with Spencer and Chuck Means on third team, while Henry Pack and Jackson were honorable mention choices.

Tom Bell was named to first team All-Ohio, with Jackson receiving honorable mention in 1946.

The 1947 and 1948 seasons were the lean years, but in 1949 Charlie Bell was put on the second all-state team and Gene Rose and Nick Trua received honorable mention.

The 1951 season saw Eddie Oliver as a junior make the second All-Ohio team, while Don Chadwick was on the honorable mention list.

'52 And '55 Hit Jackpot . . .

The 1952 Potters hit the jackpot. Four East Liverpool gridders were placed on first teams, but the unanimous choice was guard Ernie Bell, who was named to no less than five All-State squads.

Oliver, Clair Williams and Bob McCoy were selected on others.

The same thing happened again in 1955 when four more Potters gained all-state honors. They included Jim Potts, Gene Bell, Bert Dorsey and Jack Bryan.

Jack Dopler and Allen were selected for recognition in 1956. George Hale was the only Potter to make the first team offensively in 1957, while Nick Musuraca came away with second team honors in 1958.

Bob Mackall was the last all-state selection, being picked on the second team last season.

This year Kenny Cunningham and Skip Hall are in line for spots.

Bellino And Middies Rate Edge Over Army

Texas In Line For Bowl

Army-Navy Game Ends 1960 College Grid Season

By JACK CLARY
Associated Press Sports Writer

Texas' abrupt turnabout from a soso outfit in midseason to one that took its last four games has snared a berth for the Longhorns in Houston's second annual Blue bonnet Bowl. But not even this, or Mississippi's do-or-die struggle Saturday to gain the national title has taken the luster off one of the toughest Army-Navy games to come down the pike in a long time.

The two service schools meet in Philadelphia Stadium Saturday afternoon as the highlight of the final big day of the 1960 college football season.

Mississippi's game against Mississippi State could raise a few brows, at least when the final Associated Press poll is released next week. That is the one that determines the national champion, and Ole Miss, third this week, is going to try and impress the selectors who have Minnesota, co-champ of the Big Ten and Rose Bowl-bound, presently No. 1.

Texas did a bit of impressing Thursday. The Longhorns, 3-3 in mid-October, won their fourth straight, 21-14 over Texas A&M, to help change Coach Darrell Royal's mind about forgoing any post season play. Their opponent in the Bluebonnet still is unnamed but Alabama (6-1-1) reportedly has the inside track. 'Bama meets eighth-ranked Auburn Saturday.

Elsewhere on Thursday, Penn made Cornell Coach Lefty James' swan-song a sad one, beating the Big Red 18-7 while Virginia Tech surprised Southern Conference champion Virginia Military 13-12.

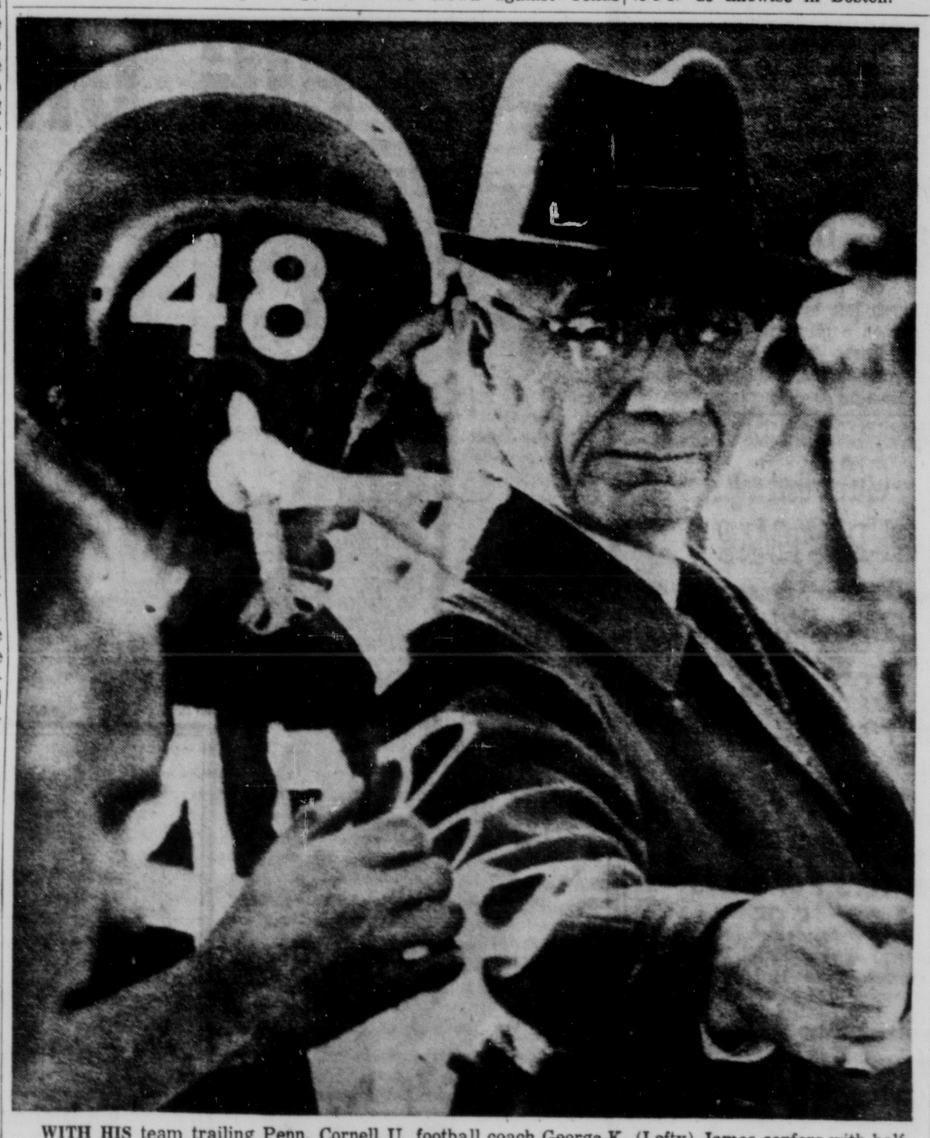

In another Southern Conference game, Richmond easily handled William & Mary 19-0. Denver quarterback Ramiro Escandon set a host of school records in a 21-12 victory over Colorado State U., while Missouri Valley Conference champion Wichita romped over West Texas State 31-14.

All other top-ranked teams have finished their season, but undefeated and untied New Mexico State (9-0) goes after its 14th straight victory and the Border Conference crown against Texas Western. However a loss, and a win by second place Arizona, will give the latter the title.

Rice (7-2) plays Gator Bowl-bound Baylor (7-2), aiming for a victory that would give the Owls a tie for the Southwest Conference title and most likely send them to the Sugar Bowl. Arkansas has already nailed down at least a share of the SWC crown and is in the Cotton Bowl.

Florida (7-2), which Thursday night voted to accept a Gator Bowl bid but which also, by SEC rules can't officially say "yes" until its season ends, plays Miami (6-2). The Gators are being a bit flexible, and will accept an Orange Bowl bid instead—if one comes their way.

Tennessee (5-2) bowl conscious, plays Vanderbilt (3-6) while Georgia Tech (5-4) also mentioned for post season play, goes against Georgia (5-4). Notre Dame (1-8) and Southern California (4-5) wind up poor seasons in Los Angeles with their traditional battle. Holy Cross (5-4) and Boston College (3-5-1) do likewise in Boston.

WITH HIS team trailing Penn, Cornell U. football coach George K. (Lefty) James confers with halfback George Ekstrom during what was James' final game as Cornell coach Thursday at Philadelphia. James was fired following yesterday's Ivy League game. He was told two weeks ago his contract wouldn't be renewed. (UPI Telephoto)

Cornell Grid Coach Fired; Becomes 5th

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The story is that in the Ivy League they play football for fun. Don't tell that to the coaches.

The firing of George K. (Lefty) James by Cornell Thursday marked the fifth head coach to be replaced in the staid old loop since it was formalized in 1956.

Penn, Harvard, Columbia, Brown and now Cornell have installed new coaches since the Ivy League presidents announced formalization of the league, and indicated it expected its coaches to build character. Winning football teams were to be incidental.

Robert Kane, Cornell athletic director, confirmed a report that James, 55, had come to the end of the line after 25 years far above Cayuga's waters, 14 as head coach of the Big Red football team. Said Kane, in an announcement six minutes before the end of the Penn-Cornell game: "Lefty was a competent teacher, given too little time to teach. He did a good job for Cornell. It is doubtful if anyone could have done better under the circumstances. Cornell University and all Cornellians are indebted to him for long, faithful and dignified service."

James remained incommunicado after his team bowed, 18-7, to Penn in the traditional Thanksgiving Day game. But Wednesday, in a locker room at the Philmont Country Club where Cornell stayed for the Penn visit, he told the Associated Press: "It (the firing) hit me like a bombshell. I just didn't expect it."

James, asking that his remarks be kept off the record until after the Penn game, explained he had been called in last Tuesday—a week ago—and informed his contract would not be renewed.

Cornell had been experiencing tough sledding the past few years. The 1960 team wound up with a record of 2 victories and 7 defeats.

James compiled a 14-year record of 66 victories, 58 defeats and 2 ties.

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Explosive Joe Bellino makes once-beaten Navy a slight favorite over Army Saturday at Philadelphia Stadium in their 61st meeting before 98,816 fans.

Bellino, a senior halfback from Winchester, Mass., whose 104 points make him the second highest scorer in the nation's major college ranks, is the key to Navy's well-balanced offense. Only Duke, which held Bellino scoreless by forcing him inside, has been able to shoot down the high-flying Middies who rank No. 7 in the Associated Press poll.

Army's attack has been made up of Tom Blanda's passes and the crashes of Al Rushatz, a 190-pound fullback, through the line. The Cadets have a 6-2-1 record, losing to Penn State and Nebraska and tying Pittsburgh. Their fine performance in upsetting Syracuse 9-6 and the statistical edge they held despite their tie with Pitt has drawn solid support to Coach Dale Hall's Cadets.

There will be full pomp and ceremony at the vast concrete stadium which will house its usual sellout crowd. The Cadets and Middies will stage customary parades before the game with kickoff scheduled for 1:30 p. m. and national network (ABC) television coverage.

If Navy wins, it may go to either the Cotton Bowl in Dallas where it would meet Arkansas or to the Orange Bowl in Miami where Missouri would be the opponent.

Bellino, the man who set a Navy record by scoring three touchdowns against Army in last year's 43-12 rout, probably is the most publicized football player in the nation. His 17 touchdowns and spectacular runs make him a marked man. Only Duke kept Bellino from scoring while the Middies were rolling up an 8-1 record.

Quarterback Hal Spooner's passes to halfback John Prichard, end Jim Luper or Bellino balance Bellino's running threat.

Army's Blanda, brother of George Blanda of the pro Houston Oilers of the American Football League, has thrown more often than Spooner (142 to 91) but each quarterback has a completion average of 58 per cent. Spooner has thrown seven TD passes, Blanda eight.

Lions Spoil Green Bay's Chances With 23-10 Win

DETROIT (AP) — A Detroit Lions fan full of the holiday spirit grabbed Coach George Wilson by the lapels and spoke in authoritative tones:

"Your offense was clicking and you had those other guys defensed perfectly. What more can a guy ask, huh?"

Wilson's reply was: "Three more victories like this one."

The Detroit coach was grateful for his team's 23-10 victory Thursday that just about knocked the Green Bay Packers out of title consideration in the National Football League's Western Division. Two fumbles and a blocked punt led to all but one score in the nationally televised contest.

Wilson called it his team's finest game of the year. It brought the Lions' record to 4-5.

"We haven't rushed a passer like that in a long, long time," said Wilson. "And that's the biggest thing in football. If you can get to the other club's passer, and protect your own, you can win."

Detroit linemen threw quarterbacks Bart Starr and Lamar McHan for 60 yards in losses.

Detroit's Jim Ninowski, appearing before 54,123 fans, tossed for 182 yards with 19 completions out of 34 tries.

For the Packers, it was a bitter and frustrating loss to a team they had beaten 28-9 earlier in the season.

Los Angeles draws a bye Sunday, but the other clubs will be in action. The schedule finds Cleveland at St. Louis, Dallas at Chicago, New York at Philadelphia, San Francisco at Baltimore and Washington at Pittsburgh.

Buffalo Back Sparks East In Gem Bowl

ERIE, Pa. (AP)—Gordon Bukaty of Buffalo University sparked the East team to a 27-26 victory over the West in the third annual Gem City Football Bowl Thursday.

Bukaty plunged a yard for one touchdown and tossed two scoring passes to Nick Anzelmi of George Washington—one for 15 yards and another for 10.

Mike Scatena of St. Vincent (Pa.) College scored the other East touchdown on a 51-yard pass play from Charles Packen of George Washington.

Bill Cooper of Muskingum scored the West's first TD on a one-yard plunge, and Al Faunce of Northwestern tallied the second on an eight-yard run.

The West got its last two touchdowns on passes from Ron Costello of Xavier. He hit Steve McClellan of Wooster with a 15-yarder. With only 2:45 left in the game, Costello got off a 60-yard scoring play with a pass off a triple reverse to Jim Muellen of Xavier.

The West tried to run for the extra two points that would have put them ahead but were stopped short of the goal.

Quebec Acquires New Coach After 7 Losses In Row

By The Associated Press

The Quebec Aces, only two weeks ago tied with Springfield for first place in the American Hockey League, have lost seven straight and have a new coach.

The change in coaches followed Thursday night's 5-3 setback by the last place Providence Reds in the circuit's only game. Fleming Mackell resigned as coach after the game, but said he would stay on as a player. He is a center.

Mackell was succeeded by Jack Toupin, who coached the Aces last year when they finished last with only 19 victories in 72 games.

Despite their losing streak that has dropped them to third place, the Aces still are in contention. They trail pace-setting Springfield by eight points and second place Buffalo by only two.

Stan Baluik was the big gun in the Reds' attack as he scored three goals and set up another.

Army and Syracuse have met 12 times on the gridiron. Army leads the series, started in 1899, by 8-4.

Big 10 Figures Show Allen 3rd In Offense

CHICAGO (AP) — Iowa, co-champion with Rose Bowl-bound Minnesota, today was certified as the Big Ten's No. 1 team on offense for the second consecutive year.

Final official conference football statistics gave the Hawkeyes the edge over Ohio State with averages of 27.2 points a game, 15.5 first downs and 303.5 total yards.

Ohio State averaged 21.5 points, 14.8 first downs and 307.7 yards.

Minnesota, the defensive leader most of the season, gave way to Michigan in the final ranking. The Wolverines yielded averages of 11.8 points, 12.5 first downs and 231.5 yards.

The Gophers were second in defense and Northwestern third.

The major individual champions were: Total offense—Ron Miller, Wisconsin, 961 yards; rushing—Bob Ferguson, Ohio State, 560 yards on 114 carries for a 4.9 average; passing—Miller, 72 completions in 144 attempts for 966 yards and 4 touchdowns.

Tom Matte of Ohio State was second to Miller in total offense with 952 yards and the best average, 5.4 yards per play. Matte also was second, to teammate Ferguson, in rushing with 471 yards, and second in passing.

Bernie Allen of Purdue was third in passing and third in total offense, completing 49 of 83 passes for 601 yards and adding 111 yards rushing.

Local Beagle Takes Field Championship

White Crest Hans, Jr. owned by Charles White of the East Liverpool Beagle Club completed his field championship at the field trial held by the Old Dominion Beagle Club near Richmond, Va.

Hans, Jr. is the two year old son of Field Champion Bown's Hans and Field Champion Red Bay Susie Que, bred by Alfred Bayless of Newell.

Although he completed his field championship at the unusual early age of two years, he has duplicated the achievement of his sire before him.

His first win was at the Crowfoot Beagle Club near Pittsburgh. The second at the Shenango Valley Beagle Club of Volant, Pa.

Each year more than fifty thousand Beagles compete in trials all over the United States, of this total about two hundred and fifty hounds complete their championships, with some hounds taking several years to complete the title.

The champ was handled by Tom Moore, professional handler of New Philadelphia.

Muskingum's Cooper Top Back

Musuraca Named To Second All-Ohio Conference Team

DELAWARE, Ohio (AP)—Ohio Conference coaches today announced their All-Ohio Conference football team selections, with champion Muskingum College and runner-up Ohio Wesleyan University dominating the list.

Nick Musuraca of East Liverpool, leading ground gainer and scorer for Denison this season was named to the second All - Ohio Conference team.

Musuraca, a sophomore at the Granville school, picked up 861 yards on the ground and scored 72 points.

Muskingum, which has been rated one of the finest teams in conference history, placed seven men on the first offensive or defensive units, two men on second teams. Coach Ed Sherman's squad won all nine games, seven in league play.

Second-place finisher, Ohio Wesleyan, with a 6-1 mark, placed four men on the first team, five on the second units, giving both the Muskies and Bishops nine places on the 45-man all-star teams.

Since there was unlimited substitution in the conference, full offensive and defensive squads were selected by the coaches. Two quarterbacks and three fullbacks, no halfbacks, were placed on the 12-man offensive team.

The coaches selected men from nine different teams on the offensive first squad, Muskingum claiming three places and Otterbein two. Muskingum players named were end Clyde Benninghoff, tackle John Kruzan and fullback Bill Cooper. Cooper was the winner as best back in the league.

Ron Jones of Otterbein, an end, the conference's all-time touchdown pass catcher, made the team, as did the Otters' Larry Cline who was named the second quarterback. Wittenberg's Gary Tranquill is the first team quarterback selection.

Others on the first offensive team are tackle Keith Sugaski, Oberlin; guards Dick Hoppe, Ohio Wesleyan, and Al Slicker, Denison; center Virg Stroia, Mount Union; backs Steve McClellan, Wooster, and Dallas Garber, Marietta.

Muskingum placed four men on the defensive unit, Ohio Wesleyan three. Gaining first honors for Muskingum were tackle Phil Wenger, linebacker Wade Mabry, corner backer Ron Dierks and safety man Jed Middleton. Wesleyan's choices were middle guard Ernie Bickford, corner backer Jay Farrar and linebacker Max Urick. Urick previously had been named Gregory Award winner as best lineman in the O.C.

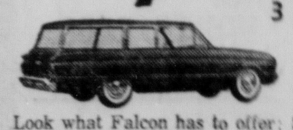

Completing the defensive unit were end Bill Carpenter and tackle Bill Frantz of Wittenberg, end Lu Wims of Wooster, and safety man Frank Lomax of Akron.

Arguments On Pay-TV Hit New Absurdity

Teeing off from the position that pay-TV is "un-American," opponents of the toll system have descended to a new and irrelevant absurdity, the idea that "sex and four-letter words" would be piped into American homes with the advent of box office television.

Marie Torre

Advocates of pay-TV promise movies of the caliber of "On the Terrace," "Ben Hur" and "Can Can," but do not these contain scenes too sexy or fulsome for the delicate eyes of the home audience?

Advocates of pay-TV promise Broadway stage productions, but can the American household abide the profanity and invective that emanate from any legitimate stage?

PROFOUND questions, no doubt, but we don't have the answers. Nor do we care. Nor do we think there's much to be said for a campaign that is attempting to halt the development of pay-TV by muddying the water with such a charge as the "filth-in-the-home" dangers of the toll system.

This improbable, not to mention unpleasant, charge was voiced at the just-concluded pay-TV hearings conducted by the Federal Communications Commission, which will decide whether it will give the green light to RKO General for a $10 million, three-year experiment with Zenith's "Phonevision" in Hartford, Conn.

At the hearings, counsel Marcus Cohn, representing the motion picture exhibitors exhibitors who show movies like "Ben Hur," "Can Can" and "On the Terrace", tried to establish that certain pictures promised to the potential pay-TV audience in Hartford contains scenes not permitted on TV, and that the four-letter words in stage presentations would be out of bounds.

COHN QUESTIONED RKO president Thomas F. O'Neil on the matter, and the latter patiently explained that he would take care to choose and to edit so as to carry out his obligations as a licensee of the FCC.

Shooting up another irrelevancy, Cohn asked O'Neil whether, if a play or film took a stand on a controversial issue, equal time would be given to those holding the opposite viewpoint, and he mentioned segregation specifically.

O'Neil said he would have to be guided by what his counsel considers his duties as a TV station operator.

But the motion picture exhibitors aren't alone in opposing pay-TV. The networks also have been spreading loose talk about the "evils" of pay-TV.

One rumor that was passed around recently had it that a TV family could spend as much as $5,000 a year to see programs now shown free. Another was that a teen-ager could cost his parents something like $400 in a couple of evenings of unrestricted viewing.

FIDDLE FADDLE! If the high cost of pay-TV were to be truth, foes of the toll system would have no fears, for never in a million years would the American public put up with such a thing.

But isn't it in the democratic tradition to let the people decide what they want and don't want? If RKO General thinks it can draw viewers with something better than they're getting on free TV, they ought to be given an opportunity. If pay-TV fails, that's the worry of the investors.

Meanwhile, the interests of a better informed public on the box office TV system, may we urge a halt to nonsensical arguments.

In our mail the other day, there was a lengthy study from Hill & Knowlton, Inc., which pointed out that free TV probably is costing just over 6 cents for each hour you sit before the electronic screen.

"More propaganda against the toll system," we suspected. But happily we were wrong. A check revealed that the study was commissioned not by the networks or motion picture exhibitors but, by a manufacturer of TV picture tubes.

Ohio Traffic Toll Rises To 5 For Holiday

Traffic	5
Fire	2
Miscellaneous	1
Total	8

By The Associated Press

At least five persons had been killed on Ohio's highways as the 102-hour Thanksgiving holiday period passed the one-third mark.

Traffic deaths were running at about the same rate—or even less—than during a similar but non holiday period survey by The Associated Press two weeks ago for purpose of comparison.

From 6 p.m. Wednesday, Nov. 9, through midnight Sunday, Nov. 13, the Ohio toll was 26 deaths in traffic, 8 in fires and 7 in miscellaneous accidents, for a total of 41.

In terms of traffic fatalities alone, that figured out very close to one death every four hours.

As the holiday period hit the one-third mark — with 34 hours gone—the traffic death rate was around one every seven hours in Ohio.

In addition, two fire deaths and one miscellaneous fatality have been recorded.

Fire claimed the lives of two small children in Monroe County when their frame home burned to the ground. The young brother and sister had been left alone while their mother went next door and their father and two older children went to a nearby country store.

The mother made a vain attempt to enter the house and save the children but was turned back by flames. The county sheriff said he believed the blaze was caused by an overheated oil heater.

An elderly Cleveland woman was asphyxiated in the boarding house where she lived when carbon monoxide fumes from a gas-fired water heater filtered through the dwelling. Two other persons of the 10 who lived in the house were overcome by fumes, but were treated at a hospital and released.

The fatalities:

Wednesday Night

Jesse Ferguson, 45, Lima, when a train hit his auto at a crossing there as he drove on a private road marked with a "No Trespassing" signs.

Mrs. Sophia Ann Fisher, 47, Cuyahoga Falls, struck by a car while crossing Ohio 8 a block from her home.

Preston Colley, 57, Youngstown, hit by a car while crossing a street there.

Thursday

Leonard Patterson, 25, Bellaire, when his car went off Ohio 7 about four miles south of Shadyside in Belmont County.

Mrs. Katie Watson, 82, Cleveland, asphyxiated by carbon monoxide fumes in a boarding house there.

Mrs. Lillian E. Congdon, 66, Columbus, when the car in which she was riding was hit broadside by another auto at the intersection of two Fairfield County roads 2½ miles south of Lancaster.

Deborah Kay Smith, 11 months, and her brother, Charles, 6, children of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Smith, when fire destroyed their frame home near Graysville (Monroe County).

(Among the four injured in the Fairfield County fatal accident were John H. Kelley, 25, of Marion, the other driver, and his wife, Bessie, 23, who were admitted to Lancaster Fairfield Hospital.)

Fireman Who Helped Quell Blaze Claimed

BECKLEY, W. Va. (AP) — Steve Horwath, 49, a member of the Beckley Fire Department, died of an apparent heart attack late Thursday after helping extinguish a minor blaze at Pinecrest Sanitarium.

Fellow firemen said Horwath, father of six children, complained of chest pains. He was administered oxygen and rushed to a hospital where he died a few minutes later.

Firemen blamed the fire, confined to one room on the third floor of the nurses' home, on an unattended cigarette. Damage was estimated at about $200.

Barron Probably Will Select Aides In Mid-December

CHARLESTON (AP) — Gov-elect Wally Barron probably will delay until mid-December any announcements of the men and women he has picked to help him run the state government.

Democratic state headquarters announced that Barron will first take care of "the more pressing problems of his program preparation." Selection of the various appointees will come next.

The headquarters added that Barron will meet with legislative leaders after the Democratic lawmakers caucus here Dec. 10 to lay the groundwork for his program to be handed the legislative convenint Jan. 11.

In its report, the headquarters noted it was being swamped by job-seekers.

"Every idle Democrat in West Virginia apparently wants to get on the ground floor," the headquarters said.

The office added that not every Republican holding a state job would be dismissed, but "there will probably be a large number of positions change hands."

3 Boys, Girl Captured In Stolen Automobile

CLEVELAND (AP)—Three boys and a girl in a stolen automobile were captured Thursday night at a police roadblock in East Cleveland after the car had knocked down a detective, police reported.

Lt. Milton Jennrich, 36, was knocked down and dragged several feet when he approached the youngsters in the car. His partner, Detective Frank Bajzel, 32, fired five shots into the gasoline tank as the car sped away.

The car ran out of gasoline two blocks away, where police had set up a roadblock. The three boys, age 15 and 16, and a 14-year-old girl were held. Officers said the car was stolen from an automobile agency on Euclid Avenue Monday.

Lt. Jennrich was treated at Huron Road Hospital.

Road Bond Bids Due

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP) — Bids will be opened here Dec. 6 on two million dollars worth of state road bonds. They will bear interest at a rate of not more than four per cent, and the bidder offering the lowest net interest rate will be favored.

Autopsy Planned Today In Death Of Alliance Man

ALLIANCE, Ohio (AP) — An autopsy was planned today by Dr. H. W. Gauchat, acting Stark County coroner, to determine the cause of death of Clarence McNeil, 44, of Alliance.

Meanwhile, police held without charge four men accused of taking part in a fight at the Elks Club shortly before McNeil was found Thursday morning lying on the ground at the rear of a Jersey Street home, one block from the club. He died a few minutes after being admitted to City Hospital.

Police who broke up the fight said their investigation showed McNeil had been attacked by four men at the club.

Names of the four held were not revealed.

Capt. Donald E. Cowen, acting police chief, said McNeill's wife, Hattie, and a daughter were being held as material witnesses. Cowen said Mrs. McNeil was the last person to see her husband alive.

Parks Division Will Accept Reservations For Summer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A month before Christmas may seem early to be thinking about summer vacation cabins, but the Ohio Parks Division says Jan. 1 is the date to act. So better be planning ahead.

For the first time in 13 years, all Parks Division vacation cabins will be available on a first come, first served basis. Starting New Year's Day, reservations for the 131 cabins can be made in person, by mail or by phone (bring along, or send, a $10 deposit) to these local headquarters:

Lake Hope, Zaleski (44 cabins); Pymatuning, Rt. 1, Andover (35); Hueston Woods, Brown Road, Oxford (34); Pike Lake, Rt. 2, Bainbridge (15) or South Bass Island, Rt. 1, Port Clinton (three group cabins).

Duck hunters get another chance soon. The season closed at sunset Thanksgiving Day, but reopens at noon Dec. 23 and doesn't close permanently until sunset Dec. 31.

Then there's the Columbus hunter who got half a rabbit. J. F. Oldfield, hunting on Ed Hutchins' property on the Franklin - Delaware county line, saw part of a rabbit (the rear, to be exact) protruding from some brush.

Oldfield shot where he assumed the head would be. The rabbit stayed put, so he went to pick it up. Only half was there. Oldfield figures a horned owl or some other predator got there first.

Ray Hayworth, ex-Chicago Cub scout, has signed a three - year contract with Milwaukee's Braves as director of scouts.

Rebounding Mark Set By Chamberlain

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Wilt Chamberlain had just established his ninth new National Basketball Association record and his first this year but the big guy wasn't overjoyed about it.

His Philadelphia Warriors lost Thursday night to the Boston Celtics, 132-129, as the Celtics, winning their fifth straight, increased their Eastern Division lead to half a game over the Warriors.

Chamberlain's 55 rebounds, which broke Bill Russell's old NBA record of 51 against Syracuse on Feb. 8, 1959, plus his 34 points had kept the Warriors in the game until Sam Jones and Gene Conley got hot in the final six minutes to pull the Celtics from a 114 tie to victory.

Asked how it felt to own the new rebound record, the 7-1 Wilt said:

"Well, I'd have felt a lot better if we'd won. We were trying hard to win and the loss takes the luster away from it (the rebound record)."

In other NBA games Thursday night, St. Louis, Western Division leader, easily defeated Syracuse 132-97 and Los Angeles beat Cincinnati 108-100.

Elgin Baylor, leading scorer in the NBA, racked up 33 points for Los Angeles but the game's high scorer was Cincinnati's Jack Twyman with 35. Oscar Robertson had 30 for the Royals.

Ohio To Receive Fish-Game Fund

WASHINGTON (AP)—A total of $21,425,402 in federal funds has been apportioned to the states for their fish and game restoration programs for this fiscal year, including $563,603 for Ohio, Secretary of the Interior Fred A. Seaton announced today. Ohio gets $410,886 for its wildlife program and $152,717 for fish restoration.

The national apportionment includes a partial one of $12,800,000 made available July 1. The funds are derived from federal excise taxes collected from manufacturers—an 11 per cent tax on sporting guns and ammunition and 10 per cent on fishing rods, reels, lures, etc.

Federal aid money is matched by state funds on the basis of not to exceed $3 federal to $1 state, although the states carry out all projects with their own resources and are reimbursed for up to 75 per cent of the cost.

Austin College Star Wins Offense Title

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Charles Miller of Austin College in Sherman, Tex., rolled up 1,966 yards in nine games and won the 1960 total offense championship of the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics.

Right on his heels was Dennis Spurlock, Whitworth (Wash) College, who took the NAIA passing title with 1,892 yards in nine games. Spurlock's total offense was 1,897 yards.

Herb Sutton, Ottawa (Kan.) was the leading scorer with 125 points.

Browns Polish Up On Defense

CLEVELAND (AP) — It was work as usual for the Cleveland Browns Thanksgiving Day as they concentrated on defense in their practice session.

They will be battling to keep alive their slim chance for the National Football League title when they meet the St. Louis Cardinals Sunday in St. Louis.

Now in third place in the NFL's Eastern Conference with a 5-3 record, Cleveland would be dropped to fourth by a St. Louis victory. The Cardinals are 5-4.

Pitted against each other Sunday will be the NFL's two rushing leaders. Fullback Jim Brown of Cleveland holds the lead with a total of 780 yards in 140 attempts. Halfback John Crow of St. Louis is in second place with 702 yards on 130 carries. Brown has averaged 5.6 yards per carry and Crow 5.4.

The Browns piled up a 21-7 lead in the first half and then barely hung on to take a 28-27 decision when they played the Cardinals here Nov. 13.

Houston Star Repeats In AAU Cross-Country

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Al Lawrence, 28-year-old Australian from the University of Houston, has added to his prowess as a distance runner.

Bursting forth in the last 300 yards, Lawrence Thursday won in the National AAU 10,000-meter cross-country run for the second straight year.

His final kick gave him a good 60 yards over runnerup Fred Norris, 39-year-old Briton who runs for McNeese State College.

Lawrence's time for the 6¼-mile course at Bellarmine College was 31:20.8.

Lawrence sparked Houston to the team title with 33 points. The New York Athletic Club was second with 42.

Lenoir Rhyne Gains Playoff Spot In NAIA

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Lenoir Rhyne College of Hickory, N.C., today was named host team for the Eastern football playoffs of the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics Dec. 3.

The Bears were undefeated in 10 games and won their sixth straight North State Conference championship Thursday with a 56-6 victory over Catawba College at Salisbury, N.C.

Lenoir Rhyne picked for the second straight year by the NAIA selection committee to host the Eastern playoffs, finished the season as No. 1 team in the NAIA poll and was second in the Associated Press small college poll last week.

Lenoir Rhyne's opponent in the Eastern playoffs has not been selected. The winner will advance to the NAIA championship game in the Holiday Bowl at St. Petersburg, Fla., Dec. 10.

Humboldt State of Arcata, Calif., No. 2 team in the NAIA poll, was picked Thursday as host of the Western playoffs. Its opponent will be named later.

Undefeated Humboldt downed Lewis and Clark College of Portland, Ore., 34-0 Thursday for its 10th win of the season.

Col. Caldwell To Retire From Ordnance Post

CLEVELAND (AP)—Col. Ross R. Caldwell, commanding officer of the Cleveland Ordnance District—one of the nation's largest—since June 1957, announced Thursday he will retire from military service Dec. 1. His successor will be Col. Ralph McMahon, who has been stationed in Korea with the Korean military advisory group.

Col. Caldwell said he had no plans at present but that he probably will stay in Cleveland. He is a native of Oskaloosa, Iowa.

2 Deadlocked For Lead In Mobile Open

MOBILE, Ala. (AP)—A veteran who hasn't won a tournament in nearly seven years and a young pro seeking his first tournament victory are tied with 6-under-par 66s after the first round of the Mobile Open golf tournament.

Freddie Haas, 44, of New Orleans toured the 6,900-yard par 36-36—72 Mobile Municipal in 32-34—66. He birdied six holes and parred the rest.

Jon Gustin, 28, of Gladwyne, Pa., carded a 33-33—66, sinking seven birdies and going over par only once.

Gustin joined the traveling pros on a full-time basis in August 1959.

The field of 148 will be trimmed to the low 60s and ties after today's second round. Eighteen-hole rounds are scheduled for Saturday and Sunday.

Arnold Palmer, leading money winner of the year, was tied with six others two strokes back of the leaders. Palmer rejoined the tour here after a two-month layoff. He needs a little more than $1,100 to become the all-time top money winner for a year.

Houston, Boston Hook Up In AFL

By The Associated Press

Houston, Eastern Division leader and with the best record in both divisions, takes on the Patriots at Boston in the only American Football League game on Friday's schedule.

Houston is 7-3 in the league, and will retain its division lead no matter what happens, inasmuch as Boston, in second place, is 5-5.

In the only Thanksgiving Day encounter the New York Titans snapped a four-game losing streak in defeating Dallas in a wild-scoring game 41-35, thanks to the all-around offensive play of Al Dorow.

Dorow threw for two touchdowns, ran for one, and set up two more with passes. He had 21 completions in 36 pass attempts, good for 301 yards in the Titans' final home game.

Abner Haynes, the league's leading ground gainer, scored two Houston touchdowns, and Cotton Davidson passed for the other two. Jack Spikes kicked field goals of 14 and 11 yards.

1 Killed, 1 Injured As Wooden Beam Falls

CHARLEROI, Pa. (AP) — A 24-foot wooden beam being installed in a garage fell from its perch Thursday killing one worker and critically injuring another.

Patsy Boccobello, 71, of Bentleyville, was dead on arrival at Charleroi-Monessen Hospital.

James Horrell, 63, of Belle Vernon, was reported in critical condition with fractures of the skull and arm.

The men were helping install the beam for a carport under construction in the United Motor Sales Garage here.

Firemen said a crane has just lowered the beam in place when a crane hook snagged the beam, causing it to fall.

Tests Slated Jan. 7 To Fill Job Vacancies

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP) — Clerical and stenographic examinations will be administered Jan. 7 to fill vacancies in six state departments the West Virginia Merit System Council has announced.

Welch H. Henritze Jr., merit system supervisor, said applicants must have high school educations and experience in the two fields. Dec. 17 is the deadline for applications.

Vacancies exist in the departments of Health, Mental Health, Public Assistance, Employment Security, Conservation Commission and the Division of Vocational Rehabilitation.

West Union Without Water As Main Breaks

WEST UNION, Ohio (AP) — West Union residents hoped to have their water service restored today. The town's 700 private water users have been without water since Wednesday because of a break in a main near the pumping station. Rodney Grooms, water works superintendent, said workmen, replacing 400 feet of main, hoped to be done today.

In the emergency, tank trucks have hauled water from Winchester and Chillicothe to the Adams County Hospital for use there. Water in the 100,000-gallon storage tank has been reserved in case of fire.

2 IN MEMORIAM

IN LOVING memory of our son, Husband, Father, and Brother, HARRY W. STACEY, who passed away 3 years ago today, Nov. 25, 1957. Sad and sudden was the call. A bitter grief, a shock severe, to part with one we loved so dear. To love, to hold and then to part, is the saddest thing of the human heart. "O' Lord keep green the grass that lies, beneath the wide and starry skies." Keep sweet the sleep and and give him rest, whose hands are folded over his breast. Forgotten to the world by some, you may be, but Harry to our memory you ever will be.
SADLY MISSED BY MOM, DAD, WIFE, DAUGHTER, SISTERS and BROTHERS.

Deaths and Funerals

Lee W. Bricker Claimed At 73

Services will be held Saturday for Lee W. Bricker, 515 Thompson Ave., founder of the city's Isaly's Dairy Store, who died Thursday morning about 4 at City Hospital.

Mr. Bricker, 73, had been ill for some time.

He was born at Mansfield Sept. 23, 1887, a son of William and Anna Patterson Bricker.

He came here in February 1930 to open the dairy store. Before that he had served as the clerk of the Franklin Township Board of Education of Richland County for 12 years.

Mr. Bricker was a member of St. John's Evangelical Lutheran Church, the Men's Brotherhood and served on the Church Council.

Besides his widow, Mrs. Lenora Stiefel Bricker at home, he is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Arthur Stiefel of Shadyside; four sons, Ronald Bricker and Howard Bricker of Columbus and Harold Bricker and William Bricker of East Liverpool; two sisters, Mrs. Mary Urich and Miss Nellie Bricker of Youngstown; a brother, John Bricker of Youngstown, and three granddaughters.

Services will be held Saturday afternoon at 3 at the Arner Home for Funerals by the Rev. Charles Kampmeyer. Burial will be in Columbiana County Memorial Park.

Friends may call at the funeral home.

D. W. Baumgarner

Delmer W. Baumgarner, 48, of Bridge St., employe of the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co., was pronounced dead on arrival at City Hospital this morning at 4:15 after suffering a heart attack at his home.

He was born in Parkersburg, son of Mrs. Eva Wilson Gray of East Liverpool, and the late John L. Baumgarner.

Besides his mother, he leaves his widow, Mrs. Gay Hatcher Baumgarner, and four sons, Darrell Baumgarner, Clinton Baumgarner and Delmer Baumgarner Jr., all at home, and Delbert Baumgarner of East Liverpool; five daughters, Mrs. James Phillips of Wellsville, Mrs. Donna White and Mrs. Kenneth Dunn, both of East Liverpool, and Rebecca Baumgarner and Darlene Baumgarner, both at home; nine brothers, Rex F. Baumgarner, Charles H. Baumgarner, John F. Baumgarner and Harold Baumgarner, all of Niagara Falls, Willen N. Baumgarner, A. Augustus Baumgarner, Richard S. Baumgarner, Allen J. Baumgarner and James E. Baumgarner, all of East Liverpool; four sisters, Mrs. Loraina Gruver of Youngstown, Mrs. Juanita Cebulack of Yuma, Ariz., Mrs. Amanda Merriman of Wellsville and Mrs. Alverta Brletich of East Liverpool, and nine grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Services will be held Monday at 2 p. m. at the Dawson Funeral Home by the Rev. M. Rudolph Miller, pastor of the Trinity United Presbyterian Church. Burial will be in Columbiana County Memorial Park.

Friends may call at the funeral home Sunday.

Mrs. Frank McDonald

Mrs. Estella Baughman McDonald of Columbus, a former resident of Wellsville, died Thursday at 8 a. m. in a hospital at Columbus after a lingering illness. She was 79.

She lived in Wellsville some 30 years, moving to Columbus about 1924.

She leaves her husband, Frank McDonald, and a son, Eugene McDonald, both at home; another son, Dean McDonald, of Columbus; three sisters, Mrs. Kinsey Neff of Columbus, Mrs. Minnie Godlin of Los Angeles and Mrs. Cleo Paul of Cleveland; three brothers, C. R. Baughman of Wellsville, Earl Baughman of Minerva and Carl Baughman of Cleveland, and two grandchildren.

Services will be held Saturday at 2 p. m. at the Grimes-Davis Funeral home in Columbus with burial there.

FAIRY TALE. "Beauty and the Beast," a Beaver Local High School Masquers Club play, will be given at Westgate School Saturday afternoon at 2. John Plate portrays the prince, and Linda Baumgarner, the beauty. The play is the third annual production of the club, which uses proceeds for stage facilities and other projects. Harry West is director.

Isom Hicks

Isom Hicks of Salineville R. D. 1, a retired brickyard worker, died Thursday at 10:55 a. m. at City Hospital, where he had been a patient 3 days. He was 78.

He was born Jan. 1, 1882, in Kentucky and was a member of the Baptist Church in Stone Coal, Ky.

He leaves his widow, Mrs. Sarah Hicks at home; two daughters, Mrs. Eva DeSellem of Summitville and Mrs. Ruby Adams of Hanoverton; four sons, Edgel Hicks of Garrett, Ky., Ernest Hicks of Los Angeles, Earl Hicks of Lisbon and Arthur Hicks of Salineville; five brothers, Fair Hicks, William Hicks and Timothy Hicks, all of Mousie, Ky., Ballard Hicks of Wayland, Ky., and Elder Hicks of McDowell, Ky.; two sisters, Darling Coneley and Mrs. Ida Rice, both of Mousie, and 22 grandchildren and 10 great-grandchildren.

Services and burial will be held Sunday at Prestonsburg, Ky.

Friends may call after 4 p. m. today at the Kerr Funeral Home in Salineville.

G. Carl Clifton

LISBON — G. Carl Clifton, former resident of Gavers, died Wednesday at Lakeland, Fla., where he resided for the past year.

He was a former farmer and salesman and spent most of his lifetime in this vicinity.

His wife, Mrs. Maree Clifton, died Sept. 9, 1959.

Mr. Clifton is survived by two daughters, Mrs. A. D. Clark of Lakeland and Mrs. F. E. Skeel Jr., of Clifton, N. J., and five grandchildren.

Services will be held Sunday at 3 p. m. at the Henry Funeral Home by the Rev. Frank Hare, pastor of New Lebanon United Presbyterian Church. Burial will be in New Lebanon Cemetery on the Millport-West Point Rd.

Friends may call at the funeral home Saturday evening.

Frances Jones

Miss Frances B. Jones of Mingo Junction, a retired registered nurse, died Thursday at 7:50 p. m. at the Cambridge Hospital following a long illness. She was 76.

She was born Oct. 6, 1884, in Washington County and resided for 23 years in Mingo Junction, where at one time she was an industrial nurse. She was graduated from Allegheny School of Nursing at Pittsburgh. She was a member of the East Liverpool First United Presbyterian Church and the LaBelle Chapter of the Order of Eastern Star of Steubenville.

She leaves no immediate survivors.

Services will be held Saturday at 3:30 p. m. at the Dawson Funeral Home by Dr. Alexander K. Davison. Burial will be in Riverview Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home today.

Leaves On Pilgrimage

MOSCOW (AP)—Patriarch Alexius of the Russian Orthodox Church left today in an IL18 airliner on a pilgrimage to the Middle East, Tass reported. The churchman, 83, will visit leaders of Eastern Orthodox churches.

No Changes Seen In U.S. Cuban Policy

NEW YORK (AP) — Cuban President Osvaldo Dorticos says he does not expect Washington's hostility toward the Castro regime to change when John F. Kennedy takes over the presidency.

"We are not optimistic about the United States," Dorticos told New York Times co.respondent Max Frankel. "And we have no choice."

Frankel, who interviewed Dorticos in Havana, wrote that "since the Cubans consider themselves largely blameless in the dispute they have decided against taking the initiative to improve relations."

Cuba has not yet found a market for the three million tons of sugar formerly sold to the United States.

Dorticos said the Castro government would be pleased to conduct "bilateral negotiations" to reopen the market.

He acknowledged that his job, like that of every officeholder in Cuba, depended entirely upon the will of Prime Minister Fidel Castro.

Dorticos said Cuba's switch of trade to the Communist bloc was a reaction to "aggressive actions" of the United States.

Glenmoor Group Airs Hazards For Children

Discussion of highway hazards for school children who crowd close to the roadway waiting for buses was held at a meeting of the Glenmoor Area Improvement Association Wednesday night.

It was agreed to discuss the problem further at a meeting Dec. 5 of the Calcutta Area Development Association, which will soon become the St. Clair Township Improvement Association.

The possibility of obtaining a traffic signal for the intersection of Route 267 and the Y. & O. Rd. was also aired, and will be presented to the township group.

Plans were made for nomination and election of officers Jan. 26. Jay Wynn was enrolled as a member. Martin Christen, president, was in charge.

Oregon Flood Puts Village Under Water

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—Flood waters coursed from ankle to waist deep through scores of western Oregon communities today. Heavy rains put one entire town of 1,000 persons under water.

U.S. 101 along the coast, U.S. 22 across the Cascade Range and many secondary routes were blocked by rampaging streams and slides touched off by a Thanksgiving Day downpour that continued today. It was, however, slackening off in some areas.

Most residents sat it out as the water swirled into stores and homes, but an estimated 50 families were evacuated in scattered areas. No casualties were reported.

Small communities bore the brunt of it. Weather Bureau forecasters said only minor flooding is to be expected along the major rivers. Along the tributaries it was another matter.

Several points reported more than four inches of rain in 24 hours, and the already sodden community of Valsetz in the coast range measured 6.41 inches, making a total of 32 inches there in the past two weeks.

The streams could not handle it.

10 Small Bombs Set Off In Havana Areas

HAVANA (AP) — Ten small bombs exploded in widely separated areas of Havana during the night and the crew of a police patrol car found another bomb that had not exploded. One man was injured by the blasts.

The bombings, which occur nightly, usually are attributed to the anti-Castro underground.

One Of '10 Wanted' Sought In Ohio Valley

WHEELING — Police here have been alerted that one of the Federal Bureau of Investigation's "10 Most Wanted Fugitives" may be in the area.

The FBI said Donald Leroy Payne, 45, was believed seen in Washington, Pa., Tuesday night. Payne is charged with a sexual attack on a Houston (Tex.) girl.

The Sports Bench

By BOB DUFFY
Sports Editor

Right Guy To Honor . . .

The East Liverpool Elks Club picked the right guy to honor in Bernie Allen. Not only a great athlete, he is a fine person as well.

The unassuming star of the Purdue eleven goes down as the most versatile athlete ever to come out of East Liverpool.

He plays most any sport well and in football does about everything but line the field before the game.

Big 10 opponents can vouch for his versatility. Allen beat Ohio State 24-21 with his toe, kicking a field goal and three conversions which meant the difference.

He turned around in the Minnesota game and defeated the Gophers with his passing and in several games this season has crossed the goal himself.

Allen will be remembered at Purdue for starring in football and baseball, but they'll also remember him at a Lafayette golf course.

Last summer in his leisure time he teed off and sank a hole in one at a distance of 300 yards. And the first time he ever bowled his score was around the 170 mark.

There hasn't been another athlete that has put East Liverpool on the map like Allen has done during the last three years.

While he is being honored tonight as Purdue's football star, he is expected to sign a contract with a major league baseball club this summer following his final season with the Boilermaker nine.

A reminder, tonight's event gets under way at 8:15. About 300 are expected and a few tickets will be sold at the door.

Jackson Starred At Purdue . . .

AN EX-POTTER star, who played on the outstanding 1945 team and once was a wearer of the Black and Gold at Purdue, will be on hand to help honor Allen tonight at the local Elks Club.

Don "Bulldog" Jackson, who was one of the first East Liverpool products to make a name for himself at the Lafayette, Ind., school, will be there.

Rudy Trbovich a fine place kicker and member of the 1945 ELHS team, also played at Purdue followed by Jackson.

"Bulldog," a name he picked up in high school, played at Purdue in 1950, 1955 and 1956. The gap between 1950 and 1955 was spent in the Army. Jackson was an outstanding lineman for the Boilermakers.

The game Jackson first recalls was the Purdue-Notre Dame contest of 1956 when the Boilermakers upset the Irish, breaking their winning streak, one of the longest ever put together by a college team.

He played center and guard at Purdue and in the Notre Dame game was outstanding.

In high school, during the 1946 season, Jackson could have been an All-Ohio center a position he played as a junior in 1945, but the 1946 season rolled around and the Potters needed a fullback. So who filled the bill—Jackson, forsaking the opportunity for all-state recognition.

As it was he was placed on the honorable mention team both years and in 1946 was named honorary captain.

He has continued his gridiron career, coaching football at Rossford in northwestern Ohio.

Booth Was First All-State Choice . . .

THE ALL-OHIO teams will be out within the next week or 10 days and it brings to mind some of the East Liverpool stars of the past who were given all - state berths.

The first all-scholastic team ever picked was sponsored by the Columbus Jaycees and the immortal Bill Booth was named to the second team. He was the first Potter to make an all-state squad.

Looking over the records Capt. Dick McGillivray was the next all-Ohio choice, being placed on the third Associated Press team in 1939.

Moving to 1942, Ray Gochenour was picked on the second team and in 1944 it was Sam Winters being placed on the third team, while Alonzo Spencer received honorable mention.

From the great 1945 club rated seventh in the state was Dick O'Hanlon, who made the first AP and INS All-Ohio squads, with Spencer and Chuck Means on third team, while Henry Pack and Jackson were honorable mention choices.

Tom Bell was named to first team All-Ohio, with Jackson receiving honorable mention in 1946.

The 1947 and 1948 seasons were the lean years, but in 1949 Charlie Bell was put on the second all-state team and Gene Rose and Nick Trua received honorable mention.

The 1951 season saw Eddie Oliver as a junior make the second All-Ohio team, while Don Chadwick was on the honorable mention list.

'52 And '55 Hit Jackpot . . .

The 1952 Potters hit the jackpot. Four East Liverpool gridders were placed on first teams, but the unanimous choice was guard Ernie Bell, who was named to no less than five All-State squads.

Oliver, Clair Williams and Bob McCoy were selected on others.

The same thing happened again in 1955 when four more Potters gained all-state honors. They included Jim Potts, Gene Bell, Bert Dorsey and Jack Bryan.

Jack Dopler and Allen were selected for recognition in 1956. George Hale was the only Potter to make the first team offensively in 1957, while Nick Musuraca came away with second team honors in 1958.

Bob Mackall was the last all-state selection, being picked on the second team last season.

This year Kenny Cunningham and Skip Hall are in line for spots.

Bellino And Middies Rate Edge Over Army

Texas In Line For Bowl

Army-Navy Game Ends 1960 College Grid Season

By JACK CLARY
Associated Press Sports Writer

Texas' abrupt turnabout from a soso outfit in midseason to one that took its last four games has snared a berth for the Longhorns in Houston's second annual Blue bonnet Bowl. But not even this, or Mississippi's do-or-die struggle Saturday to gain the national title has taken the luster off one of the toughest Army-Navy games to come down the pike in a long time.

The two service schools meet in Philadelphia Stadium Saturday afternoon as the highlight of the final big day of the 1960 college football season.

Mississippi's game against Mississippi State could raise a few brows, at least when the final Associated Press poll is released next week. That is the one that determines the national champion, and Ole Miss, third this week, is going to try and impress the selectors who have Minnesota, co-champ of the Big Ten and Rose Bowl-bound, presently No. 1.

Texas did a bit of impressing Thursday. The Longhorns, 3-3 in mid-October, won their fourth straight, 21-14 over Texas A&M, to help change Coach Darrell Royal's mind about forgoing any post season play. Their opponent in the Bluebonnet still is unnamed but Alabama (6-1-1) reportedly has the inside track. 'Bama meets eighth-ranked Auburn Saturday.

Elsewhere on Thursday, Penn made Cornell Coach Lefty James' swan-song a sad one, beating the Big Red 18-7 while Virginia Tech surprised Southern Conference champion Virginia Military 13-12.

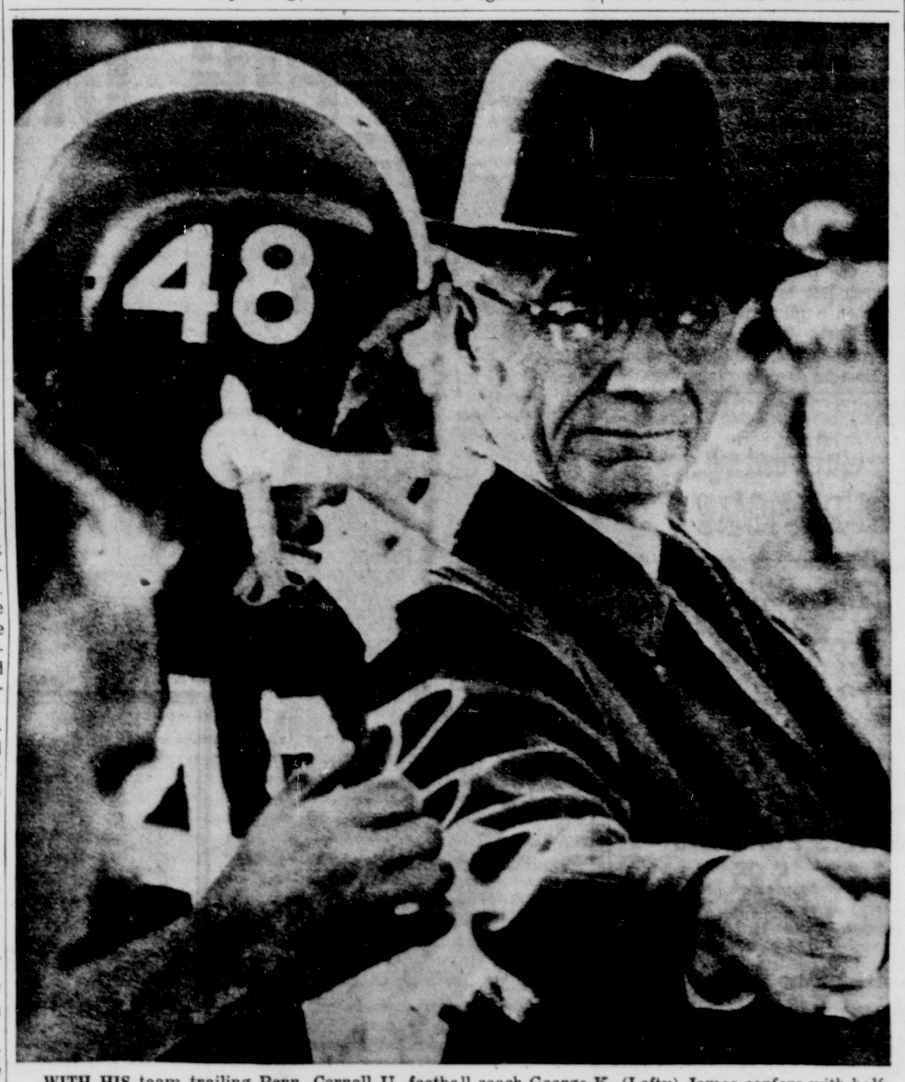

In another Southern Conference game, Richmond easily handled William & Mary 19-0. Denver quarterback Ramiro Escandon set a host of school records in a 21-12 victory over Colorado State U., while Missouri Valley Conference champion Wichita romped over West Texas State 31-14.

All other top-ranked teams have finished their season, but undefeated and untied New Mexico State (9-0) goes after its 14th straight victory and the Border Conference crown against Texas Western. However a loss, and a win by second place Arizona, will give the latter the title.

Rice (7-2) plays Gator Bowl-bound Baylor (7-2), aiming for a victory that would give the Owls a tie for the Southwest Conference title and most likely send them to the Sugar Bowl. Arkansas has already nailed down at least a share of the SWC crown and is in the Cotton Bowl.

Florida (7-2), which Thursday night voted to accept a Gator Bowl bid but which also, by SEC rules can't officially say "yes" until its season ends, plays Miami (6-2). The Gators are being a bit flexible, and will accept an Orange Bowl bid instead—if one comes their way.

Tennessee (5-2) bowl conscious, plays Vanderbilt (3-6) while Georgia Tech (5-4) also mentioned for post season play, goes against Georgia (5-4). Notre Dame (1-8) and Southern California (4-5) wind up poor seasons in Los Angeles with their traditional battle. Holy Cross (5-4) and Boston College (3-5-1) do likewise in Boston.

WITH HIS team trailing Penn, Cornell U. football coach George K. (Lefty) James confers with halfback George Ekstrom during what was James' final game as Cornell coach Thursday at Philadelphia. James was fired following yesterday's Ivy League game. He was told two weeks ago his contract wouldn't be renewed. (UPI Telephoto)

Cornell Grid Coach Fired; Becomes 5th

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The story is that in the Ivy League they play football for fun. Don't tell that to the coaches.

The firing of George K. (Lefty) James by Cornell Thursday marked the fifth head coach to be replaced in the staid old loop since it was formalized in 1956.

Penn, Harvard, Columbia, Brown and now Cornell have installed new coaches since the Ivy League presidents announced formalization of the league, and indicated it expected its coaches to build character. Winning football teams were to be incidental.

Robert Kane, Cornell athletic director, confirmed a report that James, 55, had come to the end of the line after 25 years far above Cayuga's waters, 14 as head coach of the Big Red football team. Said Kane, in an announcement six minutes before the end of the Penn-Cornell game: "Lefty was a competent teacher, given too little time to teach. He did a good job for Cornell. It is doubtful if anyone could have done better under the circumstances. Cornell University and all Cornellians are indebted to him for long, faithful and dignified service."

James remained incommunicado after his team bowed, 18-7, to Penn in the traditional Thanksgiving Day game. But Wednesday, in a locker room at the Philmont Country Club where Cornell stayed for the Penn visit, he told the Associated Press: "It (the firing) hit me like a bombshell. I just didn't expect it."

James, asking that his remarks be kept off the record until after the Penn game, explained he had been called in last Tuesday—a week ago—and informed his contract would not be renewed.

Cornell had been experiencing tough sledding the past few years. The 1960 team wound up with a record of 2 victories and 7 defeats.

James compiled a 14-year record of 66 victories, 58 defeats and 2 ties.

100,000 Expected For Service Tilt

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Explosive Joe Bellino makes once-beaten Navy a slight favorite over Army Saturday at Philadelphia Stadium in their 61st meeting before 98,816 fans.

Bellino, a senior halfback from Winchester, Mass., whose 104 points make him the second highest scorer in the nation's major college ranks, is the key to Navy's well-balanced offense. Only Duke, which held Bellino scoreless by forcing him inside, has been able to shoot down the high-flying Middies who rank No. 7 in the Associated Press poll.

Army's attack has been made up of Tom Blanda's passes and the crashes of Al Rushatz, a 190-pound fullback, through the line. The Cadets have a 6-2-1 record, losing to Penn State and Nebraska and tying Pittsburgh. Their fine performance in upsetting Syracuse 9-6 and the statistical edge they held despite their tie with Pitt has drawn solid support to Coach Dale Hall's Cadets.

There will be full pomp and ceremony at the vast concrete stadium which will house its usual sellout crowd. The Cadets and Middies will stage customary parades before the game with kickoff scheduled for 1:30 p. m. and national network (ABC) television coverage.

If Navy wins, it may go to either the Cotton Bowl in Dallas where it would meet Arkansas or to the Orange Bowl in Miami where Missouri would be the opponent.

Bellino, the man who set a Navy record by scoring three touchdowns against Army in last year's 43-12 rout, probably is the most publicized football player in the nation. His 17 touchdowns and spectacular runs make him a marked man. Only Duke kept Bellino from scoring while the Middies were rolling up an 8-1 record.

Quarterback Hal Spooner's passes to halfback John Prichard, end Jim Luper or Bellino balance Bellino's running threat.

Army's Blanda, brother of George Blanda of the pro Houston Oilers of the American Football League, has thrown more often than Spooner (142 to 91) but each quarterback has a completion average of 58 per cent. Spooner has thrown seven TD passes, Blanda eight.

Lions Spoil Green Bay's Chances With 23-10 Win

DETROIT (AP) — A Detroit Lions fan full of the holiday spirit grabbed Coach George Wilson by the lapels and spoke in authoritative tones:

"Your offense was clicking and you had those other guys defensed perfectly. What more can a guy ask, huh?"

Wilson's reply was: "Three more victories like this one."

The Detroit coach was grateful for his team's 23-10 victory Thursday that just about knocked the Green Bay Packers out of title consideration in the National Football League's Western Division. Two fumbles and a blocked punt led to all but one score in the nationally televised contest.

Wilson called it his team's finest game of the year. It brouhgt the Lions' record to 4-5.

"We haven't rushed a passer like that in a long, long time," said Wilson. "And that's the biggest thing in football. If you can get to the other club's passer, and protect your own, you can win."

Detroit linemen threw quarterbacks Bart Starr and Lamar McHan for 60 yards in losses.

Detroit's Jim Ninowski, appearing before 54,123 fans, tossed for 182 yards with 19 completions out of 34 tries.

For the Packers, it was a bitter and frustrating loss to a team they had beaten 28-9 earlier in the season.

Los Angeles draws a bye Sunday, but the other clubs will be in action. The schedule finds Cleveland at St. Louis, Dallas at Chicago, New York at Philadelphia, San Francisco at Baltimore and Washington at Pittsburgh.

Buffalo Back Sparks East In Gem Bowl

ERIE, Pa. (AP)—Gordon Bukaty of Buffalo University sparked the East team to a 27-26 victory over the West in the third annual Gem City Football Bowl Thursday.

Bukaty plunged a yard for one touchdown and tossed two scoring passes to Nick Anzelmi of George Washington—one for 15 yards and another for 10.

Mike Scatena of St. Vincent (Pa.) College scored the other East touchdown on a 51-yard pass play from Charles Packen of George Washington.

Bill Cooper of Muskingum scored the West's first TD on a one-yard plunge, and Al Faunce of Northwestern tallied the second on an eight-yard run.

The West got its last two touchdowns on passes from Ron Costello of Xavier. He hit Steve McClellan of Wooster with a 15-yarder. With only 2:45 left in the game, Costello got off a 60-yard scoring play with a pass off a triple reverse to Jim Muellen of Xavier.

The West tried to run for the extra two points that would have put them ahead but were stopped short of the goal.

Quebec Acquires New Coach After 7 Losses In Row

By The Associated Press

The Quebec Aces, only two weeks ago tied with Springfield for first place in the American Hockey League, have lost seven straight and have a new coach.

The change in coaches followed Thursday night's 5-3 setback by the last place Providence Reds in the circuit's only game. Fleming Mackell resigned as coach after the game, but said he would stay on as a player. He is a center.

Mackell was succeeded by Jack Toupin, who coached the Aces last year when they finished last with only 19 victories in 72 games.

Despite their losing streak that has dropped them to third place, the Aces still are in contention. They trail pace-setting Springfield by eight points and second place Buffalo by only two.

Stan Baluik was the big gun in the Reds' attack as he scored three goals and set up another.

Army and Syracuse have met 12 times on the gridiron. Army leads the series, started in 1890, by 8-4.

Big 10 Figures Show Allen 3rd In Offense

CHICAGO (AP) — Iowa, co-champion with Rose Bowl-bound Minnesota, today was certified as the Big Ten's No. 1 team on offense for the second consecutive year.

Final official conference football statistics gave the Hawkeyes the edge over Ohio State with averages of 27.2 points a game, 15.5 first downs and 303.5 total yards.

Ohio State averaged 21.5 points, 14.8 first downs and 307.7 yards.

Minnesota, the defensive leader most of the season, gave way to Michigan in the final ranking. The Wolverines yielded averages of 11.8 points, 12.5 first downs and 231.5 yards.

The Gophers were second in defense and Northwestern third.

The major individual champions were: Total offense—Ron Miller, Wisconsin, 981 yards; rushing—Bob Ferguson, Ohio State, 560 yards on 114 carries for a 4.9 average; passing—Miller, 72 completions in 144 attempts for 966 yards and 4 touchdowns.

Tom Matte of Ohio State was second to Miller in total offense with 952 yards and the best average, 5.4 yards per play. Matte also was second, to teammate Ferguson, in rushing with 471 yards, and second in passing.

Bernie Allen of Purdue was third in passing and third in total offense, completing 49 of 83 passes for 601 yards and adding 111 yards rushing.

Local Beagle Takes Field Championship

White Crest Hans, Jr. owned by Charles White of the East Liverpool Beagle Club completed his field championship at the field trial held by the Old Dominion Beagle Club near Richmond, Va.

Hans, Jr. is the two year old son of Field Champion Bown's Hans and Field Champion Red Bay Susie Que, bred by Alfred Bayless of Newell.

Although he completed his field championship at the unusual early age of two years, he has duplicated the achievement of his sire before him.

His first win was at the Crowfoot Beagle Club near Pittsburgh. The second at the Shenango Valley Beagle Club of Volant, Pa.

Each year more than fifty thousand Beagles compete in trials all over the United States, of this total about two hundred and fifty hounds complete their championships, with some hounds taking several years to complete the title.

The champ was handled by Tom Moore, professional handler of New Philadelphia.

Muskingum's Cooper Top Back

Musuraca Named To Second All-Ohio Conference Team

DELAWARE, Ohio (AP)—Ohio Conference coaches today announced their All-Ohio Conference football team selections, with champion Muskingum College and runner-up Ohio Wesleyan University dominating the list.

Nick Musuraca of East Liverpool, leading ground gainer and scorer for Denison this season was named to the second All - Ohio Conference team.

Musuraca, a sophomore at the Granville school, picked up 861 yards on the ground and scored 72 points.

Muskingum, which has been rated one of the finest teams in conference history, placed seven men on the first offensive or defensive units, two men on second teams. Coach Ed Sherman's squad won all nine games, seven in league play.

Second-place finisher, Ohio Wesleyan, with a 6-1 mark, placed four men on the first team, five on the second units, giving both the Muskies and Bishops nine places on the 45-man all-star teams.

Since there was unlimited substitution in the conference, full offensive and defensive squads were selected by the coaches. Two quarterbacks and three fullbacks, no halfbacks, were placed on the 12-man offensive team.

The coaches selected men from nine different teams on the offensive first squad, Muskingum claiming three places and Otterbein two. Muskingum players named were end Clyde Benninghoff, tackle John Kruzan and fullback Bill Cooper. Cooper was the winner as best back in the league.

Ron Jones of Otterbein, an end, the conference's all-time touchdown pass catcher, made the team, as did the Otters' Larry Cline who was named the second quarterback. Wittenberg's Gary Tranquill is the first team quarterback selection.

Others on the first offensive team are tackle Keith Sugaski, Oberlin; guards Dick Hoppe, Ohio Wesleyan, and Al Slicker, Denison; center Virg Stroia, Mount Union; backs Steve McClellan, Wooster, and Dallas Garber, Marietta.

Muskingum placed four men on the defensive unit, Ohio Wesleyan three. Gaining first honors for Muskingum were tackle Phil Wenger, linebacker Wade Mabry, corner backer Ron Dierks and safety man Jed Middleton. Wesleyan's choices were middle guard Ernie Bickford, corner backer Jay Farrar and linebacker Max Urick. Urick previously had been named Gregory Award winner as best lineman in the O.C.

Completing the defensive unit were end Bill Carpenter and tackle Bill Frantz of Wittenberg, end Lu Wims of Wooster, and safety man Frank Lomax of Akron.

Parks Division Will Accept Reservations For Summer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A month before Christmas may seem early to be thinking about summer vacation cabins, but the Ohio Parks Division says Jan. 1 is the date to act. So better be planning ahead.

For the first time in 13 years, all Parks Division vacation cabins will be available on a first come, first served basis. Starting New Year's Day, reservations for the 131 cabins can be made in person, by mail or by phone (bring along, or send, a $10 deposit) to these local headquarters:

Lake Hope, Zaleski (44 cabins); Pymatuning, Rt. 1, Andover (35); Hueston Woods, Brown Road, Oxford (34); Pike Lake, Rt. 2, Bainbridge (15) or South Bass Island, Rt. 1, Port Clinton (three group cabins).

Duck hunters get another chance soon. The season closed at sunset Thanksgiving Day, but reopens at noon Dec. 23 and doesn't close permanently until sunset Dec. 31.

Then there's the Columbus hunter who got half a rabbit. J. F. Oldfield, hunting on Ed Hutchins' property on the Franklin - Delaware county line, saw part of a rabbit (the rear, to be exact) protruding from some brush.

Oldfield shot where he assumed the head would be. The rabbit stayed put, so he went to pick it up. Only half was there. Oldfield figures a horned owl or some other predator got there first.

Ray Hayworth, ex-Chicago Cub scout, has signed a three - year contract with Milwaukee's Braves as director of scouts.

Rebounding Mark Set By Chamberlain

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Wilt Chamberlain had just established his ninth new National Basketball Association record and his first this year but the big guy wasn't overjoyed about it.

His Philadelphia Warriors lost Thursday night to the Boston Celtics, 132-129, as the Celtics, winning their fifth straight, increased their Eastern Division lead to half a game over the Warriors.

Chamberlain's 55 rebounds, which broke Bill Russell's old NBA record of 51 against Syracuse on Feb. 8, 1959, plus his 34 points had kept the Warriors in the game until Sam Jones and Gene Conley got hot in the final six minutes to pull the Celtics from a 114 tie to victory.

Asked how it felt to own the new rebound record, the 7-1 Wilt said:

"Well, I'd have felt a lot better if we'd won. We were trying hard to win and the loss takes the luster away from it (the rebound record)."

In other NBA games Thursday night, St. Louis, Western Division leader, easily defeated Syracuse 132-97 and Los Angeles beat Cincinnati 108-100.

Elgin Baylor, leading scorer in the NBA, racked up 33 points for Los Angeles but the game's high scorer was Cincinnati's Jack Twyman with 35. Oscar Robertson had 30 for the Royals.

Ohio To Receive Fish-Game Fund

WASHINGTON (AP)—A total of $21,425,402 in federal funds has been apportioned to the states for their fish and game restoration programs for this fiscal year, including $563,603 for Ohio, Secretary of the Internior Fred A. Seaton announced today. Ohio gets $410,886 for its wildlife program and $152,717 for fish restoration.

The national apportionment includes a partial one of $12,800,000 made available July 1. The funds are derived from federal excise taxes collected from manufacturers—an 11 per cent tax on sporting guns and ammunition and 10 per cent on fishing rods, reels, lures, etc.

Federal aid money is matched by state funds on the basis of not to exceed $3 federal to $1 state, although the states carry out all projects with their own resources and are reimbursed for up to 75 per cent of the cost.

Austin College Star Wins Offense Title

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Charles Miller of Austin College in Sherman, Tex., rolled up 1,966 yards in nine games and won the 1960 total offense championship of the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics.

Right on his heels was Dennis Spurlock, Whitworth (Wash) College, who took the NAIA passing title with 1,892 yards in nine games. Spurlock's total offense was 1,897 yards.

Herb Sutton, Ottawa (Kan.) was the leading scorer with 125 points.

Browns Polish Up On Defense

CLEVELAND (AP) — It was work as usual for the Cleveland Browns Thanksgiving Day as they concentrated on defense in their practice session.

They will be battling to keep alive their slim chance for the National Football League title when they meet the St. Louis Cardinals Sunday in St. Louis.

Now in third place in the NFL's Eastern Conference with a 5-3 record, Cleveland would be dropped to fourth by a St. Louis victory. The Cardinals are 5-4.

Pitted against each other Sunday will be the NFL's two rushing leaders. Fullback Jim Brown of Cleveland holds the lead with a total of 780 yards in 140 attempts. Halfback John Crow of St. Louis is in second place with 702 yards on 130 carries. Brown has averaged 5.6 yards per carry and Crow 5.4.

The Browns piled up a 21-7 lead in the first half and then barely hung on to take a 28-27 decision when they played the Cardinals here Nov. 13.

Houston Star Repeats In AAU Cross-Country

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Al Lawrence, 28-year-old Australian from the University of Houston, has added to his prowess as a distance runner.

Bursting forth in the last 300 yards, Lawrence Thursday won in the National AAU 10,000-meter cross-country run for the second straight year.

His final kick gave him a good 60 yards over runnerup Fred Norris, 39-year-old Briton who runs for McNeese State College.

Lawrence's time for the 6¼-mile course at Bellarmine College was 31:20.8.

Lawrence sparked Houston to the team title with 33 points. The New York Athletic Club was second with 42.

Lenoir Rhyne Gains Playoff Spot In NAIA

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Lenoir Rhyne College of Hickory, N.C., today was named host team for the Eastern football playoffs of the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics Dec. 3.

The Bears were undefeated in 10 games and won their sixth straight North State Conference championship Thursday with a 56-6 victory over Catawba College at Salisbury, N.C.

Lenoir Rhyne picked for the second straight year by the NAIA selection committee to host the Eastern playoffs, finished the season as No. 1 team in the NAIA poll and was second in the Associated Press small college poll last week.

Lenoir Rhyne's opponent in the Eastern playoffs has not been selected. The winner will advance to the NAIA championship game in the Holiday Bowl at St. Petersburg, Fla., Dec. 10.

Humboldt State of Arcata, Calif., No. 2 team in the NAIA poll, was picked Thursday as host of the Western playoffs. Its opponent will be named later.

Undefeated Humboldt downed Lewis and Clark College of Portland, Ore., 34-0 Thursday for its 10th win of the season.

Col. Caldwell To Retire From Ordnance Post

CLEVELAND (AP)—Col. Ross R. Caldwell, commanding officer of the Cleveland Ordnance District—one of the nation's largest—since June 1957, announced Thursday he will retire from military service Dec. 1. His successor will be Col. Ralph McMahon, who has been stationed in Korea with the Korean military advisory group.

Col. Caldwell said he had no plans at present but that he probably will stay in Cleveland. He is a native of Oskaloosa, Iowa.

2 Deadlocked For Lead In Mobile Open

MOBILE, Ala. (AP)—A veteran who hasn't won a tournament in nearly seven years and a young pro seeking his first tournament victory are tied with 6-under-par 66s after the first round of the Mobile Open golf tournament.

Freddie Haas, 44, of New Orleans toured the 6,900-yard par 36-36—72 Mobile Municipal in 32-34—66. He birdied six holes and parred the rest.

Jon Gustin, 28, of Gladwyne, Pa., carded a 33-33—66, sinking seven birdies and going over par only once.

Gustin joined the traveling pros on a full-time basis in August 1959.

The field of 148 will be trimmed to the low 60s and ties after today's second round. Eighteen-hole rounds are scheduled for Saturday and Sunday.

Arnold Palmer, leading money winner of the year, was tied with six others two strokes back of the leaders. Palmer rejoined the tour here after a two-month layoff. He needs a little more than $1,100 to become the all-time top money winner for a year.

Houston, Boston Hook Up In AFL

By The Associated Press

Houston, Eastern Division leader and with the best record in both divisions, takes on the Patriots at Boston in the only American Football League game on Friday's schedule.

Houston is 7-3 in the league, and will retain its division lead no matter what happens, inasmuch as Boston, in second place, is 5-5.

In the only Thanksgiving Day encounter the New York Titans snapped a four-game losing streak in defeating Dallas in a wild-scoring game 41-35, thanks to the all-around offensive play of Al Dorow.

Dorow threw for two touchdowns, ran for one, and set up two more with passes. He had 21 completions in 36 pass attempts, good for 301 yards in the Titans' final home game.

Abner Haynes, the league's leading ground gainer, scored two Houston touchdowns, and Cotton Davidson passed for the other two. Jack Spikes kicked field goals of 14 and 11 yards.

1 Killed, 1 Injured As Wooden Beam Falls

CHARLEROI, Pa. (AP — A 24-foot wooden beam being installed in a garage fell from its perch Thursday killing one worker and critically injuring another.

Patsy Boccobello, 71, of Bentleyville, was dead on arrival at Charleroi-Monessen Hospital.

James Horrell, 63, of Belle Vernon, was reported in critical condition with fractures of the skull and arm.

The men were helping install the beam for a carport under construction in the United Motor Sales Garage here.

Firemen said a crane has just lowered the beam in place when a crane hook snagged the beam, causing it to fall.

Tests Slated Jan. 7 To Fill Job Vacancies

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP) — Clerical and stenographic examinations will be administered Jan. 7 to fill vacancies in six state departments the West Virginia Merit System Council has announced.

Welch H. Henritze Jr., merit system supervisor, said applicants must have high school educations and experience in the two fields. Dec. 17 is the deadline for applications.

Vacancies exist in the departments of Health, Mental Health, Public Assistance, Employment Security, Conservation Commission and the Division of Vocational Rehabilitation.

West Union Without Water As Main Breaks

WEST UNION, Ohio (AP) — West Union residents hoped to have their water service restored today. The town's 700 private water users have been without water since Wednesday because of a break in a main near the pumping station. Rodney Grooms, water works superintendent, said workmen, replacing 400 feet of main, hoped to be done today.

In the emergency, tank trucks have hauled water from Winchester and Chillicothe to the Adams County Hospital for use there. Water in the 100,000-gallon storage tank has been reserved in case of fire.

2 IN MEMORIAM

IN LOVING memory of our son, Husband, Father, and Brother, HARRY W. STACEY, who passed away 3 years ago today, Nov. 25, 1957. Sad and sudden was the call. A bitter grief, a shock severe, to part with one we loved so dear. To love, to hold and then to part, is the saddest thing of the human heart. "O' Lord keep green the grass that lies, beneath the wide and starry skies." Keep sweet the sleep and and give him rest, whose hands are folded over his breast. Forgotten to the world by some, you may be, but Harry to our memory you ever will be.

Lisbon Group Aids 2 Funds

Donations were made to the County Health League Christmas Seal program and to the Lisbon Band Award Fund at a meeting of the auxiliary to the Lisbon Eagles Aerie Tuesday night at the lodge home.

Mrs. Mary K. Dailey, president presided.

The group held a white elephant and bake sale which netted $26.

Lunch was served by Mrs. Mabel Stuckey and Mrs. Rose Cornelli and the birthday anniversary of Mrs. Loraine Furrer was honored.

Plans were made for a coverdish Christmas dinner with a $1 gift exchange Dec. 6.

Mrs. Mary Hoy and Mrs. Lydia Bennett will be the hostesses for December.

Mrs. Glen Dixon of the Lincoln Highway, East, was hostess to the Emanon Club Tuesday night.

Bridge prizes were awarded Mrs. Fred Steele and Mrs. Richard Bowling.

Mrs. Robert Lower of Columbiana will receive the club Dec. 7.

Names were chosen for a Christmas gift exchange when the Lisbon social club met Tuesday night at the home of Mrs. Robert McCaughin of E. Washington St. Plans for the Christmas party are pending.

Prizes at games were won by Mrs. Gilbert Cannon, Mrs. Darrel Jackson and Mrs. Frank Gbur.

A coverdish Thanksgiving supper followed.

Mrs. Clifford Hutchison of N. Market St. will entertain Dec. 1.

The Harmony Club met Tuesday night with Mrs. Thomas Burnip of S. Lincoln Ave.

Prizes at 500 went to Mrs. James Berry and Mrs. Flora Virden.

Mrs. Esther Will and Mrs. Forest McClintock were guests.

Tentative plans were made for a Christmas party Dec. 6.

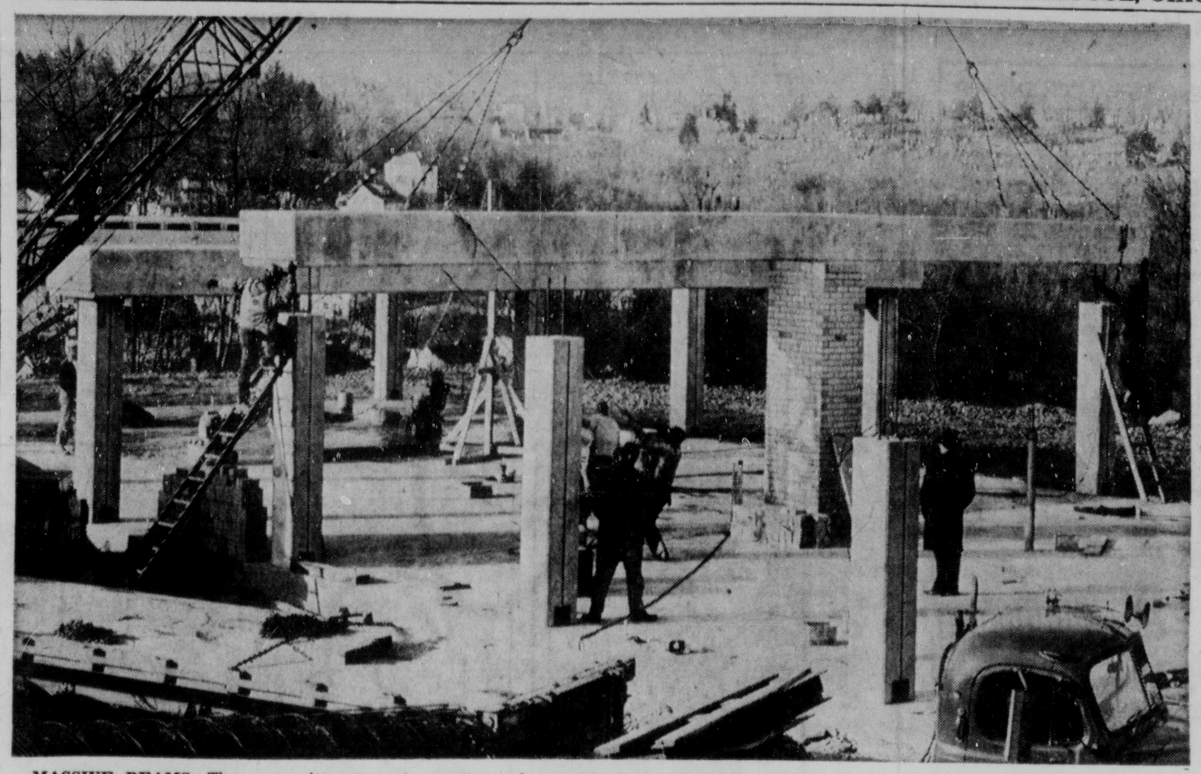

Man Who Broke Car To Bits Cited In Court

LONDON (AP)—Anthony Watts was 90 miles from home on a wet and windy night when his 24-year-old automobile coughed and spluttered to a halt.

Angrily he grabbed a hammer from the tool kit and broke the car into bits. On a piece of battered bodywork he scribbled a farewell note: "Take it easy—but take it."

Police found the wreckage the next morning alongside a Hertfordshire highway. They traced the owner through the license plates.

Watts was hailed into court at Solihull Thursday for violating the 1958 litter act and fined 5 pounds ($14).

MASSIVE BEAMS. These massive pre-cast, pre-stressed concrete beams weighing 11 tons each are being erected for the Sunday School wing of the new Trinity United Presbyterian Church now under construction on Maine Blvd. The beams, each 51 feet long, are being set in place on pre-cast 17-inch square pillars weighing about a ton each. When construction starts on the sanctuary, the beams will weigh some 40 tons. The George Rackle & Sons Co. of Cleveland has the sub-contract for the erection under the Potters Construction Co., the general contractor.

Lawyer Slain, 2 Men Wounded In Reno Courtroom Shooting

RENO, Nev. (AP)—G. Waldron Snyder, U. S. internal revenue official from Madeira, Ohio, says he was shot by a man with the "meanest streak I ever saw."

Snyder, 50-year - old attorney and 26-year veteran of the tax service, was one of two wounded. Another lawyer was killed in the wild courtroom shooting Wednesday.

Snyder referred to Bob (The Sandman) Williams, 52 - year-old Reno sand and gravel pit contractor booked for murder.

In a hospital interview, Snyder said:

"I went blind after the first shot. It was funny. I hit the deck and I thought I was okay. Then I found I couldn't get up. I heard more shots. The next thing I knew I was in the hospital."

One bullet was removed from Snyder's back Thursday but another one remains.

Snyder is an assistant regional commissioner for the IRS in Cincinnati, headquarters for a five-state area. He has a wife and 10-year-old daughter in Madeira.

Snyder had flown to Reno to testify as a rebuttal witness in the suit filed by his sister, Mrs. Bob Williams, and mother-in-law, Mrs. Emma Snyder, for part of the gravel properties of Williams. His sister is Williams' estranged wife.

"Some people say he was aiming at my mother when I was hit but I don't know. My mother and sister said he had told them he was going to get me. He never told me. He's got the meanest streak I ever saw."

Snyder added that the slain attorney, who had represented his sister, Eli Livierato, had obtained a permit to carry a gun two years ago because of threats from Williams.

"Williams started shooting when the judge said he was giving the parties 30 days to settle the case," Snyder said.

Sam Francovich, Williams' attorney and the man who disarmed him, said the case was far from finished when the contractor went berserk. He said he thought Williams was just angry at all the attorneys and his estranged wife and mother-in-law.

GOP Figure Dies

JERSEY CITY, N.J. (AP)—Michael F. Kealy, 47, field representative of the Republican National Committee for New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania, died Thursday of a heart ailment.

Fiery Crash Claims Three

POST FALLS, Idaho (AP)—The airman son of a Lorain, Ohio, father was one of three persons killed early Thursday in a fiery rear-end auto collision near the Idaho-Washington line.

The dead airman, Arnold S. Gongaware, 23, married just a month ago and stationed at Fairchild Air Force Base in Spokane, Wash., was trying to give a stranger a helping hand when the accident occurred.

Gongaware, C. Creston Attebery, 42, of Yakima, Wash., and other volunteers had just pushed a stalled foreign-made car from the shoulder of the darkened highway when it was struck from the rear by another auto.

Attebery and a woman tentatively identified as Mrs. Darlene W. Erickson, Kalispell, Mont., also were killed. Mrs. Erickson was thrown from the struck car, pinned beneath it and burned beyond recognition when the vehicle exploded into flames.

The fire apparently was fed by gasoline which Mrs. Erickson's husband, Richard, 22, was taking back to Attebery's car which had run out of gas across the state line in Washington.

Erickson was seriously injured. The driver of the other car, Ronald Holland, 20, of Post Falls, received minor hurts.

The Erickson car stalled on the return trip from Post Falls and Gongaware and other volunteers came out of a roadside tavern to lend a helping hand.

Sunshine State is the nickname of New Mexico.

Man Held In Fatal Shooting Of His Wife

CLEVELAND (AP)—James E. Dunn, 45, was held without charge Thursday night in the fatal shooting of his wife. He told police it was accidental.

Dunn said he was putting away one of six pistols he owns when he began slapping the hammer with the palm of his hand and the weapon discharged.

Police said Dunn admitted he knew the pistol had three bullets in it.

Dunn was handling the gun in the bedroom. His wife, 41, was struck as she was standing in front of the stove in the next room, the bullet passing through her body.

what's new at Olsen's

All that glitters is—

a jewel of a fashion selection in our store now. Your invitations are on the way—to an elegant party, friendly dinner, a casual Open House! What shall you wear? Come and see! Our new fashions are "just the thing" to make you a vision of loveliness wherever you go. Suits, coats and dresses, for daytime and after five . . . . . at easy-to-buy prices!

You'll have a real holiday when you shop here for Christmas dresses. See what a good choice our buyers gathered for you . . . . a wonderful variety of fabrics, colors, and styles that will dress you for every occasion. Dresses that will be a joy to wear or better yet, a joy to give. Watch the eyes of the gal in your life light up when she sees one of these soft pastel wools on Christmas morning. Young vital fashions—every inch the sophisticate with their lively details. There's a group of Jonathan Logan dresses that just arrived today. You will love them for your girl in high school or college. There's one that takes your eye immediately. Short sleeves, jewel neck in white wool with two inch stripes of brown and orange tones from neck line to hem. Priced at only 14.95. Truly a lovely she will be delighted to find under the Christmas tree.

Fashion is mad for knits . . . and aren't we all? These are styled with the authority of expensive knits. Popular? No wonder! Knits are noted for adapting themselves to every occasion . . . . . to every figure, with studied artlessness. Knits can stretch your wardrobe with a bounce if you let them. Why not add life to your special occasions . . . . start collecting knits . . . (pearls in any wardrobe).

Olsen's have a brand new collection of these wonderful knits in one and two piece styles. Not only in small sizes but half sizes, too. In the most heavenly colors of sugar violet, spruce green, hyacinth blue, and many, many others. Stop in tomorrow, you'll be glad you did. Whether for gift giving or wearing—you'll be delighted with the wonderful new knits. They're priced to rest lightly on your budget—from 16.95 up.

What could be more practical than our handsome, insulated storm coats. Let's be comfortable . . . let's be smart. If that's how you feel, these are the coats for you. To casually-styled storm coats, designers have added the fashion flip of the fur or furry look. Fabrics are treated to resist moisture and protect you from the rain . . . cozy linings keep you wonderfully warm all winter. You don't have to be a teenager to enjoy these wonderful wearable coats. It's a most delightful way to say "Merry Christmas" and the price is like a gift from Santa, 16.95 and up.

We saw the most beautiful boudoir beauties while browsing in Olsen's lingerie department. If you know which gifts you are looking for or you're unsure—you'll see solutions here. Gifts so pleasant and bright, they'll make the most hard to please beam with pleasure. Gifts they dream of — pretty pajamas, regal robes, glamorous gowns, stunning sleep sets, utterly feminine underthings. A superb selection of every one. And the prices are surprisingly modest. Don't forget all you men who have trouble making pretty bows, Olsen's will gift wrap your present free of charge. So hurry down and watch your shopping chores vanish in a swirl of Christmas magic.

Don't forget Olsens are open every night till nine o'clock. That's all today—see you next Friday.

Lisbon Group Aids 2 Funds

Donations were made to the County Health League Christmas Seal program and to the Lisbon Band Award Fund at a meeting of the auxiliary to the Lisbon Eagles Aerie Tuesday night at the lodge home.

Mrs. Mary K. Dailey, president presided.

The group held a white elephant and bake sale which netted $26.

Lunch was served by Mrs. Mabel Stuckey and Mrs. Rose Cornelli and the birthday anniversary of Mrs. Loraine Furrer was honored.

Plans were made for a coverdish Christmas dinner with a $1 gift exchange Dec. 6.

Mrs. Mary Hoy and Mrs. Lydia Bennett will be the hostesses for December.

Mrs. Glen Dixon of the Lincoln Highway, East, was hostess to the Emanon Club Tuesday night.

Bridge prizes were awarded Mrs. Fred Steele and Mrs. Richard Bowling.

Mrs. Robert Lower of Columbiana will receive the club Dec. 7.

Names were chosen for a Christmas gift exchange when the Lisbon social club met Tuesday night at the home of Mrs. Robert McCaughin of E. Washington St. Plans for the Christmas party are pending.

Prizes at games were won by Mrs. Gilbert Cannon, Mrs. Darrel Jackson and Mrs. Frank Gbur.

A coverdish Thanksgiving supper followed.

Mrs. Clifford Hutchison of N. Market St. will entertain Dec. 1.

The Harmony Club met Tuesday night with Mrs. Thomas Burnip of S. Lincoln Ave.

Prizes at 500 went to Mrs. James Berry and Mrs. Flora Virden.

Mrs. Esther Will and Mrs. Forest McClintock were guests.

Tentative plans were made for a Christmas party Dec. 6.

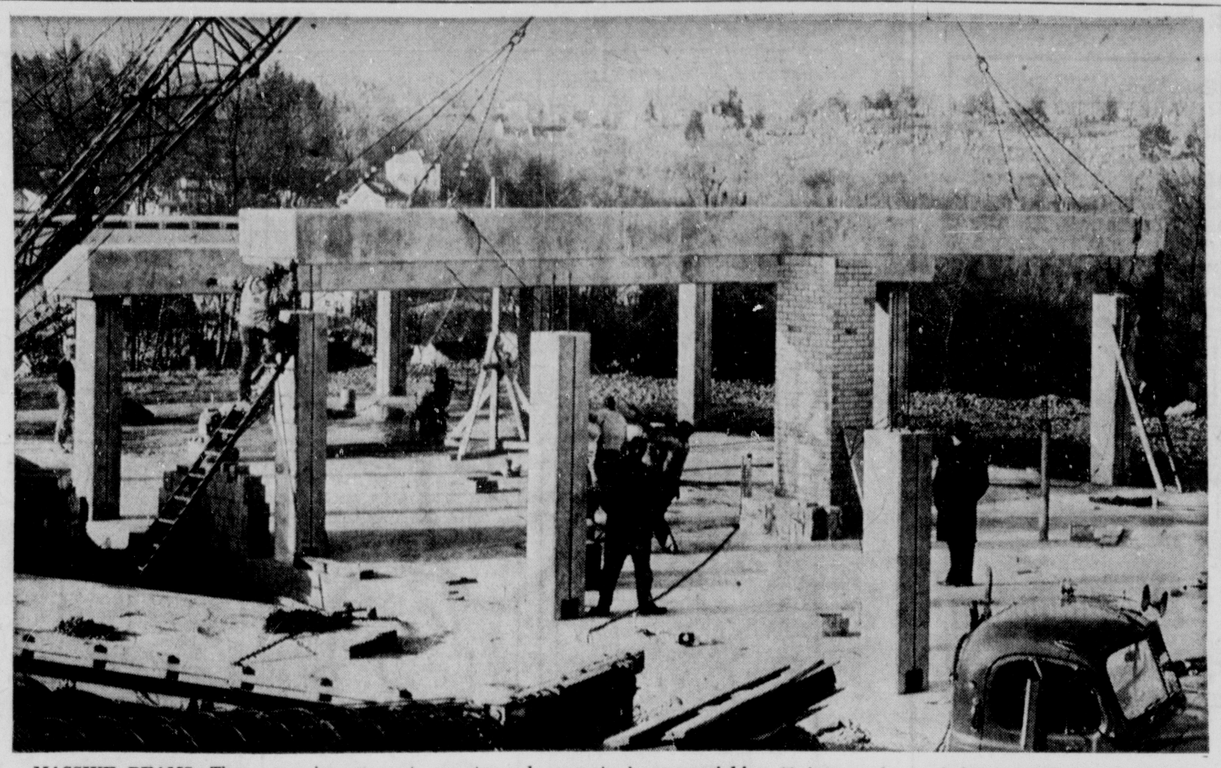

Man Who Broke Car To Bits Cited In Court

LONDON (AP)—Anthony Watts was 90 miles from home on a wet and windy night when his 24-year-old automobile coughed and spluttered to a halt.

Angrily he grabbed a hammer from the tool kit and broke the car into bits. On a piece of battered bodywork he scribbled a farewell note: "Take it easy—but take it."

Police found the wreckage the next morning alongside a Hertfordshire highway. They traced the owner through the license plates.

Watts was hailed into court at Solihull Thursday for violating the 1958 litter act and fined 5 pounds ($14).

MASSIVE BEAMS. These massive pre-cast, pre-stressed concrete beams weighing 11 tons each are being erected for the Sunday School wing of the new Trinity United Presbyterian Church now under construction on Maine Blvd. The beams, each 51 feet long, are being set in place on pre-cast 17-inch square pillars weighing about a ton each. When construction starts on the sanctuary, the beams will weigh some 40 tons. The George Rackle & Sons Co. of Cleveland has the sub-contract for the erection under the Potters Construction Co., the general contractor.

Lawyer Slain, 2 Men Wounded In Reno Courtroom Shooting

RENO, Nev. (AP)—G. Waldron Snyder, U. S. internal revenue official from Madeira, Ohio, says he was shot by a man with the "meanest streak I ever saw."

Snyder, 50-year - old attorney and 26-year veteran of the tax service, was one of two wounded. Another lawyer was killed in the wild courtroom shooting Wednesday.

Snyder referred to Bob (The Sandman) Williams, 52 - year-old Reno sand and gravel pit contractor booked for murder.

In a hospital interview, Snyder said:

"I went blind after the first shot. It was funny. I hit the deck and I thought I was okay. Then I found I couldn't get up. I heard more shots. The next thing I knew I was in the hospital."

One bullet was removed from Snyder's back Thursday but another one remains.

Snyder is an assistant regional commissioner for the IRS in Cincinnati, headquarters for a five-state area. He has a wife and 10-year-old daughter in Madeira.

Snyder had flown to Reno to testify as a rebuttal witness in the suit filed by his sister, Mrs. Bob Williams, and mother-in-law, Mrs. Emma Snyder, for part of the gravel properties of Williams. His sister is Williams' estranged wife.

"Some people say he was aiming at my mother when I was hit but I don't know. My mother and sister said he had told them he was going to get me. He never told me. He's got the meanest streak I ever saw."

Snyder added that the slain attorney, who had represented his sister, Eli Livierato, had obtained a permit to carry a gun two years ago because of threats from Williams.

"Williams started shooting when the judge said he was giving the parties 30 days to settle the case," Snyder said.

Sam Francovich, Williams' attorney and the man who disarmed him, said the case was far from finished when the contractor went berserk. He said he thought Williams was just angry at all the attorneys and his estranged wife and mother-in-law.

GOP Figure Dies

JERSEY CITY, N.J. (AP)—Michael F. Kealy, 47, field representative of the Republican National Committee for New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania, died Thursday of a heart ailment.

Fiery Crash Claims Three

POST FALLS, Idaho (AP)—The airman son of a Lorain, Ohio, father was one of three persons killed early Thursday in a fiery rear-end auto collision near the Idaho-Washington line.

The dead airman, Arnold S. Gongaware, 23, married just a month ago and stationed at Fairchild Air Force Base in Spokane, Wash., was trying to give a stranger a helping hand when the accident occurred.

Gongaware, C. Creston Attebery, 42, of Yakima, Wash., and other volunteers had just pushed a stalled foreign-made car from the shoulder of the darkened highway when it was struck from the rear by another auto.

Attebery and a woman tentatively identified as Mrs. Darlene W. Erickson, Kalispell, Mont., also were killed. Mrs. Erickson was thrown from the struck car, pinned beneath it and burned beyond recognition when the vehicle exploded into flames.

The fire apparently was fed by gasoline which Mrs. Erickson's husband, Richard, 22, was taking back to Attebery's car which had run out of gas across the state line in Washington.

Erickson was seriously injured. The driver of the other car, Ronald Holland, 20, of Post Falls, received minor hurts.

Man Held In Fatal Shooting Of His Wife

CLEVELAND (AP)—James E. Dunn, 45, was held without charge Thursday night in the fatal shooting of his wife. He told police it was accidental.

Dunn said he was putting away one of six pistols he owns when he began slapping the hammer with the palm of his hand and the weapon discharged.

Police said Dunn admitted he knew the pistol had three bullets in it.

Dunn was handling the gun in the bedroom. His wife, 41, was struck as she was standing in front of the stove in the next room, the bullet passing through her body.
